MURDER AT FRANKCLAY

Wm. Iahn Shot and Instantly Killed by Will Mittner, Jr., a Boy Between 15 and 18 Years of Age.
Wm. Iahn, a saloon keeper at Frankclay, in this county, was shot and instantly killed at that place about half past six o'clock last Thursday evening under the following circumstances, as elicited by testimony at the inquest on Friday before Coroner J. H. English:
Wm. Mittner, Sr., father of Wm. Mittner, Jr., got into a quarrel and fight over a watch with Tom Gould, a bar tender for Iahn, and Caspar Mittner, another son of the senior Mittner, picked up a rock with which to strike Gould, when Iahn took hold of him to prevent him interfering with the fight. At this Wm. Mittner Jr., who is between 15 and 18 years of age, said he'd go and get a gun. He ran to the Mittner house, a short distance away, and returned with a shot gun. He called to Iahn, who was standing out on the ground holding the other Mittner boy, to stand back or he would shoot him. Iahn backed on to the porch of the saloon and was still backing toward the door when young Mittner raised the gun and fired. The lead struck Iahn under the right jaw, passed through his neck and out under the left jaw, severing the external and internal carotid arteries and the jugular vein. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the foregoing facts.
The Mittners made their escape at the time, but Wm. Mittner, Senior and Junior, were captured in the hills near Desloge last Tuesday and are now in jail at Farmington. Casper Mittner is still at large.

DEATH OF MRS. COURT'S FATHER
News was received Tuesday morning of the death of Dr. A. M. Trawick, at his home in Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Trawick has visited his daughter, Mrs. William Court, since her residence here, and quickly won his way into many hearts by his genial big-hearted temper. He was affectionately referred to as the "beloved physician" by the host of friends in Nashville, where he spent many years in an unselfish and beautiful ministry to the suffering. He was an active member of McKenden M. E. Church.

RADER PLEADS GUILTY GETS LIFE SENTENCE.

Sam Rader last Monday pleaded guilty as charged in the indictment against him, which was murder in the first degree, for the assassination of Wm. LaCombs at Flat River on the night of the 5th of last May, while the latter was taking a girl home from a circus. The circumstances attending the murder were of such an aggravated character and the evidence so conclusive, that his attorneys were certain that conviction would follow and the death penalty be pronounced against him, so they and his brother persuaded him to throw himself on the mercy of the court. Tuesday morning he was brought into court and Judge Huck sentenced him to hard labor in the penitentiary for the natural term of his life.
On the night of the 5th of May, 1910, as Wm. LaCombs was taking Allie Wooten home from a circus, Rader, who was lying in wait for them, shot LaCombs through the head, killing him instantly. Walter DeClue and Rader had both been going with the young woman, and the two men had had some trouble over her. Rader had forbidden her going to the circus with DeClue, and when he shot LaCombs he thought it was DeClue.
Rader made his escape and was captured in Arkansas last November, where he was going under the name of Tom Kelley. He was arrested at Sharon Springs, Ark., on a charge of rape, and the Sheriff thought he answered the description on a postal card in his possession which Sheriff London had sent out. He notified Mr. London, and the result was he was brought back to Farmington and has since been in jail here.

SOCIETY FUNCTIONS.
The Willing Workers of the Christian Church enjoyed a social gathering at the Annex last Friday night in honor of Mr. Charles A. Counts, who left the early part of the week with his mother for Cottage Grove, Oregon, where they will make their home. The evening was spent in games of various kinds. Sandwiches and punch were served during the evening.

Bridge With Mrs. Cayce.
Mrs. M. P. Cayce entertained last Thursday at bridge for Mrs. E. G. Simmons. Luncheon was served at four tables, after which four games were played. Mrs. James Morris having the highest score and Mrs. Sam Isenman the lowest. Those present were Mesdames E. A. Rozier, Bert Zwart, W. W. Waters, T. D. Fisher, Walter Morris, Genevieve Logan, Sam Isenman, Paul Cayce, J. H. Jones, Will Lang, Will Chinn, P. S. Cole, John McCormick, W. T. Halle, Will Harlan, James Morris, Max McClure, Firman Castleman, Misses Elsie Cayce, Mary Wilson, Pearl Clardy, Margaret Noland and Florence Lawrence.

Mrs. Waters Entertains.
Mrs. W. W. Waters entertained quite a number of friends Tuesday afternoon to meet her sister, Mrs. C. E. Marsh, of Hot Springs, Ark. The afternoon was passed most pleasantly playing high bridge and enjoying some musical selections by Mrs. Marsh, who is quite an accomplished musician. Mrs. Rozier was the fortunate one in making the highest score and received a bunch of beautiful carnations. Those present were Mesdames W. T. Halle, E. A. Rozier, Paul Cayce, M. P. Cayce, Will Lang, Max McClure, J. B. Smith, Charles Adams, Genevieve Logan, Firman Castleman, John McCormick, Walter Morris, P. S. Cole, Misses Elsie Cayce, Mary Wilson, Pearl Clardy, Beth Halle, Florence Lawrence and Olga Goff of Desloge.

MALE TEACHER WANTED.

Applications will be received by the Pilot Knob School Board of Pilot Knob, Iron county, Mo., for the position of principal of the Pilot Knob public school. All applications must be filed on or before Saturday, May 20, 1911. Address applications to LEZIE J. EFFINGER,
Clerk of Board.

That long-keeping California squash, grown by Mr. Elza Burgess of Rural Route No. 3, of which mention has been made heretofore, has just begun to show signs of decay. This particular one was raised in 1908 and has kept perfectly sound for nearly three years. The wonder of this variety of squash is, that after being kept for two or three years, they are just as sweet and palatable as when pulled from the vine. This three-year-old specimen is one that Mr. Burgess has kept to see how long it would keep sound.

THE FARMINGTON FAIR.

The Executive Committee of the Fair Association met last Monday and partially arranged the program of races for the Fair, which will be held September 12th to 16th, five days, and appointed superintendents of the different exhibits and entries. In addition to the races heretofore published, there will be a three-horse relay race, distance one and one-half miles, to change horses every half mile. This is open to everybody, and will be the extra attraction for Tuesday and Saturday. It was at first thought best to confine the entries to this race to boys and girls, but that was reconsidered and the race will be free for all. The purse for each of the races will be $100, divided into four purses—$40.00, $30.00, $20.00 and $10.00. This committee will meet again next Saturday and finish arranging the premium lists, etc., when the catalogue will be printed.
