FEBRUARY HARD MONTH ON MOTHERS

After the dreary days of cloud and ice, when the system required every ounce of fat and strength-giving food possible there comes all sorts of sore throats, sniffling, blowing, sneezing and colds, which wake a mother in haste.

There is a decided loss of appetite. Something is craved, but nobody knows just what it is. The youngsters are "finicky" and even mother feels weak and discouraged without understanding why.

It is Nature calling for a change of food.

A decided change from the heavy winter diet will be the best physic for everybody. Instead of paying a hard pushed doctor all available cash, try the plan of spending a large part of that money at the ALLEN GROCERY, where you will find a good supply of fresh vegetables and fruits.

Buy all the fresh Lettuce, Spring Onions and Spinach your purse can afford and the usual bouts with "spring fever" will be conspicuous by their absence.

The paper is so much company to us, all that we can't do without it. Crops were fine here last season. There is a good deal of cotton to pick yet and lots of corn to gather, as well as maize. Good luck to THE PRESS and its many readers."

Ted Dennis of Hornersville writes us, enclosing the proper amount, and requests us to send him THE PRESS. He says, "I have been away from Bollinger county over three years, but still have a warm spot in my heart for the county, your paper and the good people that live in the county. Getting THE PRESS will be almost like a letter from home, so hustle it along. Will close, wishing you success, also success to the best paper in southeast Missouri, the MARBLE HILL PRESS."

Charles E. Self's lifeless body was found on the sidewalk on Good Hope street in Cape Girardeau the morning of February 5, with a bullet hole in his head, a revolver in his left hand, making it appear very much like a case of suicide. But the fact that his watch and other valuables which he was known to have on his person, and the wound showing no powder burn, seems to disprove the suicide theory. Mr. Self was a son of Joseph Self and was born in the vicinity of Sedgewickville, and the family moved to a farm on Panther creek and from there to Lutesville, where Charles fired the engine for the state mill some years ago and moved to Cape Girardeau a number of years ago.

Army School Essay Contest
"The Army School Essay Contest" which takes place February 20, in all the schools of the United States on the subject "What are the benefits of an enlistment in the United States Army" has aroused such nationwide interest, that thousands of letters are being received at Washington and New York, requesting information on the subject.
Due to the short length of time before the contest takes place all pupils, their parents or teachers who desire information of any kind about the essay contest should address their inquiries to the United States recruiting station, corner 3rd and Olive streets St. Louis, Mo., or to their nearest local recruiting station, where the army officials will be delighted to furnish all information requested.
THE PRESS, $1.00 per year.
