G. A. McFarland, pastor of the Leadwood Methodist church, will occupy the pulpit of the Flat River Methodist church at the same hour. It might be well to announce in this connection that Judge R. C. Tucker, of Farmington, will speak on the Centenary at the Leadwood Methodist church at the eleven o'clock hour on the fourth Sunday in this month.

Next week is to be a big Centenary week in this lead belt section of the country. Beginning with Monday night, services will be held at one of the lead belt churches every night next week, closing up at the last of the week with a big service here in Leadwood at the Methodist church.

The people from all the lead belt churches are expected to attend all of these services and great crowds of people are expected for every service. The meetings will be as follows: Monday night at Elvins, Tuesday at Flat River, Wednesday night at Desloge, Thursday night at Bonne Terre and Friday night at Leadwood. Don't fail to be on hand for all of these services if you are a member of the Methodist church.

Rev. J. H. Bollinger, pastor of the Bellevue circuit and a number of the laymen of that charge, passed through Leadwood Tuesday of this week going to the Centenary meeting at Flat River.

Rev. C. W. Dunmire made a business trip to Flat River Tuesday of this week.

The very best news of the season for Leadwood came last Monday morning when report spread over the town that the power house had been opened up Sunday night at eleven, and forty to fifty men had been put to work. It is not known whether this is the beginning of regular operations here or whether it is being done to help out somewhere else. The thing that seemed to inspire the most optimism is that the pumps have been started at the Huffman shaft, which is taken to mean that the company plans to resume operations soon. It is said that sixty men were called for Sunday night and only forty-five could be secured. The air is charged with all sorts of rumors these days, some having it that Bonne Terre is going to close up tight within a very short time when work will be pushed to a finish here at Leadwood. Other rumors have it that Leadwood is down for good and will never be a town of any importance again.
