G. F. Hopkins Department Store

Sept. 1, this store mailed its first issue of a store magazine, this magazine is gotten up like all other magazines, it has jokes and funny stories, receipts for well liked dishes, a few cuts of the latest styled dresses, scarfs, coats, hats, etc. Last, but not least, we show cuts and quote prices on dozens of articles that cannot be duplicated any where except at a much higher price. If you do not receive a copy of this little magazine by the 10th of September please drop us a line and we will gladly mail you one, if you like it please say so and we will mail you one regularly each month free.

HATS, COATS, SUITS, DRESSES SWEATERS, ETC.

We are expecting our ladies' coat suits every day. Don't buy until you see them and get our prices. Like everything else, it will pay you to buy here.

Our fall hats are here. Let Mrs. Aly, who has had 20 years experience with hats, fit you.

The only people we failed to sell coats and hats to last year were those who would not get our prices before they sent out their order to the Big City store. The girls who bought here were much better satisfied than the ones who "ordered". Come on girls and quit kidding yourselves be serious for we've got it on "Old Miss National" when it comes to price, quality and appearance. We have all short and long coats for thin and skinny women. They are in velvet, silk plush with trimmings, suedetex, heather tinselvelour, tricelines, beaver and silver tones. I know you will be tickled through and through when you see our fall lines and get our prices.

FLOOR COVERINGS

Four yard wide lenolium at $1.35 per square yd. this is the first time in 3 years we have had a chance to get this width and only found one piece.

John Hale Killed in R. R. Accident

John Hale and four or five others, who were at work on the railroad, met with a most unfortunate accident last Saturday morning, in which Mr. Hale suffered injuries from which he died in a short time.

It seems that the engine pulling the local freight train was crippled and another was called into service and on the way up the road, about the tunnel, a mile or more north of Glen Allen, the section crew was moving south on the motor car and the engine was sighted when only a short distance ahead, and thinking their only hope lay in jumping from the car, they did this. Young Hale's head struck a stone, and he suffered injuries from which he died in a short time.

Several of the others, among them Frank Clubb and Sam McElrath, were bruised up more or less, but none of them seriously. We do not know who was to blame for this sad misfortune, but somebody went wrong, or failed doing his duty.

Young Hale was the support of a widowed mother, who resides near Bessville, and whose sorrow is greater than words can express. She has the sympathies of all in her sudden and deep sorrow.

It is said the car was damaged very little, as the engine slowed up enough to save the car.

BROKE JAIL AT BLOOMFIELD ARRESTED NEAR CLARKTON

Last Thursday about 2 o'clock Constable R. A. Mitchell got a tip that Robert Matheny, a man who broke jail at Bloomfield last February, was working about five and one-half miles southeast of Clarkton. Mitchell called up Prosecuting Attorney George Munger at Bloomfield and told him what he had heard. Munger replied that if he knew where the man was to lose no time in getting him.

Mitchell found him working under the name of Bob Robinson for Gideon and Anderson, cutting logs. He had worked for Hughie Oakes until crops were laid by, then he went to cutting logs. He was taken to Clarkton and Friday an officer from Bloomfield came down and got him. Constable Mitchell had arrested him and taken him to Clarkton two hours after he had received the tip of his location.

Matheny was lodged in jail at Bloomfield last February on a charge of cattle stealing in Butler county. He made a key for the jail, and escaped, permitting three other prisoners to get away at the same time. After Matheny had gotten away, he wrote a letter, it is said to the authorities at the Stoddard county seat, telling them that the "Flu" was getting so bad that he would change his boarding place. Presley Hearn, deputy sheriff, who came down after him told Matheny that the "Flu" was a great deal better and that he thought it all right for him to renew acquaintance with his old boarding house. Matheny is the last of the three men who escaped at the time he did to be captured—Dunkin County News.

A HOT SHOT!

Here is one of a series of resolutions adopted by democrats of Jasper county at their recent convention. They are so clear true and to the point that the Missouri State Journal believes that they should be given the widest possible publicity:

"We condemn the Hon. Arthur Capper, republican United states senator from Kansas (and publisher of numerous cheap agricultural papers filled with trashy and unethical advertising, thru which he insidiously feeds republican poison to Democratic farmers) for his attempt to deceive the public as to why the United States failed to acquire the Cuban raw sugar crop, and challenge him to publish, in chronological order, the entire controversy, between President Woodrow Wilson and the present Republican congress, concerning the purchase of Cuban raw sugar; and we warn democratic farmers that these so-called agricultural papers are more dangerous, in the hands of such a shrewd purveyor of the political consciences of men as Senator Capper, than the deadly chloroform, and ether, which the burglar squirts thru the keyhole to further deaden the senses of the sleeping victims he would plunder and rob, and warn them against the wickedly conceived, and cunningly concocted, Homeopathic doses of Republicanism found in the columns of the Capper publications.

MOONSHINE STILL RAIDED

Sheriff Clark received word Saturday that a whisky still was being operated in the north part of the county in the Bowles school district, about two miles east of Murphy's store and a half mile off the main road, but by the time his son Carl got there the parties engaged in making the whiskey had escaped. Before going they had emptied their stuff into a small branch and it was standing there in pools. One hundred barrels were counted there and were still wet, showing they had been nearly full. Besides the barrels were 25 empty sugar sacks big enough to hold 300 pounds of sugar each, 15 empty cain boxes and some yeast packages. They got their water from a well on the hillside near the road, using a hose which they put under the ground. Clark brought in some of the whiskey and one of the sacks that was used as a strainer. It is said by people in that vicinity that the moonshiners were all Italians who had moved down there from the city some six weeks ago.—Hillsboro Democrat

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Snider and son of near Patton were in Marble Hill a short time Monday morning and Mr. Snider made it convenient to call and fix it with the printer for another year. They visited Sunday and Sunday night at the Kuhlman home near town. Mrs. Kuhlman and Mrs. Snider are sisters.

Marvin Bazzell and family of Granite city, Ill., visited his father, R. A. Bazzell and other relatives here several days last week, returning Saturday. He left a small portion of the coin of the realm for the printer and will read The Press the next year.

Miss Ethel Reynolds of St. Louis visited at the home of her uncle, Dr. W. A. Reynolds, from Sunday until Tuesday, when she went to Cape Girardeau, where she expected to enter school at the Teachers College.

Miss Mary Sullivan left Tuesday for Raleigh, N. C., where she will again enter Meredith college, having been a student there a couple of years. She made The Press a pleasant visit before leaving and arranged to get the news from home.

J. W. Statler of near Patton made this print shop a welcome call last Friday and subscribed for The Press for his brother-in-law, Henry J. Bahnerd.

C. D. Tresenwriter, who has determined to start a Democratic paper in Fredericktown, spent the last of the week in Farmington negotiating for the printing equipment of the old Elvins Post, which was owned by W. T. Haile and which was in storage in this city. He made the deal for the plant, which he has had transported to that place on trucks, and expects to get out the first issue of the new paper about next week.—Farmington Times.

THE SOUTHEAST MISSOURI STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

at Cape Girardeau will open its fall term Monday, August 30, 1920. Students should be registered for entrance on Friday and Saturday, August 27 and 28.

The outstanding fact in regard to this College is that in addition to the ordinary collegiate and educational courses it offers full instruction in Agriculture and Animal Husbandry; has a well equipped Department of Mechanical Arts and Trades under a competent instructor; and offers a full course in Domestic Science and Art. The College diploma has the force of a life state certificate to teach in the public schools. There is no charge for tuition. Write for blank form and report your high school record. For further information and catalog, address

SMALLEST BABY IN MISSOURI

The smallest baby in Missouri is said to be Robert Wayne Gray, who, at two months of age, weighs, when fully dressed, two and one-half pounds. He is 15 inches long and his chest measures nine and one-half inches. Physicians pronounce this young man perfectly normal and his grandmother, a trained nurse, is determined that he shall have every chance to grow up that her care can foster. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Gray, live near Everett, Cass county.—State Journal.

VISITORS SEE 300 ACRE CORN FIELD ON FLAG LAND

A 300 acre corn field in the Northern part of Pemiscot county is attracting considerable attention. This corn was planted in the swamp in what was known as flag or open pond land. W. S.

Edwards the owner, used two tractors and did not plow this land but simply double disked it before planting. Part of the corn was plowed three times and promises a yield of 65 bushels an acre. The part plowed twice will yield 50 bushels; the part plowed once will yield 35 bushels, and some not plowed will yield 25 bushels. The field is a revelation to the rest of the district and nearly every Sunday visitors travel for miles thru the woods to see this corn. Reids yellow dent variety was planted.—Ex.

SOW FARROWS 27 PIGS

Missouri has long led the world in the production of mules and if she can produce a few more sows like the one owned by Mrs. M. Peeler of Norborne she may also get into the first rank as a pork producer. This animal farrowed 27 pigs, 17 of which are living.—State Journal.
