For Probate Judge. James K. P. Coday of Mansfield is a candidate for probate judge of Wright county subject to the wishes of the Republican voters at the coming primary. Mr. Coday was born on a farm a few miles south of Hartville in the year 1860. His father, James Coday, Sr., died in the year 1863, leaving his son to be reared and educated by a widowed mother with the help of the good people in and around Hartville. Being a cripple from boyhood, and physically unable to do the work necessary to insure success on a farm, he was forced to seek other employment. With a limited education, such only as was furnished by the Hartville high school of 1887, with Prof. Thos. Montgomery as principal, and the Mountain Grove high school of 1888, with Prof. Wm. Lynch as principal, Mr. Coday on the 6th day of December, 1888, accepted a position as clerk in a drug store at Mansfield, at which place and in which business he has been engaged ever since. Mr. Coday claims to be a member of one of the oldest and strongest Republican families in Wright county, a family that casts a vote that any candidate should be glad to receive. Since this family has not been represented on the list of officers for more than a quarter of a century, and since Mr. Coday is not asking more than is due the voters of this family, the Republican voters of Wright county should give him their united support at the coming primary, Mr. Coday feels. Wright county needs a probate judge that is a firm, sober business man; one that cannot be influenced by any one; and who will at all times look after the interests of those who may have their business intrusted to his care. By his nomination the party will add strength to their ticket. A recent law makes the coroner's term four years, hence R. W. Inman has two more years besides the present one to serve. We learn that Dr. Latimer of Hartville started to run for the Republican nomination to this office under a misapprehension of the law.—Mountain Grove Journal.

Auto Funeral Here. The first auto funeral ever held in Wright county was held in Mansfield Tuesday when Mrs. Nannie Phelps, who died Monday midnight, was laid to rest in the Mansfield cemetery; Uncle Tony and Aunt Nan Phelps, as they were familiarly called by our people, were the only negro residents Mansfield ever had. All their lives they had associated with white people and never mixed with members of their own race. Coming to Missouri from Kentucky about 30 years ago with Robert Murray and family they have resided in Wright county since that time, spending about 10 years on farms and the remaining 20 in Mansfield. Of a quiet and unassuming disposition, they were respected by our people and their every need was supplied. The exact age of these people is not known, but it is supposed to be around the century mark. From the best information obtainable Aunt Nan is thought to have been the oldest colored woman in this part of the state. The fame of her cooking is a household word; she being regarded as an adept in the culinary line equalled by but few. About midnight Monday she passed away at her home in Mansfield, leaving Uncle Tony alone in the world after having spent so many years in his companionship. No children were born to the couple and Uncle Tony is left alone in the world. What life is to him now can not be imagined by those who have never lost the one who meant the whole world to them. The city turned out to pay the last sad rites to the departed, the funeral being conducted from the residence at 4:15 p.m. by Rev. J. E. Seal, missionary in Wright county for the Baptist Church. The services were in charge of Undertaker T. F. Lenhart, who had arranged for an automobile procession, and nothing but autos were used. Special music was rendered during the service. Dressed in her wedding clothes in which she had been married to Uncle Tony so many years ago, and with her head to the east—in accordance with her dying request—the remains of Aunt Nan were laid to rest to await the call on the day of resurrection. Carter for County Clerk We would call attention to the name of D. C. Carter for the Republican nomination for County Clerk, which will be found in our announcement column this week. Mr Carter is too well known to the citizens of this county to need any introduction at our hands. He is well acquainted with many of the duties of the office he seeks, having served as Treasurer and made numerous settlements with the County Clerk, as well as the daily observation of the work of the office. The only promise he has to make is that he will keep neat, accurate and complete records and give prompt attention to the routine matters pertaining to the duties of the office, giving special attention to all matters concerning the schools and the school funds of the county. He is well liked and while he is unassuming he is such a good vote getter that he is a very dangerous opponent. ICE CREAM! In the Park At Mansfield Saturday June 20, 1914 Auspices O. F. F. Club YOU ARE EXPECTED!

The Big Celebration. The big celebration on July 4 will be at Mansfield. Watch next week's paper for program and full details, but in the meantime make your arrangements to spend the 4th in Mansfield. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Mansfield Concert Band, which will furnish music for the occasion. Races and amusements of various kinds will be provided for your enjoyment. Gifted orators will make political and inspiring speeches, and the entire day will be one for all to enjoy to the utmost. The following committees have been named: Executive—E. A. Sisk, W. C. Coday, G. C. Freeman. On Speakers—J. D. Reynolds; N. S. Miller. On Grounds—G. S. Burney, Ezra Denis, H. E. Newton, D. W. Morgan. On Advertising—W. A. Black, W. C. Coday, N. S. Miller. Entertainment—O. S. Coday, S. C. Rippee, Dr. F. H. Riley. Decorating—Misses Bertha Miller, Corinne Hitchcock, Maude Coday, Inabelle Wallace; Roy Handy, Ezra Dennis. LEAD HILL. (Special Correspondence) Singing at the Lead Hill church every Wednesday night. Everybody come and help us. Still hot and dry; crops don't look very good. Wheat harvest is about over. Jeff Rippee is harvesting wheat with the binder; it don't take so many men as it did for Orval Hunsaker. Frank Cass is down from Springfield on a visit. Kinsey Edmons of Springfield was here Saturday visiting his brother Charley. There was an ice cream social at Joe Goss' Saturday night, a big crowd and a good time. They called in the all day singing at Lead Hill that was to be June 28. Mrs. Cartopp says she thinks the singers could sing as well as the boys could play ball in this hot weather. Mrs. Joe Goss called on Mrs. Scott Monday. Miss Lillie Herod spent Saturday night with Miss Sadie Goss and Miss Sue Wilson stayed Sunday night. Sadie Goss called to see her uncle, Fred Goss' Monday. Mrs. Ollie Hensley said she liked to have wheat to harvest but she did hate to carry dinner so far to the men. Sam Goss is working on the G. S. Burney farm again, he laid off last week to harvest his wheat. Mr. Scott is getting out of heart quite badly on account of the dry weather; he said he was going to leave right away if it didn't rain. Mrs. Mollie Goss, while hanging pictures Saturday, stepped up on a chair, which tipped over with her and she fell back over the chair, hurting her back quite badly. Otis Newton's spent Saturday night and Sunday with C. C. Hensley and wife. Miss Clara Goss and several other dined at Joe Goss' Sunday. The Lead Hill and Gasconade ball teams will play on the Salisbury field the afternoon of June 28. LIZA JANE.
