

PERSONAL AND PERTINENT.

MONDAY.

Ringling Brothers will visit this city again this year, some time in October with their big show.

Capt. Schuchert informs us that he has a first-class theatrical company booked for the Opera House for Fair week.

Otto Hanny is in St. Louis purchasing a stock of groceries for his store in the Opera House building.

The Board of Directors of the Fair Association met last Saturday and employed the help for Fair week.

L. M. Bean of Gordonville, called on us to-day.

Mrs. T. F. Wheeler and daughter went to Jackson this morning to visit relatives.

Some of our business men do not think it was a wise idea to change the time of holding the Fair one month earlier.

We haven't had a fire in the city since the water works plant was completed.

The County Court will meet next Monday—regular term.

The City Council will meet next Monday night.

There will be two or three handsome store rooms in the new St. Charles Hotel building.

The "big" one-horse show that came here Saturday is in trouble. Some of the employes had the property belonging to the show attached and the show is laid up.

A Perry county man is organizing a stock company to operate a gold mine on his farm. He says there is lots of gold in the mine.

Mathias Doll is at work in East St. Louis.

The Opera House Band has been employed to furnish the music for the Fair. The Opera House Band is the best brass band in Southeast Missouri. It furnishes up to date music.

While the dog poisoners are around it would be a good idea for the owners of fine dogs to keep their dogs tied up.

Miss Hattie Adams went to Pemiscot county to-day to spend a few weeks with an aunt.

There are too many vacant dwelling houses in this city. A factory or two in the city would cause these houses to be filled with good tenants.

TUESDAY.

Our old friend, J. G. Haydock, who is secretary of the Central Fair and Stock Association at Bloomfield, writes us that the outlook for a successful Fair at Bloomfield, September 3rd to 7th is good. He says the Fair grounds are being put in splendid condition.

Mrs. Painter, we understand, will not decide until next Monday about awarding the contract for the new St. Charles Hotel. The building will cost more money than she anticipated. The bids were all higher than the estimation made by the architect.

Charley Blattner is now chairman of the Fair Ground Committee in place of August Bierwirth, resigned.

Our mills are now paying sixty-three cents for wheat, but there is very little wheat fit for market now.

A Scott county melon man made his breakfast on a watermelon this morning on Main street and then dumped the rind out of his wagon on the street. A city officer very properly ordered the gentleman to pick the rind up and place it in his wagon.

WEDNESDAY.

The hose houses in the second and fourth wards will be completed this week.

D. A. Glenn has the prettiest show window in the city. It is a thing of beauty. Go see it.

The gravel haulers are putting south Sprigg street in good condition.

The Board of Education will meet Saturday night to receive bids for an outbuilding on the public school grounds.

Herman Vogelsang will soon complete a handsome house up on Middle street for George Hirsch.

Hon. John J. Sawyer called on us to-day. He was on his way home from Illinois where he had been to purchase some live stock.

Mrs. Sarah English, mother of Henry R. English, died at her home in Jackson this morning at the ripe old age of eighty years.

The authorities at Cairo arrested two men in that town yesterday who said they were from Cape Girardeau. There must be some mistake about this arrest. We have not missed any of our loafers.

Don't get excited about stories of the danger of contagious diseases. There is no danger in a healthy community like the Cape.

The Cape City base ball nine will play the Commerce nine at Commerce next Sunday.

While there is no epidemic of small pox in or about this city it would be well for everybody to be vaccinated as a preventative against the disease.

THURSDAY.

Hollenback, the grocer, is offering some big bargains in groceries. See his advertisement in this paper.

Apple buyers here are offering only fifty cents per bushel for apples. That will hardly pay for picking and hauling the fruit to town.

Spot Cash Baking Powders 5 cents for one pound can at Graessle's.

The man and his wife who made so much noise in their room over the post-office the other night have kissed and made up.

Arbuckle's roasted coffee in one pound packages 20 cents at Graessle's.

Dog days are here, but they do not trouble our loafers. They get in their work just the same as they do any other days.

Tinware almost given away at the York Racket Store.

We received a letter to-day from a man in Illinois who wants to start a dry goods store here. There is a good opening here for a live man who will use printer's ink to let the people know what he has to sell—a man like Otto Buehrmann, for instance.

BIG BARGAIN! Arbuckle's coffee 20 cents per pound. Spot Cash Baking Powders 5 cents per pound at Graessle's.

There is lots of wheat being thrashed this week. Some of it is damaged but not so badly as was supposed.

For Hats, Caps, Shirts, Trunks and Valises, be sure to go to the New York Racket Store.

Hogs are dying in the country of some disease, that the farmers do not know anything about. One man near this city lost twenty head last week.

LOOK HERE! Arbuckle's Coffee 20 cents per pound. Spot Cash Baking Powders 5 cents per pound at Graessle's.

Sixty-three cents per bushel for wheat is bringing some farmers to the city.

If you want to please the old man with a good cup of coffee, buy your coffee at the New York Racket Store, 23 cents a pound.

Some of our professional men—namely, doctors—are entirely too full of self-conceit. They may be stuffed full of knowledge, but there are some things left for them to learn. Looking wise don't go these days.

Be sure and go to the New York Racket Store for good honest goods and good treatment.

Fientze & Heinberg are in the midst of a clearing out sale and they are having a big run of business.

See the advertisement of D. A. Glenn elsewhere in this paper. Mr. Glenn has something new to offer his customers.

The best shoes for the money you ever bought in the world at the New York Racket Store.

FRIDAY.

READ! READ! READ! Arbuckle's coffee 20 cents per pound. Spot Cash Baking Powders 5 cents per pound. Columbia River Salmon 10 cents per can. Sardines 5 cents per can. Other groceries in proportion at Graessle's.

People with hair that is continually falling out, or those that are bald, can stop the falling, and get a good growth of hair by using Hall's Hair Renewer.

Mrs. Painter, we understand, will decide next Monday whether or not she will tear down and re-build the St. Charles Hotel.

Don't fail to call on G. W. Bahn when you want anything that is kept in a hardware store. He is offering extra inducements to his customers.

The Sturdivant Bank is sending out some handsome blotters. This is a good way for a business house to advertise.

The Benton Record says Sam M. Green has moved back to Cape Girardeau. We never heard that Mr. Green moved away. He has been a citizen of this city for more than twenty-five years.

See the advertisement of G. W. Bahn elsewhere in this paper. Mr. Bahn is offering some big bargains in hardware.

The transfer boat is making regular trips to Commerce for melon cars.

Our old friend, Henry E. Bender, of Carlyle, Ill., has been elected Grand Lieutenant Commander of the Grand Legion Select Knights of America of Illinois. Mr. Bender is a Cape boy and we are proud of him.

In the vicinity of the Planter's Mills the street was packed with wheat wagons to-day.

Mrs. Linus Sanford, of Jackson, is attending her mother, Mrs. Russell, who is quite feeble.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Blomeyer & Haman.

RAISED A RACKET

Because a Young Man Kissed His Wife.

A Little Thing Like That Should Not Cause a Man to Ornament Himself With War Paint.

Quite an excitement was created on Main street last night by the cries of a woman screaming murder at the top of her voice. The woman was in a room in the second story of the post office building. Her husband was there too and so was another fellow.

The man and his wife occupy a room in the building. They have been married some years and have always lived happily until they came to this city, a short time ago. Here a masher was found—a dude—a flashy young gent who parts his hair in the middle.

He made the acquaintance of the lady who screamed and he also made love to her. The husband suspected something was going on that was not strictly according to Hoyle, so he watched. He caught the dude and he caught his wife and he caught them kissing. A cold chill crept up his back. He flew into a passion—got his little hatchet and with that little historic mischief maker he was in the act of braining the dude when his wife screamed for help. A crowd rushed into the room and the hatchet was taken from the irate husband, and he was told by some one present that he should not allow a little thing like the life of that to cause him to fly into a passion.

A Wild Engine.

Friday evening, while passenger train No. 1, stood at the depot in this city, a wild engine from the south with no engineer or fireman on board, came dashing up through the yards on the main track at the rate of about 30 miles an hour, and in to the engine on the passenger train causing a fearful crash, and partially wrecking both engines. The wild engine was nearly a total wreck. The engineer on the passenger train engine was shook up some, but otherwise, none were hurt.

The wild engine started from Eastwood switch below Harveill, and was the local freight-engine, and the cause of its getting away, was, that another freight train had run into the rear end of the local freight, causing the engine to break the coupling. The engineer and fireman, becoming frightened, jumped from the cab, leaving the engine to its mad career. Had the accident occurred ten minutes later the passenger train would have been flying southward and a fearful collision would have been the result, with a probable loss of several lives.

A Doctor With His War Paint On.

Dr. Werner Schmid came into the DEMOCRAT office to-day with his war paint on. He was spoiling for a fight. He had a grievance and he wanted to lick a big busy Republican editor. His back was up and he showed his other end to perfection. He was mad because we had not published his silly communication he wrote us some days ago about two supposed small-pox patients. The communication was so silly that we did not at the time see fit to give it space, but since we have met his author and heard him on his own behalf we give it room in our columns.

We are not afraid that Dr. Werner Schmid will kill us, for we never expect to take any of his medicine.

Mr Adams, Editor Democrat. C. Gir. Mo.

Dear Sir,

Now the small-pox patients having gone and the immediate danger for the business men being no more so overpowering, it was true classical variola. At the first glance I feared it and my colleagues—remembering of southern a propos—would wait a little to be more as sure. Will you see—no they have leaved—would you have liked to see these fellows yourself, red, feverish, scabby, each one contemplating the other like a extraterrestrial being.

Yes, Sir I owe it to my reputation to correct your paper. And you, not to speak about scientific standpoint, will be noble enough, to publish these remarks.

Yours Very truly Dr Werner Schmid.

Gold Mine Stock For Sale.

Having become fully convinced of the richness of the gold bearing quartz on my farm in Perry County, Mo., I desire to organize a stock company for working the same. The stock will be divided into 10,000 half shares at a par value of $12.50 each. Stock is limited to 20 shares to each stockholder, and will be sold only in Cape, Perry and Ste. Genevieve counties, Mo. and Randolph county, Ill. I will explain fully relative to the mine and its prospects. Everybody invited.

F. MOLDENHAUER, Crosstown, Mo.,

Think Rates are too High.

Scott county farmers are kicking like bay steers at the rates charged them on their produce shipped over Houck's Mo. and Ark. railway. They sent Senator Hunter up here the other day to see if they could not get a reduction in rates. We have not learned the result of the Senator's visit, but have no doubt the management of the road will make any concession consistent with fairness and justice to all parties.

Our Insurance Rates.

Before we established water works here it was argued as one of the reasons why we should have water works that our insurance rates would be reduced at least one-half. Now we have the water works—one of the best systems in the country, but our insurance rates still remain at the old pick-pocket scale. Why is this? Will some one of our local agents explain?
