The Burlington R. R., Swift & Co., and the Western Union Telegraph Co. were among the big corporations which last week sought office help of the Employment Dept. of Chillicothe Business College.

Robin Doss, who lives about a mile west of Farmington, has reason to remember Tuesday night's storm most unpleasantly, as a fine three-year-old Jersey cow was struck by lightning some time that night in his cow lot and killed. Ten other cows were in the same lot, and Robin is inclined to be thankful that only one was killed, though it is a serious loss to him.

Miss Ella A. Day, who is surgical nurse in the Boone County hospital, located at Columbia, had a very serious accident last January. While boiling test tubes, they exploded and about 200 pieces of glass entered Miss Day's face and eyes, the effect being that the right eye ball had to be removed. Three weeks ago Miss Day went to St. Louis to consult an eye specialist, who gave her permission to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Day. She returned to St. Louis Monday and has since written her parents that her doctor assures her that her condition is as good as could possibly be expected, but it will be some time yet before she will be entirely recovered.

The Times is authorized this week to present the name of Hiram C. Johnson, of Bismarck, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative from St. Francois county. In a recent suggestion of Mr. Johnson for this place, The Times spoke of the fact that he was now about finishing a legal course of study, which would perhaps add to his efficiency as a member of the law-making body of the State, though personally he appears to need no further qualification to creditably represent our people than what he already possesses. He has extensive information on the needs of our people, and apparently he has also the ability to work intelligently to such an end, which he assures us will be his chief ambition if selected for that place. While he is now in business in Flat River, his home continues to be in Bismarck.

The Times would suggest to all auto owners that the time has arrived when it will be advisable for them to have their cars properly equipped, if they propose to continue to use them. Sheriff Hunt has a notice in this issue, in which he states that after next Saturday, April 8th, all automobiles must be equipped with two license plates, two headlights, both of which must be lighted when running at night, as well as a red light at the rear; also that the dazzling headlights, now so common, must be replaced with ground glass or a dimmer. Continued ignoring of any of these things after the above date will subject violators to arrest and fine, in accordance with the law. And we will further state that Sheriff Hunt makes a specialty of doing just what he promises to do. So you had better take warning, if your car is not now equipped as the law provides.

Friends of R. C. Tucker for some time past have been using persuasive powers in an effort to get him to announce for Prosecuting Attorney, subject to the action of the voters at the Democratic primary. Finally Mr. Tucker has promised to make the race, and has requested The Times to present his name this week to our readers. Some of the reasons given for the insistence on Mr. Tucker making this race are that there is crying need, just at this time, for vigorous enforcement of the law against all kinds of criminality, which at least is a compliment to him, as it is an acknowledgment that those who have been instrumental in persuading Mr. Tucker to enter this contest, have confidence in his honesty, ability and integrity. It is really a fact that Mr. Tucker did not seek this office, but now that he is in the race he proposes to fulfill his part of the agreement by making the race in earnest.

The weather cleared most beautifully yesterday, after an unusually long spell of rainy, disagreeable weather, and buds and blooms, practically shot forth, indicating that spring is actually here.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet in the high school building next Wednesday, April 12th, at 3:15 p. m. All interested in the work in which this organization is engaged are invited to be present.

Mrs. Norman Blue and little daughter and Miss Minnie Blue of Puxico, and Miss Vanessa Topping, of Marshall, and Miss Virginia Topping, of Bethel, were guests of Mrs. Annie Lloyd for several days last week.

In spite of the inclement weather, the Senior class celebrated their annual "tacky day" Friday, and many varied were the costumes that braved the snow and rain and made their appearance at the High School.

Judge J. S. Gossom, a former excellent and popular citizen of Farmington, now of Caruthersville, came in the last of the week and met his brothers, S. C. and J. H. Gossom, both of St. Louis, here Sunday. They had business the first of the week before the Board of Equalization, as they still own considerable property in this county. S. C. Gossom is president of the Hodiadmont bank of St. Louis.

The name of Horace E. Eaton, of Farmington, is this week presented to Times readers as a candidate for the office of Constable of St. Francois township, is 28 years old, and has lived in Farmington all his life, with the exception of two years which he spent in France, where he was in the thick of things. He is an excellent and worthy young man, and is at present Deputy Sheriff in Iron Mountain community, which requires most of his time. He is capable and energetic and would doubtless fill the office he seeks in a highly efficient manner. He belongs to one of the oldest and best families in this community, and has wide and influential connections. He will unquestionably make a splendid showing in that race.

Joe Isenman went to St. Louis Monday to be the guest of the International Harvester Co. at an entertainment they gave their representatives and local agents throughout the State. He was accompanied by J. L. Kelly, of Sikeston, a traveling representative of that company, who had been in Farmington several days assisting Mr. Isenman in his sales department. During his stay here Mr. Kelly entertained himself in the minds and hearts of many of our people in a very distinctive manner, by his unusual ability to amuse and entertain. He is a slight-of-hand artist of unusual ability, as he is also a machinery salesman. He has made himself unusually popular in Farmington, and his subsequent trips will always be welcomed by his many friends here.

MRS. SARAH IRVIN This good woman died at her home in this city last Saturday, April 1st, aged about 72 years. Death was preceded by a long illness, and the end was hourly expected some time in advance of its arrival. Deceased failed rapidly since the death of her husband, which occurred a short time ago. When death calls one of an excellent old couple, it seems that the call for accompaniment by the other is often irresistible.

Funeral services were held on Monday, April 3rd, and interment was in the K. of P. cemetery.
