

"A Revival that Revives."

H. H. BARNES, Revivalist

Special Gospel Meetings

IN THE

Commence
JANUARY
4th,
1906.

Every Night
7:30 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH,

Farmington, Mo.

Extra

MEETINGS

WILL BE Announced.

DR. C. L. BLANKS
PHYSICIAN,
Farmington, Missouri.

DR. W. L. WINN,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
Farmington, Mo.

DR. E. B. BARROW,
DENTIST,
FARMINGTON, MISSOURI.

DR. C. R. FLEMING
PHYSICIAN,
Farmington, Missouri.

OWEN A. SMITH, M. D.,
EYE AND EAR
AT LAFAYETTE
Theater, Thursday and Saturday, at
Dr. Johnson's Building.

AT FLAT RIVER,
Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

C. A. TETLEY,
DENTIST
FARMINGTON, MISSOURI

DR. E. L. HORTON,
DENTIST,
FARMINGTON, MISSOURI

DR. J. W. BRAHAM,
DENTIST,
FARMINGTON, MO.

J. L. HAW, JR.,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Farmington, Missouri.

J. R. SMITH, B. H. MARRIBY
SMITH & MARRIBY
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Farmington, Mo.

W. H. YOUNG
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
NOTARY PUBLIC AND
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
FARMINGTON, MO.

SOUTHEAST NEWS.

St. Genevieve will vote on the waterworks proposition January 8. Ironton is to have a fine new up-to-date depot, it having been officially announced.

The County Board of Visitation in Stoddard county made their quarterly visit to the county infirmary and were

EDWARD A. ROZIER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FARMINGTON, MISSOURI.

W. S. ANTHONY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
FARMINGTON, MO.

H. B. LEDBETTER,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
FARMINGTON, MISSOURI.

JAS. L. MORRIS
Notary Public and Insurance Agent,
BISMARCK, MO.

Represents the Continental Insurance Co. of New York.
Legal work promptly attended to.
A portion of your business solicited.

pleased to report everything in fair condition and abundance of food stuffs of all kinds on hand.

A St. Louis firm has bought the peach orchard of Louis Miller near Atwood and will add grapes to the fruit on it.

The postoffice at Lutesville was burglarized on the 22d and $300 in cash was stolen besides that amount in stamps and $75 worth of jewelry.

G. T. James of Dandridge county died on the 17th, aged 80 years, and the Maiden Merch announced that he had taken place in Oak Grove cemetery in the presence of a large gathering of admiring friends.

Mrs. B. E. Poe of Cape Girardeau county celebrated her 80th birthday on the 17th inst., with a gathering of all her relatives. There were present one son, seven grand children and nine great-grand children. She has lived in the county since 1818.

John Arms of Malden walked off the steamer Sable Lee at Caithersville on the 17th and was drowned. He had been drinking and was blinded by the glare of the lights as the boat landed, and accidentally walked off at the wrong place.

Lulla Green, a nine-year-old Caithersville boy, accidentally shot a younger brother while playing soldier with a loaded rifle on the 16th. The shot entered the body, penetrating so long, but the boy is doing remarkably well.

Saw Service

A good example of the remarkable service given by Keen Kutter Tools is shown in the Keen Kutter Hand Saw illustrated here. This saw was used for twelve years by a carpenter, who pronounced it the best saw he had ever used in thirty years' experience, and as perfectly satisfactory in every respect.

And every other tool in the Keen Kutter line is as good a tool of its kind as Keen Kutter Hand Saws.

The long life of tools bearing the trade mark is not chance or accident. It is due to the fact that nothing is spared to make Keen Kutter Tools the best that make, money and skill can produce.

KEEN KUTTER

The Keen Kutter Line has been Standard of America for 30 years and was awarded the Grand Prize at the World's Fair, St. Louis, being the only complete line of tools ever to receive a reward at a great exposition.

Following are some of the various kinds of Keen Kutter Tools: Axes, Adzes, Hammers, Hatchets, Saws, Axes Drivers, Auger Bits, File, Planes, Draw Knives, Saws, Tool Calipers, Scythes, Hay Knives, Iron Hoops, Corn Knives, Eye Hooks, Trussels, Pruning Shears, Tinners' Snips, Hammers, Shavers, Hair Clippers, Horse Hooves, Razors, etc., and Knives of all kinds.

If your dealer does not keep Keen Kutter Tools, write us and learn where to get them. Tool Booklet sent free.

Every Keen Kutter Tool is made under this Mark and Motto:

"The Revolution of Quality Remains Long After the Price is Forgotten."

Trade Mark Registered.

SIMMONS HARDWARE CO.,
St. Louis, U. S. A., 208 Broadway, New York.

FIGHTING IN THE STREETS OF MOSCOW

Five Thousand Dead and Eleven Thousand Wounded, and the Battle Raging.

Workers on Strike Attack the Government Forces, Who Retreat, Loyal and the Mobs Turn the Revolutionists, Behind Barriers, Make Stubborn Resistance—Strike Covers All Russia.

Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night a battle raged in the streets of Moscow between revolutionists and the loyal troops. The strikers started the fighting, using hand grenades, bombs, fire arms, any weapons they could procure. Stones were broken open, guns and ammunition secured, and distributed to the strikers, who began to use them against the forces representing the government. Barricades were thrown up behind which the strikers, now revolutionists, took shelter, and stubbornly fought the troops. Every one was surprised at the loyalty of the troops. The spirit of rapid-fire guns were heard in many sections of the city. In towers cappers picked off the revolutionists; rapid-fire guns were used to clear streets; then cannon was brought into action to batter down the barricades in the streets. Christmas morning it was estimated that 5,000 were killed and 11,000 wounded, and the battle still raged.

A correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph at St. Petersburg telegraphed his paper at 6:45 p. m. Christmas.

"From fragmentary accounts received from Moscow, I gather that the civil war has brought no decisive action, but only a thickening of the blood cloud, an intensifying of the horrors and an increase of the prevailing bitterness.

"The driving force behind both the troops and the rebels is no longer that of enthusiasm or of any human impulse. It is the force of superhuman hate and hence the deaths reported are not the acts of patriots, soldiers or otherwise, but the crimes of madmen.

Such Foolhardy Courage! "It is impossible to understand how any emotion, even of the extremes of despair or hate, can impart such foolhardy courage as some of the rebels display.

"For every barricade destroyed Sunday, two or three appeared in other places. Orders were given by the revolutionists to shoot only when there was good hope of bringing a man down, but the order was not obeyed until they lost patience.

"In the meantime, in their houses the bulk of the population covers in the best of ways the windows and doors, and shrieks with fear and trembling at every boom of the cannon or the explosion of a bomb.

Most Surprising of All. "The most surprising thing of all is the loyalty of the troops which nobody here anticipated.

Talking with an intelligent group of St. Petersburg revolutionists, I was informed that what they believed the strike would be victorious, they fully realized they were staking everything upon the issue, and that failure would set back their cause for several years. They said they were devoting their efforts to shaking the foundations of Russia, financial and political, and choosing the existing regime was overthrown they could as quickly build another, and that foreign nations would be as ready to advance money to a democratic republic as to the autocracy.

They emphatically denied that they were inciting the peasantry to commit agrarian outrages, declaring that these outrages were the work of socialists, but they did not deny their advocacy of the distribution of the crown lands among the peasants.

"In conclusion, they declared that in event of the failure of their cause, they would have recourse to all classes of society.

Car Warned to Leave Russia. London, Dec. 24.—The Express prints an undated St. Petersburg dispatch, saying the revolutionists have warned the czar to leave Russia. They informed him that he was no longer the ruler of Russia, except in name, that the leaders of the revolutionary movement did not desire to harm him or his family, but they could not be responsible for his safety.

Strike Covers All of Russia. Paris, Dec. 24.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Temps says: "The strike now covers the whole of Russia. The Moscow Times admits that with unprecedented rapidity all communication with provinces and abroad has been stopped. It is expected hourly that the ministry will be rendered entirely helpless."

In the Baltic Provinces. London, Dec. 25.—The Russian government has regained full control of the city of Riga, according to a telegram from that place. The revolutionists have established a provisional government at Doheln.

To Protect French Citizens. Paris, Dec. 26.—The cruisers Casatin and Admiral Aube, which are now at Brest, have been ordered made ready to start for Riga, to protect and, if necessary, embark French citizens at that place who may be in danger.

England Sends Rescue Ships. Dantzic, Dec. 26.—The steamship Freda has been chartered by the British government to go to Riga and embark British refugees.

The organ in the Catholic church at River aux Vases, Ste. Genevieve county, has been in use for thirty-five years, and has just had a few improvements added to it to make it modern, for it is in fine condition owing to the materials from which it was built.

John Lynch, who lives near Hillsboro, had his arm broken on the 17th inst. while he was trying to fasten a bull in its stall. The bull made a rush at him and pushed him with such force against the side of the stable that both bones in one arm were broken. Mr. Lynch is 70 years old and the broken arm is very painful.

A TRUTHFUL INDICTMENT OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The Greatest Pretender and Greatest Dissembler of All Political Organizations.

From The Commencer. Are not the American people justified in bringing an indictment against the Republican party? The record warrants the assertion that that party is the greatest pretender and the greatest dissembler of all political organizations.

For years it posed as the friend of humankind and started the Cleveland administration with having completely demoralized silver. Its presidential candidate of 1896 while serving in the House denounced Mr. Cleveland for his partiality to the single standard and charged that it was his purpose to "make money scarce and therefore dear," "to make money the master and everything else the servant." And then in 1896 the party declared for bimetalism, through international agreement, pledging itself to bring about that agreement, and saying that in the meantime the existing standard would be maintained. No sooner had the votes been counted than Republican leaders declared that the victory was on that platform was a victory for the single gold standard? They made no serious effort to fulfill their pledge as to an international agreement. On the contrary they proceeded in the effort to fasten the single gold standard more thoroughly upon the country.

The Republican party sent a special envoy to the coronation of King Edward, a thing theretofore unheard of in the history of our government.

In the war Great Britain waged against the Boers it gave all the aid and sympathy it dared to give to the monarchy, and refused the smallest word of cheer to the republicans. The British freely used our ports for the shipment of food and supplies.

Pretending to be anxious for the preservation of the American system the Republican party has created colonies and governs them as King George governed the American colonies, adopting the very policy against which our own party is in control of every department of government; yet no relief is in sight. The boasted Northern Securities merger case was said to have been won for the people, but it develops that the only result is a change in the method of organization, and the same old men continue to place upon the people the same old burdens.

We are told by Republican newspapers that the railroad managers feel confident that they have averted the danger of any serious railroad legislation.

The Republican leader in a recent speech condemned the able lawyers who for a price give their talents to great corporations in order that the people may be oppressed, and then in a few days after delivering that speech he appointed as his Secretary of State Elihu Root, one of the most famous and successful corporation lawyers and a man who retired from the post of Secretary of War to resume the practice of law in the interests of corporations.

And when he retired, as he did, for the purpose of "more gain," Mr. Roosevelt gave him the certificate of character and said that he was the greatest man in all the world in Roosevelt's time. That was quite different from the statement Mr. Roosevelt made when Engineer Wallace retired from the service of the government to accept another position for "more gain."

There is no question as to the popular demand for the election of United States Senators by the people, and four times the House of Representatives has been forced to pass a proposed amendment to that effect. In each instance the Republican Senate has blocked the reform. Whenever the Republican leaders conclude that the people are determined upon a sort of relief the House passes some sort of measure, its leaders knowing full well that the Senate will not adopt it or will (as it did with respect to the Esch-Townsend bill) appoint a committee to investigate in the effort to discover whether the people are entitled to relief—and in the effort, also, to see that they don't get what are entitled to.

Garfield reported that there was no beef trust, and then the federal grand jury at Chicago returned an indictment against the members of a beef trust, and then Mr. Garfield was assigned to make an investigation of the Standard Oil trust, which was announced was to be "just as rigid as his investigation of the beef trust had been."

Bonaparte, the new Secretary of the Navy, a man who ought to get out of the Republican party just as quickly as he can, returned the passes which had been sent to him by railroads, saying that he did not feel that in the official position he held he should accept such favors. Does anyone believe that Mr. Bonaparte is the only member of the Cabinet who has been offered passes? Has anyone heard of any other member of the Cabinet refusing passes?

The Republican leaders sneer at government ownership of railroads in America, and yet the plan in Panama. They reject an income tax in our own land, and adopt it with respect to the new railroads in the Philippines, while a Federal Judge in Hawaii has upheld the income tax in that territory.

They authorize Messrs. Judson and Harmon to investigate the violation of the anti-rebate law, and they assure the people that the investigation will be "thorough and vigorous" and the presentation "swift and certain." The investigation was thorough and vigorous, but the prosecution lacked considerable of being "swift and certain."

When Messrs. Judson and Harmon reported, the Republican administration refused to act upon their report; it threw the protective arm of the Republican party around a conspicuous offender and laid down the rule, which it will find difficult to reverse, that when the anti-rebate law is violated the soulless and fleshless corporation must be held to account, while the powerful Paul Mortons go free and unmolested.

Under the authority of the Republican party trusts have multiplied to the extent that since 1899 more trusts have been organized than existed in all the history of our government prior to that year.

THE OPEN DOOR IN MANCHURIA

The Policy Advanced by the Late Secretary Hay Is Triumphant.

Secretary Principal Parks and Cities in Manchuria, including Harbin, Will Be the Center of the World's Attention as a Result of the Treaty in China.

Washington, Dec. 25.—America triumphed in the signing of the Treaty between Japan and China at Peking, and the members of the treaty, which China terms to open to the world commerce and trade in principal ports and cities in Manchuria, including Harbin, marks in the opinion of the officials of the state department the final success of the long struggle by the United States for the open door. Harbin is the modern Russian capital of the province of Manchuria, and the chief railroad center, and the provision of the treaty in that city is the most important of all. The important articles of the treaty stand as follows: The Chinese government will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them.

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

THE OPEN DOOR IN MANCHURIA

The Policy Advanced by the Late Secretary Hay Is Triumphant.

Secretary Principal Parks and Cities in Manchuria, including Harbin, Will Be the Center of the World's Attention as a Result of the Treaty in China.

Washington, Dec. 25.—America triumphed in the signing of the Treaty between Japan and China at Peking, and the members of the treaty, which China terms to open to the world commerce and trade in principal ports and cities in Manchuria, including Harbin, marks in the opinion of the officials of the state department the final success of the long struggle by the United States for the open door. Harbin is the modern Russian capital of the province of Manchuria, and the chief railroad center, and the provision of the treaty in that city is the most important of all. The important articles of the treaty stand as follows: The Chinese government will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them.

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?

But does any man, Republican with the character of the indifference which dominates the Republican party of its day believe that the people have anything to expect in the way of relief at the hands of that political organization?

Who will say that there is any in the statement of Secretary of State Root, now in control of the executive branch of the government, that will provide the people with relief from the impositions that have been placed upon them?