

Prayed for Cure Finds it After 10 Years Food Would Sour and Boil —Teeth Like Chalk

Mr. Herbert M. Gessner writes from his home in Berlin, N. H. I had stomach trouble over ten years kept getting worse. I tried everything for relief but it came back worse than ever. Last fall I got awfully bad, could only eat light loaf bread and tea. In January I got so bad that what I would eat would sour and boil, my teeth would be like chalk. I suffered terribly. I prayed every day for something to cure me. One day I read about EATONIC and told my wife to get me a box at the drug store as I was going to work at 4 p. m. I took one-third of it and began to feel relief, when it was three-fourths gone, I felt fine and when it was used up I had no pains. Wife got me another box but I have felt the pain but twice. I used five tablets out of the new box and I have no more stomach trouble. Now I write to tell you how thankful I am that I heard of EATONIC. I feel like a new man, I eat what I like, drink plenty of water, and it never hurts me at all.

It's Hard to Stop These Veterans of the Argonne

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—I care for him very much indeed, but I believed his professed attachment for me might only be a passing fancy, so I resolved to lose myself to the world completely, leaving no slow by which he might carry out his oft repeated intention of following me wherever I should go and inducing me to marry him. "He found me at last upon his return from France, accomplishing what all the police and detectives could not do. And, caring as much for each other as we did, there was really nothing else for us to do, so we were married."

So explained Mrs. Russell L. Richman, formerly Mrs. Mary Heffernan, aged fifty-three, years, Brooklyn school teacher, and who now has started housekeeping with her pupil husband, Russell L. Richman, aged twenty-three years, in Parkwood avenue, here.

Mrs. Heffernan and young Richman, an overseas veteran of the Argonne, were recently married in Warren, O., by the Rev. T. F. Blumhild, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. While young Richman was in France Mrs. Heffernan never wrote him, believing that when he returned from France all would be forgotten and she could return to Brooklyn. However, when Richman returned he at once took up the search. One day he saw a piano box about to be loaded on a truck. It bore the name of the missing teacher. The address given was Massillon, O. Richman found Mrs. Heffernan in that city, and, though she refused at first to see him, he was so persistent that she eventually agreed to meet him. The meeting took place in Cleveland, and again Mrs. Heffernan tried to discourage Richman. He declared, however, that he would never give her up, and she then consented to marry him. They went to Warren and the ceremony was performed there.

"Since his return he has declared his love for me," Mrs. Heffernan said, "and though I tried and his parents tried to dissuade him, it was to no avail. He was a persistent lover."

Why Can Canada Lure Farmers From Illinois Farms?

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—This week of words is still raving of the special tourist train consisting of 42 freight and motor cars and two Pullman coaches and sleepers, loaded with 20 central Illinois farmers, their families and household articles, which left recently this city for Manitoba, Canada. Fifty-five persons all told composed the party. After government papers were checked over the train at Chicago it ran as a special passenger train to Canada, where the party have purchased homes.

Some of the most prominent farmers from Livingston county who went on the train include George Alex. Jr., Mrs. John Nelson and son, Carl Hess, Eugene Engert and Edward Nyberg, all from 1914; Frank Dumas, three sons, Mrs. R. Hanson, Clark Peterson and Henry Wilson; Fred Doughty wife; John Jensen, Chas. Sorenson, Simon Anderson, Lucien Hendrick, Felix Burghard, Fred Brunsdorf and from Leokore are Thomas Stone and W. Gouger. It is very noticeable the men are taking their families with them as well as furniture and supplies.

The future prospects of Canada were recently taken to Sterling, Manitoba where they inspected the land. Later they bought 5,000 acres of the best wheat land that Manitoba is noted for.

The farmers are well acquainted and they represent a large portion of the agricultural wealth of this part of Illinois. People are talking something like this: "What is the matter with our agricultural section when we can take a whole lot of it and put it in the hands of men who are as industrious as we are, and get 2,000 miles of a waterway and a railroad to their farms? They are not coming here of themselves, like those that come in the next few years, and the ex-slaves may not run the show any more." Is there not some way of keeping such folk at bay?

Lucky Yank Finds a Real Helpmeet in Soviet Land

MERIDIAN, MISS.—I advise all young Americans to go to Russia if they have no other reason than to meet and study Russian women. They are so spoiled. They have no false vanity. They are trained in the highest school should know."

This spoke Hugh S. Martin, a former captain in the United States intelligence service in Russia, who is engaged to this country with a young Russian bride, Captain Martin is returning for the American consular committee for Russian relief, whose purpose is to aid refugees from the Bolsheviks. Mrs. Martin, before her marriage was Maria Bogoslovskaya, which means in English Maria Pilgrim. She was known to the allied intelligence officers as "The Hunna Telegraph." Her talent shined when the officers began equipment for "listening in" at critical meetings. On one occasion she hid her ear to a wall and reported accurately entire conversations, of whom none of the others could distinguish a word.

Captain Martin and Miss Bogoslovskaya met in Abidjan, in 1917. She was a secret agent for the allies in North Russia. So was Martin. So they were frequently detailed to the same investigations. Her quickness, intelligence and pluck appealed to the young American soldier.

He had learned to speak the Russian language and he proposed in that tongue. She answered with the only English word she knew—"Yes." They married in Archangel on August 10, 1918.

Captain Martin, now in New York, has sent his pretty wife here to his home town, for instruction by private tutors in the French language. The people of Meridian marvel at her ability as a musician. They say that she can cut out a dress and fit it without a pattern. She can also cook, look after the house, discuss Russian literature and relate the most thrilling stories of the war that the good people of Meridian ever heard.

Servant Girls Now Resort to the Use of a Club

NEW YORK.—Servant girls attained a definite social status in this city today when a group organized the first "Servant Girl Club" and opened quarters upon a fashionable uptown street. The club rooms, luxuriously furnished, consist of reception room, sleeping rooms, bath and shower rooms and kitchenette.

The Rev. Nicholas Dulitz, pastor of the Hungarian Baptist church sometimes called the "Church of Many Mansions" because of its varied activities, who is promoting the club, explained that it means more than just an establishment where the cook and second maid may loaf about and feel opulent.

Behind the velvet, he said, is the claw of a serious purpose; that of demonstrating that servant girls are people, and, indirectly, of eliminating the "servant girl" problem. While any servant girl is eligible to membership in the new club, it was planned round those of Hungarian nationality, of whom Mr. Dulitz said there are 5,000 in this city. The girls will have classes in English, in sociology and in economics. The club will give service as an "intelligence office."
