The steamer C. W. Batchelor got in to-day just behind the Cherokee. Both boats were well patronized.

Dr. Ruff has sold his dental office in this city to Dr. Murton and hereafter he will reside and do business in St. Louis. He has an office in the Union Trust building, corner 7th and Olive streets, where he will be pleased to have his friends in Southeast Missouri call on him when they visit St. Louis.

William Paar, as trustee, will sell some valuable real estate Saturday.

The entertainment at the Opera House Monday night was a success as an entertainment as well as financially. The hall was packed full of our best people.

W. H. Medley has a brand new wagon—the finest vehicle of the kind ever brought to this market.

John St. Avit took suddenly ill yesterday evening and he is confined to his bed to-day.

WEDNESDAY

Hon. L. F. Klosterman and Judge Pitt went out to Burfordsville this morning.

A gentleman from New Madrid county was in the city to-day trading. He bought a good bill of goods from D. A. Glenn.

The Board of Directors of the Fair Association will meet next Saturday afternoon.

The country roads are improving and business in the city is picking up as a matter of course.

There is now only one saloon in the city selling St. Louis beer and that saloon will quit its foolishness before long.

William Burgess was able to be out yesterday but he is still very weak and is not able to attend to business.

Robert Sackmann is moving his saloon to his old quarters.

Our merchants are having a better trade than usual. They seem to be well pleased with the outlook.

Scott, the hotel man, has rented the Spanish street hotel property and he is fitting it up to room his customers.

There are two men in this city from Pinkneyville, Illinois, looking at the St. Charles Hotel. They are hotel men and they are here, we understand, to negotiate for a lease of the big hotel.

The city Council will meet in regular session next Monday night.

It is a fact that the management of our Opera House has secured for Saturday, Feb. 26th, the celebrated comedian, Frank S. Davidson, and his company of metropolitan favorites, who will appear for one night only, producing the great rural comedy, "Old Farmer Hopkins."

Jim Brown who resided near the toll gate on the rock levee pulled up the other night and lit out for parts unknown. He left some unpaid debts behind him.

The gentlemen from Pinkneyville, Illinois, who were here negotiating for a lease of the St. Charles Hotel building left this morning.

Seventy per cent of all successful men in the great cities are farmer's sons. The old farm with its traditions, its well-sweep, its corn-huskings, its rich and varied experiences, will never be forgotten. If you would recall them, and live them over again do not fail to see "Old Farmer Hopkins" at the Opera House Saturday, Feb. 29. Look at the pumpkins gleaming amidst the fodder shocks and as perfect a picture of genuine farm life as has yet been seen on the American stage.

FRIDAY.

The City Council will meet in regular session next Monday night.

Francis N. Marchildon, of Allen-ville, is visiting in this city.

An adjourned term of the County Court will be held at Jackson next Monday.

Robert G. Ranney was granted letters of administration to-day on the estate of Edward S. Wathen, deceased.

Stories that recall the old home among the hills, the silvery brook, the sloping woodland, the wide-stretching meadows, the fragrant hay and the curious doings of the old folks and the farm hands, will never lose their interest. Such a story is told in the play, "Old Farmer Hopkins." A sweet clean, delightful touch of rural life. Absolutely perfect in its scenery and presentation. It is a sermon, a song, a poem and a picture combined,—not only enchanting while you listen, but lingering with you as a pleasant memory for many, many days. Opera House one night only Saturday, Feb. 29th.

A Card.
To my friends and patrons of Cape Girardeau and vicinity:

Having disposed of my practice to Dr. P. W. Murton, I take this method of returning to you my sincere thanks for the very liberal patronage extended me during my seven years residence among you. And especially do I desire to thank those who extended their kind offices and sympathies in time of sickness and sorrow, in pain and in death. For these the gratitude of myself and family knows no bounds.

I have opened an office in the Union Trust building, corner of 7th and Olive streets, St. Louis, Mo., for the practice of my profession, where I will be glad to see any of my old friends and patrons from Southeast Missouri while in the city.

I shall make regular visits to Jackson every two months, remaining from seven to ten days each visit, but will not stop in Cape Girardeau to do any practice, having pledged Dr. Murton not to do so—for whom I bespeak a liberal patronage.

Respectfully,
L. P. RUFF, Dentist.

Edward Wathen Dead.

Edward Wathen died at his home in this city this (Tuesday) morning, February 25th, 1896, aged about forty-five years. The deceased was born and raised in this city. He was an honest, honorable hard working man who had many friends. He leaves four children to mourn his loss.

Celebration and Camp Fire.

The annual camp fire held at the hall of Just Post No. 173, G. A. R., on the evening of Washington's birthday was a most enjoyable affair. The comrades turned out in full force and there were quite a number of visiting veterans present. The old familiar life and drum beat music for the evening and the boys putted their feet in time to the rattle of the drum, feeling as they did in days of old when they went tramp, tramp along to victory. Dr. G. W. Travis and Judge Ross were the speakers of the evening and both of them acquitted themselves with much credit. After speaking a regular old camp supper was spread and the old boys enjoyed it to their heart's content.

Croup and Whooping Cough.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup will promptly relieve Croup and Whooping Cough. It will cure the worst Cough or Cold. It never disappoints. Try it. Sold by Wilson Drug store.

Moncur—Friederich.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Friederichs in this city February 26th, 1896, by William H. Willer, Justice of the Peace, Mr. John Moncur and Miss Lillie Friederich.

The wedding was a quiet affair, only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the family being present.

Mr. Moncur is a promising young man of Murphysboro, Illinois, and his bride is the daughter of our fellow-townsmen Mr. Otto Friederich.

The Democrat joins the host of friends of the young couple in wishing them prosperity and happiness.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

On account of the great number of patients that have applied to the Doctor for treatment, a stay of one week longer has become a necessity. The treatment that cures. The cases who come to her, are those who have been treated by Doctors for years, but her methods differ so entirely, that you are lifted out of the "Slough of Despond" and started to a new life. It is "the cure where others fail." It is the ability to discover the cause and apply the remedy, to each particular case. It is using latest methods to diagnose, and locate disease. Mrs. Dr. Augusta Smith, of St. Louis, Mo., a graduate of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, and has received Honorary Degrees, as one of the Advisory Council of Lady Physicians to the World's Medical Congress, is still at the Riverside Hotel, and will remain one week longer. Hours 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Invalids invited to call and talk with this eminent lady physician. Consultation free.

Receiver Appointed.

On the application of Carroll Bros., for a receiver to take charge and wind up the co-partnership of Richard and James Carroll in the furniture business Judge Ross appointed Charley McDonald receiver and he will take charge of the Carroll furniture store.

Anti-Horse Thief Association Meeting.

The members of the Anti-Horse Thief Association will meet at the court house in Jackson, February 29th, 1896, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing officers for said Association for the ensuing year.

F. A. KAGE, President.

Shoes.

To handle Groceries exclusively I need more room, and will from now on close out my shoe stock, which embraces Infant's, Children, Misses, Boys and Men's shoes.

TWO CANDIDATES

With Their Heads Together.

W. H. Miller and Prof. W. D. Vandiver, Candidates for Congress, in Close Communion.

Wednesday evening W. H. Miller and Prof. W. D. Vandiver, the two Democratic aspirants for Congress in this county, met in this city and shut themselves up in a room for nearly an hour. What the meeting was for can only be conjectured, but the friends of the parties believe that the conference was pre-arranged and that it was for the purpose of arranging for the withdrawal of one or the other of the gentlemen from the race.

A representative of the DEMOCRAT was near by when the two statesmen emerged from the room where the conference was held. He did not attempt to interview them. There was no use to ask questions for the countenance of each of the wishful men told plainer than they could have told by words that they had arrived at no agreement. Both wore a far away determined look. They walked off in different directions much after the order of men returning from the funeral of a dear friend. They had met. They surveyed the situation and they no doubt agreed to disagree. They are in it and they are in it for all there is in it. They will go before the Democratic convention with their war paint on, each pulling for that empty honor—the Democratic nomination for Congress.

The DEMOCRAT has no consolation to offer to these Democratic aspirants. They are both good men but they are Democrats and being freer silver Democrats of course they are wicked men. The Fourteenth Congressional District is now Republican and it is the mission of the DEMOCRAT to see that it remains Republican.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

An interesting Entertainment by the Little Pupils.

The Washington Entertainment given by the pupils of the lower rooms of the Public School on Friday afternoon, Feb. 21, was well patronized and highly interesting. The little folks deserve great praise and their teachers much credit for the work so well and ably performed.

The opening song by the choir, entitled, "The Boston Tea Party," was well rendered.

A recitation by Francis Delapp, "Washington's Kiss," was well spoken. The piece is a lengthy one for so young a person to memorize, and Miss Francis deserved the hearty applause she won.

Song—"Kissing Papa Through the Telephone," by Thekla Hunze, was well sung. The dance which followed it, as well as the encore song, "I like to play with the boys," received a good round of applause from a large and appreciative audience.

Recitation—Not George Washington, by Helen Vandiver, was ably delivered. Miss Helen bids fair to become an elocutionist in the near future.

The Washington Drill, by the little imitators of the father of our country, was a feature of the entertainment. The little boys in their uniforms went through the march and drill with all the ease of experienced militiamen.

The duet, by Ellen Juden and Nellie Bergmann, entitled "The Ragged Doll," was perfect. One could not say too much in praise of these little songsters. The rich and haughty little miss was ably personified by Miss Ellen, while as the poor orphan waif, Miss Nellie won the hearts of all and brought tears to many eyes.

Declaration—"Willie's Brooches," by Clarence Reid, was well delivered and appreciated by all. The little fellow's voice is clear and his gestures graceful and natural. The burst of applause that followed him was well merited.

Song—"Jack Frost," by sixteen little girls, was unique and tasty and was applauded to the echo.

Recitation—"Washington's Birthday," by Jimmie Morris, was clearly spoken and ably delivered. The little fellow retired amidst a round of hearty cheers.

"The Little Shoemakers," a song by twenty-four little boys in aprons, was as neat a little performance as we have ever witnessed. The little men make perfect cobblers.

A concert recitation—"Our Flag," by the little girls, won all patriotic hearts.

The programme closed with the song "America."
