

Finds Peruvian Gold on Island

Man Who Befriended Beggar Is Rewarded With Key to Buried Treasure.

ROMANCE IS NOT YET DEAD

Locates After Search of More Than Seven Years Gold Hidden Half Century Ago—Church Despoiled by Four Sailors.

Papeete, Tahiti.—Romance is not yet dead. Tales of buccannery, murder on the high seas, buried gold on lonely, uninhabited islands and charts and cryptograms of hidden treasure-trove are not all inventions of imaginative minds or legends of a day which is long past.

Such a tale is that of the treasure of the island of Pinaki, whose hiding place, after a patient search of more than seven years, has at last been discovered. All now a schooner from Tahiti has been dispatched to bring away the gold.

Sailors Despoil the Peruvian Church.

A half century ago four sailors, deserters from a maritime vessel, joined revolutionists in Peru and learned of a vast treasure of jewels, plate and ingots, the property of the church, which had been hidden in Peru to prevent it from falling into the hands of one of the warring factions. Secretly, the sailors searched for the treasure, found it concealed in a church and moved it to another hiding place on the coast.

Going to Panama, the seafarers, at night, boarded a small schooner, murdered the crew and after putting the treasure aboard, set sail across the Pacific, intending to make some European port later to dispose of their wealth. Recalling that they had no clearance papers and probably could not enter a European port safely, they decided to hide the gold on some uninhabited island and then set it later in a vessel they would charter at Sydney, N. S. W., for trading purposes.

Across their path lay the island of Pinaki, in the Paumotu archipelago of the south seas, and at this uninhabited spot they stopped and hid their loot. One native, who observed them from a neighboring island and rowed across to see what the men from the strange schooner were doing, was killed and his tribal brothers, who crossed later, found only his empty canoe and strange markings on the trees.

Sailing on to Australia, the four scuttled their vessel a few miles from shore and, rowing to land, told of a storm at sea which opened the seams of their ship. Not all believed them, for some residents had seen the ship approaching and had witnessed its mysterious sinking. There were no police, however, in that section, and as the four looked desperate, they were permitted to strike out overland for Sydney unmolested.

Beggar Divulges Hiding Place.

In 1914, years later, a Mr. Howe was accosted on a Sydney street by an aged beggar. Howe gave the man a few shillings and was surprised to hear the man ask his name and address. Some time later Howe received an urgent summons to a Sydney hospital. There he found the beggar, who told of how he and three others had buried their treasure, had sailed on to Australia and had set out overland for Sydney. Blacks had attacked them, and killed two of the sailors. The beggar and his surviving companion, Brown, tried for years to get a ship to go for the treasure, but never obtained money enough. Brown finally disappeared, and he, Kilrain, had fallen into misfortune and knew his end was near. He gave Howe a map of the island, begged him to believe the story and to search for the treasure. The following day the beggar died.

Since then Howe has been search-

Parrot Saved Friend From Going to Jail

When Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Chicago went away for a brief vacation, Mrs. Johnson asked Edward Peterson, her brother, to go to the flat and water and feed the canaries and parrot. Peterson lost the key and was climbing in the window when neighbors called the police. The desk sergeant laughed at his explanation, but the boy insisted that if the sergeant would accompany him to the flat he would prove he was all right. So they went back. "Hello, Polly," said Peterson. "Hello, Ed," replied the bird. "How's the boy? Watcha got on yer hip?" The sergeant allowed Peterson his liberty.

ing for the treasure, and lately announced that he had found it in a shallow lagoon on Pinaki. Lately he chartered a schooner at Papeete to go to lift the gold after making a contract with the colonial government as to his rights in the matter. It is said the treasure is worth several million dollars.

Face Famine in Newfoundland

Doctor Grenfell, "Angel of Labrador," Issues Appeal for Relief of Fishertolk.

DREAD APPROACH OF WINTER

Hunger and Companion Miseries of Poverty Are Acute Because the Fishermen Have Been Unable to Sell Product of Labor.

New York.—Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, "angel of Labrador," has joined forces with William Willard Howard, and the Christian Work of New York, in the campaign to relieve destitution in Newfoundland by providing a market for the codfish upon which thousands in that country depend for livelihood.

Hunger and companion miseries of poverty are acute in Newfoundland because the fishermen have been unable to sell the product of their labor. Dr. Grenfell came to New York a few days ago from Labrador, whither he had gone after a conference here with Mr. Howard, director of the Newfoundland relief work, and Dr. Fredrick Lynch, treasurer of the fund.

Fishertolk on Verge of Famine. Dr. Grenfell reported appalling deplorable conditions among the families of the fishermen, and the industry of the country in a truly sad state. He says: "I have just received a message from Mr. Ed Grant of Blanc Sablon, Labrador, asking if I can help there, as 'great destitution prevails.' I am afraid that it will be very serious by winter. I sent him a couple of hundred dollars to fit out some few fishertolk.

"At Twillingate only one-half of the normal number of fishermen are being fitted out. The savings are being drawn steadily from most of the banks, both in the outports and in St. John's. I have that on the evidence of the bankers. We are starting the new hospital building at Twillingate. That is a help."

Dr. Grenfell is planning to tour through Newfoundland on his relief mission.

Mr. Howard, discussing the discouraging reports from Labrador, commented: "Twillingate is the largest and most prosperous place in Newfoundland outside of St. John's. If Twillingate can't fit out only half her fishermen for the season's fishing, it is a black outlook for the rest of the island. Blanc Sablon is an important fishing port at the entrance to the straits of Belle Isle.

Foresees Severe Winter. "If destitution prevails there now, I hesitate to think what Doctor Grenfell will find as he goes north.

"Much of the destitution could be relieved if one of my ships could leave for the Labrador coast now fitted to the deck beams with flour, vegetables, molasses and fishery salt. A dollar of help now would be worth $10 in next winter's inevitable famine.

"Soon the suffering people are huddled in by ice."

The committee is now engaged in a program of relief which will aid the starving Newfoundlanders and at the same time provide food for families made homeless and suffering in this country on account of the Colorado flood. It is offering the fish for sale for $10 for a 100-pound box, and purchasers who do not want fish for their own use may direct that it be sent to the Colorado refugees. Thus food will go to hungry Americans and the money which pays for it will go to the Newfoundland fishermen.

Halt Firemen at Border. Vienna.—Frontier restrictions were carried to an extreme when they prevented an Austrian fire brigade from crossing the Italian border to fight a blaze.

Some buildings on the Italian side of the Brenner Pass railway station caught fire and the Austrian town's firemen turned out. Italian gendarmes demanded their visas and having none they were forced to watch the warehouses burn.

DIAMOND 8 YEARS IN GARDEN

Ring Lost by New Jersey Woman Found and Restored by Present Tenant

Glen Ridge, N. J.—Exactly eight years to the day after she had lost a diamond ring in the garden of her home the lost bit of jewelry was restored to the owner. Subsequent to losing the ring Mrs. Smith removed from 61 Hillside place and her former home was occupied by John Townsend.

For three years Mr. Townsend has been planting the garden, and while hoeing lima beans this week he saw what he thought was a bit of glass shining on the ground. He picked up the object and it proved to be a diamond ring. Meeting Mrs. Smith he mentioned having found the ring. Its loss was explained and the ring was restored to its owner.

The Kitchen Cabinet

Always men's qualities are shown by whether their powers and privileges make them proud or make them humble.—Philip Brooks.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

It is wise to plan early for the pickles, relishes, catsups and such things, for if they are grown in your own garden they must be planned for before the seeds are put in. So many gardens even in the city produce more than is needed for the home table and the thrifty housewife will see nothing wasted. If the food cannot be put up for winter for various reasons there are always neighbors and friends who will gladly accept a bunch of beets or a fresh cucumber.

Cucumber Pickles for Immediate Use.—Wash and wipe the cucumbers and place in a two-gallon jar. Add one gallon of strong vinegar, one cupful of salt, one tablespoonful of powdered alum and a small bag of mixed spices. Add the cucumbers as gathered and after one day they will be ready to use. Some who like mustard will add a cupful of mustard to the vinegar.

Sweet Pickled Onions.—Use the small onions, cover with brine strong enough to float an egg. At the end of twenty-four hours remove the brine and cover the onions with sweetened vinegar, using two pounds of sugar to two quarts of vinegar. Add mustard seed, celery seed and other spices to suit the taste. Green tomatoes and cauliflower may be added, making a mixed pickle. These need not be seeded. A stone crock with a cover will suffice.

Beet Relish.—The beets are cooked until tender, then chopped. Add to one quart of chopped beets one quart of chopped cabbage, one cupful of grated horseradish, one cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of cayenne pepper and cover with cold vinegar. Salt should be added to taste.

Oil Pickles.—Slice small cucumbers in rather thin slices, add one-third of the amount of sliced onions of the same size. Cover with salted water and let stand overnight. Drain and add seasonings desired, such as celery seed, mustard and pepper. Cover with one cupful of olive oil to a pint of vinegar. Let stand ten days, when they are ready to serve.

There is a guideline for each of us, and by wisely listening we shall hear the right word.—Shakespeare.

SUMMER DISHES.

For a pint of cooked fresh beans, chop fine two slices of leek or a thin half-slice of Bermuda onion; add three tablespoonfuls of oil, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a chili pepper, chopped fine, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of red wine vinegar, six well and turn on a plate. Set slices of hard-cooked egg around the beans and a tablespoonful of mayonnaise on top. Garnish with a sprinkling of parsley.

Macedoine of Vegetables in Tomato Jelly.—Cook, very gently, two cupfuls of tomatoes, two branches of parsley, a stalk of celery, two tablespoonfuls of mushroom trimmings (the peel and stalks), two slices of onion, with two cloves, a small bit of bay leaf and one-half teaspoonful of salt 15 minutes; strain; add one-quarter of a package of gelatin, softened in one-quarter of a cupful of cold water; add a few drops of tobacco sauce. Chop fine the cooked white of an egg. Cut in bits any vegetables at hand, such as beans, asparagus and celery hearts, with cooked peas. Set eight molds in crushed ice; in the bottom of each put a portion of the egg white; add the prepared vegetables and any that is left of the egg to the tomato, which has been cooled somewhat; stir until the tomato holds up the vegetables, then use to fill the molds. Serve on heart leaves of lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Strawberry Jam Tarts.—Make a flaky pastry and roll out and cut into rounds with a large cutter. With a very small cutter or pastry tube cut a circle of little rounds in one-half of the paste, do not remove the centers. Set a generous spoonful of strawberry jam in the center of the plain rounds, cover with the other rounds after wetting the edges and firmly press the edges. Brush with milk and water and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Bake 15 minutes.

Blackberry Sponge.—Cut slices of bread 24 hours old, trim and cut in cubes. To a pint of cubes take a quart of fresh blackberries, cook slowly until the juice begins to flow, then add one cupful of sugar. Press the berries through a sieve. Pack the cubes of bread into a bowl, adding the hot juice to them as they are fitted into place. Add all the juice the bread will absorb and when the bowl is full set it aside to chill. When ready to serve unmold and serve with cream and sugar.

After Thorough Trial a Detroit, Mich., Man Endorses Pe-ru-na

The following letter written from Detroit, Michigan is no snap judgment expressed on the merits of Pe-ru-na, the well-known cathartic remedy, but rather a mature, sober opinion formed after a full year's trial.

This is the way Mr. Michael Fako of 906 East Palmer Avenue, in the Michigan Metropolitan, writes: "After using PE-RU-NA for about one year I have found it a very good medicine for catarrh. It has helped me a great deal and I am very well satisfied. I have gained in weight, eat and sleep well, my bowels are regular and better color in my face."

"PE-RU-NA has done wonders and to me is worth its weight in gold. I shall continue to use PE-RU-NA as long as I live and recommend to my friends who are troubled with catarrh."

Nothing can be more convenient than an endorsement of this nature from an actual user. There are many people in every community whose experience, in using Pe-ru-na, has been identical with Mr. Fako's. It is the standby for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all catarrhal conditions. Put up in both tablet and liquid form. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Crossed Ocean on Raft.

Jeremiah Millane, last member of the trio that won fame in the summer of 1867 when they arrived in Southampton, England, after a 43-day trip from New York on a life raft equipped with a sail, died recently in Passaic, N. J., at the age of seventy-eight.

Capt. John Mikes and George Miller, both of New York, who made the trip with Millane, died several years ago. Their raft, the Nonpareil, was only 22 feet long and 12 feet wide, and their successful trip across the Atlantic was hailed throughout the world as a great feat and won favor for the men with Queen Victoria.

CHINESE SMUGGLED INTO U. S.

Combine Slips Yellow Men Into Florida by Way of Cuba.

Few Places Where Schooners Cannot Make Easy Landing on Coast-line of Southern State.

Tampa, Fla.—Chinese are being smuggled into the United States on a large scale by way of Cuba and Florida, according to reports from the South. Unless prompt action is taken by authorities at Washington, conditions will soon be as bad in the southern states as they were on the Mexican border, where it took five years to stamp out the smuggling of the yellow men, says Immigration Inspector Whalen of Tampa, Fla. In whose district much of the smuggling has been going on.

"We have learned that within the past few months almost 75,000 Chinese have been landed in Cuba," says

Whalen. "According to the statements we got from some of the smuggling parties that we have rounded up, these Chinese remain in Cuba only long enough to make arrangements with the smugglers to be landed on the Florida coast.

"The fact that all the Chinese who have been arrested in this vicinity are plentifully supplied with money and are able to obtain unlimited funds to defray court expenses indicates that there is a well-organized smuggling combine at work."

The latest arrests in the smuggling war were in Charleston, S. C., where four Chinese were picked up, with railroad tickets from Clearwater, Fla., a short distance from Tampa, to Washington, D. C. Six more were arrested the same day at Dunedin, Fla., also near Tampa. These six were taken when they tried to buy railroad tickets to Washington.

The coast of Florida is an ideal place for smuggling operations as
