in Missouri, but yields have been too small, generally speaking. The yield of canning tomatoes can be greatly increased so that the crop will be far more profitable to the grower, by the use of moderate quantities of commercializers. J. W. Pierce of Howell county reports an average yield of only 9.3 pounds of fruit per plant on an unfertilized plot, while an adjoining plot receiving 250 pounds of a complete fertilizer produced 3.2 pounds per plant, an increase of 400 per cent. Nitrate of soda alone, and potash alone, showed little benefit to tomatoes, while acid phosphate alone, showed a very marked increase. Other tests located in the Ozark section show the same general results. One of the good results from fertilizing tomatoes is the early maturing of the fruit, a difference of three to four weeks being observed in many cases. Another interesting point, observed on the farm of H. H. McElhany near Springfield, is that tomato plants respond better to fertilizer if it is applied and worked into the row a week or ten days before the plants are set.

MISSOURI WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Nov. 17.—The labor situation in this country has ceased to be one of wages, hours and working conditions. It involves nothing less than the question of the independence of the average working man to work where he pleases, for whom he pleases, and at whatever wages he pleases. It is the question of the open against the shut shop. There is real patriotism in the telegram sent President Wilson by a former American soldier: "I have fought for my country. Am willing to dig coal for it." He fought to preserve American homes. Now he wants to help keep the home fires burning.—The Oklahoman.

A "GOOD OLD SCOUT"

When dad was well and going strong And never had a holiday. The bills were settled right along— He always seemed to find a way. He kicked because my shoes wore out, And at the price of sister's hat; But dad's a pretty good old scout, I guess we'll all agree to that.

Sometimes when we would have to wait And dinner would be getting cold, Ma scolded dad for being late, 'N' I'll tell the world that ma can scold.

I guess she often thought he lied When he was trying to explain; One night last week he nearly died, But now they say he's on the gain.

He's been in bed a month or two And, gee, the stack of bills we've got! It's lucky that he's pulling through, Because we need him here a lot. Ma used to say he had no right To be a fool like other men; She always worried when he'd light Another stogie, now and then.

I heard her last night, when she spoke To Doctor Griggs concernin' dad; She said he seemed to want to smoke And that'n a sign that made her glad. Sis nurses him and strokes his head And we have all been finding out, Since dad's been sick and nearly dead, That he's a pretty good old scout. —S. E. Kiser.

Service Through Organization

THE only difference between big business and little business lies in the number of units of effort and the character of service rendered.

The laboring man is in business for himself. He renders a service by selling his time, energy and skill.

Big business is the grouping together of a great many units to render a greater service by co-ordinating the efforts of the individuals and selling the results of their combined time, energy and skill.

Up to a few years ago the general public did not understand the ideals of service underlying big business. What it did not understand it distrusted and naturally condemned.

When the Allies decided to organize their armies on the basis of big business—for a common service—they began to get results, and the world saw the benefits to be derived from intelligent organization.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business, organized to render a useful service.

The objective of the Company is to manufacture the greatest number of useful products from crude petroleum, to distribute them so that they are available to all and to sell them at a minimum price.

The methods by which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders these services embrace the truest financial democracy, the most advanced merchandising practices and extensive scientific research.

These are intended to expand the usefulness of the Company as a public servant, by maintaining the quality of petroleum products manufactured at the highest standard, by making an adequate return to those who are investing their money or their time in the business of the Company and enabling the public to secure their requirements of such products at a minimum of expense.

It is this spirit of co-operation animating the Board of Directors which enables the Company to discharge its complete obligation as a public servant in a manner satisfactory to its patrons.

Only a Cold
"Are you ill?" is often answered—"Oh! It's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence. But people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off. Obtainable everywhere. (adv.)

Will Not be One Day Without PE-RU-NA

This Lady TELLS Her FRIENDS

Mrs. Mary Fricke, 501 Barnhart St., Belleville, Ill., is just one of the many thousands of ladies throughout the country who, after an agony of years, have at last found health, strength and vigor in PE-RU-NA.

MRS. MARY FRICKE

Her own words tell of her suffering and recovery better than we can do it: "I suffered with my stomach, had awful cramps and headaches so I often could not lay on a pillow. Saw your book, tried PE-RU-NA and got good results from the first bottle. To be sure of a cure I took twelve bottles. I have recommended PE-RU-NA to my friends and all are well pleased with results. I will not be one day without PE-RU-NA. Have not had a doctor since I started with PE-RU-NA, which was about fifteen years ago. I am now sixty-three years old, hale, hearty and well. Can do as much work as my daughters. I feel strong and healthy and weigh near two hundred pounds. Before, I weighed as little as one hundred. I hope lots of people use PE-RU-NA and get the results I did." An experience like that of Mrs. Fricke is an inspiration to every sick and suffering woman.

If you have catarrh, whether it be of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, or other organs, PE-RU-NA is the remedy. It is not new; it is not an experiment. PE-RU-NA has been tried. PE-RU-NA has been used by thousands who once were sick and are now well. To prevent coughs, colds, grip and influenza and to hasten recovery there is nothing better.

PE-RU-NA will improve the appetite and digestion, purify the blood, soothe the irritated mucous linings, eradicate the waste material and corruption from the system. It will tone up the nerves, give you health, strength, vigor and the joy of living. Do what Mrs. Mary Fricke and thousands more have done—try PE-RU-NA. You will be glad, happy, thankful.
