Sunday will be the closing day of the great meetings which have been conducted by Henry Ostrom in the Farmington tabernacle. In order to make it the greatest day possible the churches federating in the movement have agreed to meet in the tabernacle in a big union service Sunday morning as well as in the afternoon and for the farewell service at night.

This has been a great week at the tabernacle. The Monday night service when nearly seventy young men and women pledged themselves to preach or go as missionaries, the county convention on Tuesday when scores of people from all parts of the county came in for the day's program, the Tribute to the aged on Wednesday afternoon when all the aged people of the surrounding community were brought to the tabernacle in automobiles, and the Day of Prayer on Thursday all marked the high tide of the revival which is sweeping through the entire county.

And best of all the indications are that this revival is just begun; that it will sweep on and on is very evident. Mr. Ostrom says, "I never close a revival; it is God's revival and no man can close it; and if you people are not up and at it during the months to come God will judge you for it." Already many have joined the churches and the outlook is promising for much greater results but the best of all is the awakened interest on the part of the church members. Several striking conversions were reported this week of people who were "down and out" and whom it seemed almost impossible to ever interest in religious things.

Mr. Ostrom will go to his home in Greencastle, Indiana, for a short time before returning to California for the Exposition meetings at San Francisco.

On June 19th, the St. Joseph Lead Co. gave its employees a small bonus of ten per cent based on their wages from June 1. This has been heralded by some as a very liberal and condescending concession on the part of the company. As lead has advanced approximately 50 or 75 per cent in the past few months, and the employees have for months been paid very small wages—lower than the miners in any other lead producing mines in this country—this action of the St. Joseph Lead Company strikes the average observer as but a tardy as well as meagre recognition of the company's partial duty to its wealth producers.

The bonus no doubt was very acceptable to the men, because they needed it, but was it a just remuneration for the labor which they performed in the long months during which they toiled at wages that were scarcely life sustaining. Will the company adopt this as a policy of paying its employees? If so no statement or hint has been made to that effect, and the men have no assurance that such a policy will be followed. Why

EAT MORE ICE CREAM--IT'S GOOD FOR YOU

American mothers are finding out that Ice Cream is not merely a confection—it's a food.

Mothers are studying their children's stomachs as well as the color of their eyes; and the result is there are more husky little rascals and fewer palid little angels.

In this kind of weather, when stomachs get out of order easily, it is a good thing to feed children plenty of Ice Cream.

Ice Cream is high in food value, easy to digest and cool on the stomach. Let the children have all they want. It's good for them.

Ice Cream is as good as it tastes.

cannot the company deal openly and frankly with the men in its employ, that they may know what they have to depend upon? Why not take them into its confidence and deal with them on business principles? When the price of lead is up pay them in proportion—not with the surprise of an infinitesimal bonus, but by a moving scale of wages that rise and fall with the price of its productions, with a fixed minimum wage that will insure them a living for themselves and families.

Such a policy would gain the confidence and trust of all employees and strikes and unsettled conditions at the mines would cease. Let the officers and stockholders bear their share of the burden in times of stress and depression, and the employees enjoy some of the prosperity in seasons of flushing.

Next year is the time for the nomination and election of the governor and other state officers. The Democrats of the state must be on their guard and especially see to it that the right man is nominated for governor. The progressives, as an organization, seem to have about winked out in Missouri and most of them are likely to return to the Republican party, causing the Democrats to face their old antagonist in full force. So it stands the Democrats in hand to select men in whom the people have the utmost confidence, as the Democratic standard bearers in the battle of the ballots for the 1916 campaign.—Chillicothe Constitution.

Italy, since engaging in the European struggle, has made a call to arms to her citizens scattered throughout the world. D. P. Aquino, the tailor at Bob Daugherty's shop, received notice Sunday to come back and take his place in the ranks. He is given 20 days in which to return. The young man is half undecided as to what to do. Failure to respond to the call, means that he is exiled until 49 years old, after which he may return to his native land.—Hickman Courier.—Perry County Sun.

Houck Lines Sale to Frisco Upheld.

The Frisco Railroad will not have to pay the holders of securities of the old Houck lines in Southeast Missouri the $1,273,000 which Special Master T. T. Fauntleroy, in his report to the United States District Court, recommended should be adjudged against the road in favor of the bondholders.

Only that portion of the amount will be owing to the bondholders which represents the difference between the face value of the bonds and the present market value.

This decision was contained in an order handed down Saturday by United States Judge W. H. Sanborn. The contention of the receivers of the Frisco Railroad that the sale of the Houck lines to the Frisco early in 1913 was void because not ratified by the stockholders of the railroad company was not upheld by the court.

As the actual difference between the face and real values of the bonds of the Houck lines has not been established, the matter referred back to Fauntleroy with instructions to ascertain the amounts owing to each of the petitioners under the ruling of the court.

The petitioners and their claims are: The St. Louis Union Trust Company, $512,233.33; Mississippi Valley Trust Company, $380,999.99; Jefferson Bank, St. Louis, $29,458.33; Farmers and Merchants Bank of Perryville, $33,866.00; T. J. Moss Tie Co., $28,524.99; Lead Belt Bank, $8,466.66; Louis Houck, $166,614.95. Interest on these claims is figured at 5 per cent for two years.

Action was brought by these petitioners when receivers for the Frisco repudiated the sale of the Houck lines to the railroad under the plea that the transfer had not been ratified by the stockholders and that the contract, therefore, was void.

Judge Sanborn, in his opinion, held that the contract was a valid and binding agreement and stopped the Frisco from denying the execution of the contract on the grounds alleged. As a result of the validity of the contract he held the bondholders of the Houck lines had a valid and just claim against the Frisco.

John D. Johnson and Loomis C. Johnson acted for the petitioners in the case and Henry S. Priest, W. F. Evans, Allen C. Orrick and Elmer Francis for the receivers of the Frisco railroad.—Ste. Genevieve Herald.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear which is not cured by local applications, because the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition. Hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE UNIVERSAL QUESTION

What Is There In It for Me?

The saloon keepers all may be very nice men,

But what is there in it for me? I blow in my money and wake in the pen,

So what is there in it for me? Of course, I'm as welcome as flowers in May,

When I come to the joint to squander my pay, But I wake in the Cooler the very next day,

And that's all there's in it for me. All over this country where we're swimming in booze,

But what is there in it for me? The saloon keepers' kids are wearing new shoes,

But what is there in it for me? The distiller's share is an automobile, A carriage the retailer's share of the deal,

But I'm wearing shoes that are down at the heel,

And that's all there's in it for me. The booze-maker's wife may be dressed like a queen,

But what is there in it for me? My wife hasn't duds that are fit to be seen,

So what is there in it for me? The beer-brewer's son may be dressed like a dude,

While While I'm wearing garments exceedingly rude,

And if we vote "wet" I'm afraid I'll go nude,

And that's all there is in it for me. My thirst costs no more than my clothes and my food,

And that's all there is in it for me. The booze took my money and did me no good,

And that's all there's in it for me. The brewer is rich, he has gold by the peck,

The bar-man gets paid, he's always on deck,

But whatever I get, I get in the neck, And that's all there's in it for me. Why should I vote that the curse may endure?

For what is there in it for me? I'm bound to vote dry on election day sure,

For what is there in it for me? A new self-respect and a chance for my life,

New clothes for the kids and a home for my wife,

The beginning for peace, the end of all strife,

And that's what there's in it for me. St. Francois County Civic League.

BOUQUET FOR WINSON

This is from the Topeka (Kas.) Capital, the real Republican organ of the Sunflower state:

"The nation can congratulate itself also that is has at so pivotal a time a man in the White House, who is a calm, self-controlling thinker, a man of ideas and equally of firm convictions of right and wrong. He will not be easily turned from a safe course. Agitation and jingoism will not unsettle equilibrium. If there is a notable absence of the jingo spirit today in this country no man can say how much credit for that fact belongs to the calm and deliberate man at the helm."
