

MANY SIDES OF THE WAR IN ONE PICTURE

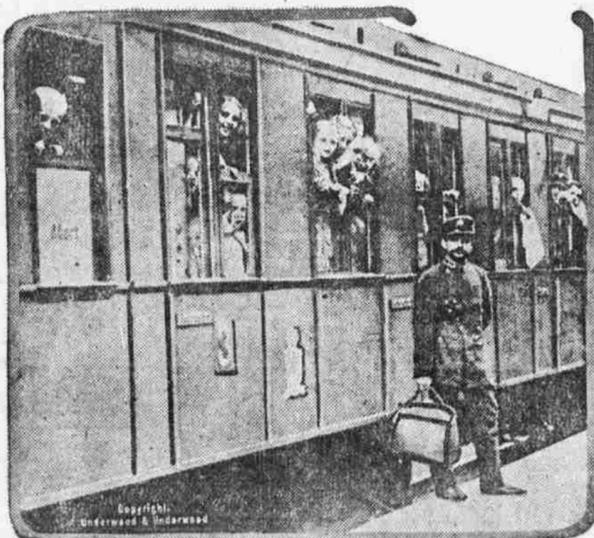

French armored motor car near Guillent on the French front. By the roadside are the French and British wounded. Standing by the side of the armored motor are English officers and a chaplain. Back of them is an ambulance. The countryside is torn by shell fire. Very seldom does a photograph show so many sides of war as this one.

GERMAN PRISONERS CAPTURED IN THE SOMME DRIVE

A scene in one of the great English prison pens where the captured Germans are held. The men are kept in barbed-wire inclosures during the day and at night sleep in small tents.

GERMANS SEND CHILDREN TO HOLLAND

Reports from Holland indicate that a serious food shortage is feared as a result of the large number of German children being sent to that country from Germany, presumably because of the lack of milk and food in the German empire. This picture shows a trainload of German children arriving in Holland.

QUEER FUNERAL IN JERUSALEM

An unusual funeral procession in Jerusalem. A Turkish soldier is being carried to his grave, a British officer, acting as one of the pallbearers.

COMES TO FRENCH EMBASSY

M. De Bianpre, new naval attache to the French embassy, who has just arrived in the United States and taken up his official duties in Washington.

In Praise of the Cricket.
An old French saying is, "As silly as a cricket," but Charles Dickens gives this little musician quite a different character in one of his most tender domestic stories ever written, "The Cricket on the Hearth, a Fairy Tale of Home." The story takes its name from the quaint description with which it opens of a trial of skill in the cozy home of an English carter between the teakettle and a house cricket, in which the latter gains the victory. "To have a cricket on the hearth," Dot Perybingle, the carter's wife, tells her husband, "is the luckiest thing in the world."—Indianapolis News.

Owner of Strong Will.
"By husband was a confirmed smoker when I married him a year ago, but today he never touches the weed."
"Good!" said one of the group. "To break off a lifetime habit like that requires a pretty strong will."
"Well, that's what I've got."—San Francisco Bulletin.

POULTRY

FOR SUCCESS WITH PIGEONS

Variety of Good, Hard Grains is Essential—Not Advisable to Feed Birds on Wet Ground.

A variety of good, hard grains is essential to success with pigeons, and grains which are in poor condition should not be fed. Old grains which are hard are better than new soft grains, especially for pigeons with squabs. Red wheat is considered better than white wheat by many pigeon breeders. Good wheat screenings are often fed with success, as they usually contain a variety of seeds. Various stimulating seeds, such as lentils and vetch, are sometimes fed as a tonic to breeding birds during the molting period.

The grain may be fed on the floor of the pen, in troughs, or kept before the birds in hoppers. It is not generally considered advisable to feed the grain on the ground, especially on heavy soil where it may get wet and moldy. Unless the floor is kept clean it is better to feed the grain in troughs than on the floor. The troughs should be made so that the pigeons will not roost on them and soil the feed with their droppings.

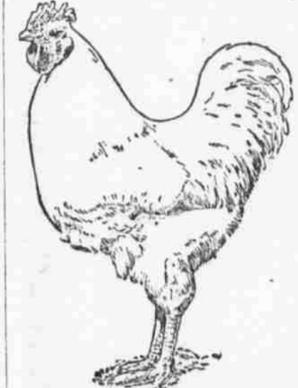

Hoppers are used with good success but may attract rats in some pigeon houses. They should be fitted with wires or nails about two inches apart so that the pigeons cannot waste the feed by throwing it out onto the floor. If the grain is not fed in hoppers the pigeons should be fed twice daily, in the morning and in the afternoon, at regular hours, giving from one and one-half to two quarts of grain at each meal to 20 pairs of pigeons and adding an extra pint if the pigeons have many squabs. The feeder must regulate the quantity of grain according to the appetite of the birds, giving them all they will clean up in one to two hours.

KEEP VALUABLE MALE FOWLS

Confine Roosters in Separate Pens and Market Infertile Eggs—Sell All But Breeders.

(By T. E. QUISENBERRY.)
No one asks or expects a farmer or poultry raiser to kill or sell valuable breeding males. You might not be able to find what you want to take their places the following season. The males would be better off, however, and so would the females and would make better breeders the following season, if the males were confined to separate quarters and kept with but few, if any, hens.

Keep the males from the laying hens and market infertile eggs. Unless you are certain you will need the males another season, it is best to sell them and to give the room to the young stock. The feed the old males will eat and which you would save would almost pay for new males, thus giving you new blood and, perhaps, better males. Consider all these facts before acting.

OLD HENS ARE UNPROFITABLE

Aged Fowls Cause Low Average in Egg Production—Three Years is Limit of Usefulness.

Old hens are the cause of low averages in egg-production. The pullets work regularly but the old hens lay about a dozen eggs and rest the remainder of the year.
Unless you are raising a particular stock of chickens of which you have only a few hens, you cannot afford to keep the old hens as layers. A hen is not profitable after her third summer as a layer. Selling the old hens and using the incubator for hatching is the best plan for the small poultryman.

HINTS FOR POULTRY RAISERS

Keep Overactive Cockerels in Separate Yard—Soft Fresh Dirt is Good for Chicks.

Soft milks is valuable in any ration. Summer shade insures thrifty chicks.
Remove overactive cockerels to a separate yard.
Clean up the incubator, remove the lamp, and throw away the Wick.
Soft fresh dirt is an insurance against leg weakness in chicks.

SOAP IS STRONGLY ALKALINE and constant use will burn out the scalp. Cleanse the scalp by shampooing with "La Creole" Hair Dressing, and darken, in the natural way, those ugly, grizzly hairs. Price, $1.00.—Adv.

New Fish Bait Declared Good.

The United States bureau of fisheries reports that on the last cruise of the Fish Hawk in Chesapeake bay samples of crayfish meat, put up in brine, were distributed among crab fishermen and dealers, to test its value and the possibility of introducing it as a substitute for some of the baits now on the market. Fishermen who have tried the crayfish say that it is a very good bait.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

Economy With Caution.

"Have you ever studied political economy?"
"Some," replied Senator Sorghum; "but when it comes to hustling for votes, I don't believe it being stingy."

THIS IS THE AGE OF YOUTH.

You will look ten years younger if you darken your ugly, grizzly, gray hairs by using "La Creole" Hair Dressing.—Adv.

No Place for Jokes.

"Yes, the church people evidently thought the ritual was no place for a joke."—Houston Post.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 100 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy."—Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.
There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

Method in his Madness.

"You say Mrs. Naggs was here during my absence?" said the superintendent.
"Yes, sir," was the reply. "She called to see about taking her husband home, but he positively refused to go—said he would rather stay here."
"I always thought there was something wrong about that man," said the superintendent. "He isn't crazy at all."

Cardui Wins Suit.

After a trial in the United States District Court of Chicago, before Judge Carpenter and a federal jury, the jury found the American Medical Association guilty of libeling Cardui, the woman's tonic, which they had denounced as a "nostrum."

This is a vindication of the medicine and a proof that it has merit, which was recognized by a jury after a trial of three months, one of the longest civil cases on record.

Many doctors and chemists testified on both sides and the evidence totaled nearly four million words.
