HONORABLE

W. J. BRYAN

WILL SPEAK AT

FLAT RIVER

TO-NIGHT,

FRIDAY, OCT. 12

AT 8 P. M.

Don't fail to hear America's Great Commoner, the most popular man of the age, the most profound thinker, the most entrancing orator and ablest and clearest exponent of public questions in the United States.

Hon. John C. McKinley, Missouri's Republican Lieutenant Governor, is announced to speak in Farmington tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Hon. Joseph W. Folk, Missouri's Democratic Governor, is announced to speak at the Opera House here at one o'clock on the same day. Why not make it a joint debate?

Dr. W. F. Kuhn, the well-known alienist and superintendent of State Hospital No. 4, Farmington, addressed the Missouri County Medical Society and the public in general at the Court House Monday night on "Why Some People go Insane." It was a thoughtful address from an authoritative man, and was interesting and instructive throughout.—Charleston Courier.

Will Karsch has sold his interest in the J. M. Karsch Shoe Company to his brother, Fred Karsch. After resting up awhile he will accept one of two propositions offered him, but will continue to make his home in Farmington. Fred has been associated with the firm for a couple of years as salesman and is an excellent young man, so that the company will not in any way be weakened by the change.

President George B. Smith of Dexter Christian College preached a fine sermon at the Christian Church in this place last Sunday night. He has a hard work before him in the building up of the college at Dexter, but he is a man of large faith, earnest endeavor and practical ideas, and believes he will succeed. His faith and sacrifices in this matter certainly deserve success.

"An Aristocratic Tramp," one of those high-toned fellows you have read about in picture books, will make his annual appearance at the Opera House on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 17th. With him will be Kilroy and Britton, who for several seasons were the big features of "The Heart of Chicago," and a carefully selected company of the very best metropolitan talent procurable. Scenery is carried for each and every act, and the production is said to be one of the season's big hits.

Miss Mary Louella Shumaker of St. Louis and Dr. Edwin B. Kenner of Galveston, Texas, were married Thursday afternoon at St. Charles, Mo. Miss Shumaker is a young woman of charming personality, great intelligence and force of character. Until recently she made her home in Warrensburg and has many friends here to whom her unusual qualities of mind and heart have greatly endeared her. Dr. and Mrs. Kenner will be at home at 2128 Ave. G., Galveston, Texas.—Warrensburg Star. Dr. Kenner formerly lived in Farmington and is a son of the late Housand Kenner. His many friends in this section extend him congratulations, and wish for him and his bride their fondest anticipations.

Silver, Silver Plated Ware, Rings, Chains, Charms and a general assortment of Jewelry at Tetley's.

Mrs. Willard Frissell died at her home in DeSoto on the 2nd inst., aged 98 years. She was probably the oldest citizen of Southeast Missouri and was born in Potosi. She was married in 1831 and her husband built the first brick house in Jefferson county. She left nine children, ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

School Books and school supplies at Pety's Book Store.

Double Wedding in Open Court

On Monday, the 8th inst., while the Probate Court was busily engaged in the business of the regular October term, and while the court room was crowded with people waiting to make settlements and to transact such other business as they chanced to have with the court, a rather unusual spectacle occurred. Alfred Mead and Miss Lavinia Wilkerson, both of Leadwood, stepped into the court room and asked the judge to join them in the bonds of wedlock. The judge waived aside for the time all other business and united the young couple in the sacred bonds of matrimony. They had scarcely left the court room, when Thomas J. Clamm of Doe Run and Miss Maggie Stetler of Bonne Terre entered with similar request. The judge promptly stated that these little matters always have the right of way in his court, and thereupon proceeded to bind the hearts and lives of this estimable young couple in conjugal bliss.

Farmington Wins Some Premiums.

There was a stock show at Ironton last Monday and Tuesday, and quite a number of our townspeople went over. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Cayer, Judge and Mrs. E. E. Swink, Messrs. J. M. Morris, Junius McCormick, John E. McCormick, Walter Morris, Linn Clardy, Bryan Foster, Bart Walker, and Misses Mabel Drumler, Florence Swink, Irene Nixon, Macey Morris, Jessie Spangh, Gaudys Rozier, Virginia Clardy and Emma Keller.

Walter Morris carried off a blue ribbon for the best roaster, a red ribbon for the best saddler and a red ribbon for the fastest trotter.

Linn Clardy got a blue ribbon for the best two-year-old colt, and another blue ribbon for the best roaster mare. John E. McCormick scored a red ribbon in the roaster ring, and a red ribbon for the best roaster of 15 hands and under.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Col. Norman J. Colman, former Lieutenant Governor of Missouri, former Secretary of Agriculture under President Cleveland, and for sixty years editor and publisher of the Rural World, dropped quietly into Farmington last Tuesday evening. Col. Colman came in to get a bird dog which Judge E. E. Swink had bought for him, to take along with him to Ripley county in order to give it some practice in retrieving. He also goes there to select a suitable place for the meet of the Colman Hunting Club, which takes its regular outing on the 1st of November each year. Seeing this trim, active man stepping springingly along, one might, on account of his frosty beard and hair, take him to be about sixty years of age, but in reality he is eighty years old, and he enjoys life and a romp-out with his hunting club with the zest of a man half his age. It does him good, and to use his own expression, "loosens the bow strings and helps to prolong life." Since the death of Col. Switzler, Col. Colman is the oldest editor in Missouri, and the oldest editor of an agricultural paper in the United States. May as many more years be in store for him as his youthful appearance fore-shadows.

Chase & Sanborn's 20-cent coffee can't be beat.—at Klein's.

Football Prospects.

The prospects for a winning team to represent the Moothart Business College this year are getting brighter every day. Active practice began last Monday night at the stock show arena, and every night an unusually large number of candidates have appeared. The squad is at present composed of Pipkin, Isenman, Conway, Blue, Asbury, McCormick, Giesing, Sutton, Krieger, Wood, Laws, De-Grant, Byington, Pratt, and more will probably come out within a few days. It is probable that Shurtleff College will be played Monday, but as it cannot be definitely arranged until after this issue of THE TIMES, we cannot say positively. On Saturday, Oct. 20, McKinley High School of St. Louis will be played, which should be one of the best games of the season.

Green tomatoes and green peppers at Kleins.

Mrs. Martha Francis of Sabula, Iron county, was found dead at her home on the 25th ult. She was 98 years old and lived alone. Her face was badly mutilated by being eaten by cats, as she had been dead for a couple of days when found.

If you want a Sewing Machine go to Tetley's.

WM. H. LEWIS.

Democratic Nominee for Representative of St. Francois County.

This notice did not appear along with those of the other candidates because of delay in getting a counter-acted presentation of our popular young friend, and we wanted our readers to see what he looks like. "Billy," as everybody calls him, was born in Washington county, and came to Farmington when a mere boy to work in a printing office. Since his majority he has been interested in several Democratic newspapers, and was Assistant Clerk of the Senate during the last session of the Legislature. He is now conducting a paper in the Lead Belt, the Banner, and the way he ran out there in the primary shows his popularity among all classes. His experience as a clerk in the Senate gives him valuable knowledge of legislative affairs. He is an honorable, upright young man, a staunch Democrat and may be depended upon to do the right thing. Billy is going to be elected, too, and all Democrats are urged to help swell his majority.

FALSE REPORT.

A report has been started in Flat River that an admission fee will be charged for entrance into the Base Ball Park to hear Mr. Bryan speak. There is no truth in the report. Everybody is invited and nobody will be charged a cent. The park will be lit up by five arc lights. Seats will be arranged for at least 5,000 people.

GOVERNOR

JOS. W. FOLK

WILL SPEAK AT THE OPERA HOUSE

IN FARMINGTON

TO-MORROW,

SATURDAY, OCT. 13

AT 1 P. M.

Everybody is invited to come out and hear the Governor of Grand Old Missouri discuss the important public questions of the day.

Christian Church Co-operation Meeting.

The annual convention of the St. Francois county Christian Church Co-operation convened at Libertyville on Friday, Oct. 5th. Judge G. O. Nations presided in the absence of Geo. B. Gale, president.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain and mud, it was said to be one of the best gatherings held in St. Francois county for years. Every speaker came with a message and delivered it with all the power and vigor of his soul.

The sermon by Elder E. J. Fenstermacher on "The Teaching of Jesus, and the Christian Church as the Exposition of that Teaching," was very fine, the distinctive principles for which the Christian Church stands being brought out in all their clearness.

Mrs. Bantz of St. Louis presented the great work of the womanhood of the church.

Judge G. O. Nations, in a very masterful way, presented the plea of the Disciples of Christ, based on the declaration of Thomas Campbell in 1809, a part of which is, "Our desire therefore, for ourselves and our brethren would be, that, rejecting human opinions and the inventions of men as of any authority, or as having any place in the Church of God, we might forever cease from further contentions about such things, returning to and holding fast by the original standard, taking the Divine Word alone for our rule, the Holy Spirit for our teacher and guide to lead us into all truth, and Christ alone, as exhibited in the Word, for our salvation, and that by so doing we may be at peace among ourselves, follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord."

This led to the Centennial Aims, which were presented by Elder R. O. Rogers of Fredericktown. In the absence of Elder T. A. Abbott, the evening hour was devoted to a very profitable round table talk on Bible school work, conducted by Elder Edward Owers.

Saturday morning's session opened with an address by Elder W. A. Kokenkoff of Mexico, in which he set forth plans for very aggressive work in the district.

Elder Geo. B. Smith represented the educational feature of our work, when Elder Edward Owers made a very strong plea for "A Christian Paper in Every Christian Home." This was followed by a solution to one of the greatest problems confronting the Church to-day, "Finance."

The last, but by no means the least, was a sermon by Elder R. O. Rogers on "How to Remove Hindrances."

The bountiful hospitality of the Libertyville people was up to its full measure. Those attending the convention from Farmington were Elder and Mrs. Owers, Judge G. O. Nations, Mrs. J. W. Buck, Mrs. W. H. Houshins and Mrs. J. B. Burks.

Appeal Granted in Peonage Cases.

The United States District and Circuit Court convened at Cape Girardeau last Monday with Judge Finkelnburg on the bench. The famous Smiths civil rights or peonage case came up on motion for appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis, on the ground of error in the trial which resulted in their conviction. The allegation on which the defense hopes to have the case thrown out of court recites that the United States statute on conspiracy does not reach the charge of the violation of the civil rights of a negro, which was embodied in the indictment against the defendants. Many other allegations of error by the trial court were made in the application.

The seven defendants were admitted to bail in $20,000 each, many prominent men of Southeast Missouri going as security.

Business College Notes.

Present enrollment 61, we having enrolled this week Miss Lillie Towers of Amsterdam, Bates county, and Miss Nellie Lallement of Bismark.

Rev. Brite of the Baptist church visited the school Monday morning and made us a very interesting and practical talk. One of the main thoughts presented was character building along with the preparation for the business office world. Again, we wish to remind the ministers of the city that we are specially pleased to have them visit us.

President Moothart made a very brief inspection trip to the Ste. Genevieve and Cape Girardeau schools Wednesday and Thursday of this week. He reports everything in a satisfactory condition.
