A Summary of Important Events.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

In the senate, on the 10th, the bill to change the boundaries of Yellowstone park was passed.
The rest of the day was spent in session.In the house several resolutions for printing various government reports, including the thirteenth annual report of the geological survey, the fish commissioner's report for 1891, and the last report of the bureau of animal industry, were passed, and the house then proceeded to consider the sundry civil appropriations bill, Mr. Dingley, of Maine, closing the debate.In the senate, on the 11th, the passage of the bill from the calendar occupied the time until 2 o'clock, the remainder of the day being spent in executive session over the French extraditory treaty. In the house the whole session was devoted to the further consideration of the sundry civil bill. The general debate was closed.In the senate, on the 12th, the naval appropriation bill was considered and disposed of until the close of the session. The bill, which was the proposed new battle ships was raised, and discussion on these disputed matters was postponed, and the senate went into executive session. In the house consideration of the sundry civil bill was continued, about twenty-five pages being covered. Provisions inserted by the committee on appropriations, which imported for use of the light-house establishment and the national museum should be attached to the bill were struck out on points of order made by Mr. Burrows, republican, of Michigan. They were not germane, did not reduce expenses and changed existing law.In the senate, on the 12th, Senators Sherman and Cockrell gave emphatic warning against the prevailing extravagance of appropriations.
Messrs. German and others made notable speeches on the propriety of appropriations.
