It seems to us that Ignatius Donnelly would sigh for a country where critics are not so free with their criticisms.

JACKSON SMITH, of Cole county, is a candidate for the Kansas City Court of Appeals. We know of no better timber in the race.

The Catholics of this county are talking of having a big picnic in Mexico, July 4th. They always make such affairs a big success for Mexico.

The first incineration at the new crematory in St. Louis took place Monday morning, where the remains of Mrs. John H. Terry were reduced to dust.

ANOTHER EUROPEAN has arisen to assert that war on the Continent is inevitable. This is as easy a way to obtain notoriety as to give the public the latest fluctuation in Mr. Blaine's physical condition.

J. G. HOWE, of Macon City, Mo., was in Mexico in the interest of his candidacy for Register of Lands. Mr. Howe is an elegant gentleman and a worthy Democrat, and will have many warm friends in Audrain county.

T. G. BESCHOW, of Polk county, was in Mexico Friday getting acquainted with the people. He is a candidate for the Kansas City Court of Appeals and has many friends all over the State.

WOOD MADDOX is in Mexico today buying mules, and it is said by our friend John Jones that he is a dark horse for some fat office. Wood is one of the most active Democrats in the State and worthy of any preferment he might ask for.

ATTY.-GEN. BOONE, in answer to many letters, announces that in counties that have adopted the Wood law druggists cannot sell wine, brandy, or whisky on the prescription of a physician; but that they may sell pure alcohol without prescription.

THE able editor of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette thinks that it would be well to hang up the bones of Mr. Fuller in the Senate and let the winds blow through them. This may not be elegant, but it expresses the average organ-grinder's idea that something remarkable should be done with Mr. Cleveland's newly discovered Chief Justice.

SENATOR VOORHEES apologized to the Senate for the use of unparliamentary language in that body a week ago. Mr. Voorhees said he should have made the apology sooner had he not been prevented by illness. He admitted that, despite the severity of the provocation, his language had not been justifiable. Senator Ingalls, of course, thinks that he has done nothing to apologize for. He is proud of himself. He is so constituted.

SATURDAY evening last Secretary Bayard was sitting next to a bright society woman at a dinner in Washington. The latter regretted that the President's nominee was not more widely known. Secretary Bayard so far forgot himself as to remark that that made no difference, as his presence would make the Bench Fuller than it now is. "But it will not have so much weight as heretofore," said Mr. Bayard's vis a vis. Of course Washington gossips assert that Mr. Bayard proposed to the lady at once.

JOHN PUGH PULLED.

Another Member of the Royal Nine in Entrance—He is Bound Over.

John Pugh was rearrested Thursday for having a hand in some of the raids of "The Royal Nine" last winter. He was released a few days ago, as no evidence was introduced against him at the Appraiser's office. Pugh is said to bear a bad reputation in Glasgow, where he lives, and since his release the local officers have had an eye on him. George Mortimer declared yesterday that Pugh was the man who accompanied the party of thieves on the night R. E. Hisey's residence on South Jefferson street was robbed. Pugh was accordingly arrested this morning and taken before "Squire Winscott for hearing. Judge Forrest was his lawyer. George Mortimer was the first witness sworn. Pugh's lawyer objected to the character of the testimony, on the ground that Mortimer, having served a term in the penitentiary, was not qualified to testify. He withdrew his objection, however, and Mortimer proceeded to relate that he knew Pugh; that he had seen him on several occasions and that he was one of the party that robbed the residence of R. E. Hisey several months ago. Pugh was placed on the stand in his own behalf. He testified that he knew Mortimer by sight only; had shot craps with him. He denied having any knowledge of the burglary in question. Judge Winscott bound the prisoner over until the June term of Circuit Court.

THE TWO ROADS IN LIFE.

A Sad Story with No Moral in Sight—A Young Man's Fate.

From the San Jose News. "That is one of the saddest cases I have ever known of," said Capt. Caldwell, the guardian of the county jail, to a reporter, and the old Indian fighter wiped away a tear. "The young man was convicted of a few days ago of vagrancy," he continued, "and is now serving out a sentence. He was a young man who had every advantage in his youth. His parents sent him to school, but he was not stuck on it and he went from bad to worse as he grew older, and now he is taken up as a common vagrant."

"In this case I do not think there is any chance of reform; he is too far gone. Boys don't seem to know how to start right in life. They should get up and dig for themselves. Now I once knew a boy who was very industrious while a youth. His father was a shoemaker. Instead of wasting his time playing ball or other idle sports after school, he would go to his father's shop and monkey with the tools, until in a few years he got to be quite expert. One day he told his father he would strike out for himself. The old man told his son he thought he was old enough to speed alone, and it would be a very good idea for the youth to strike out for his fortune."

Full of bright hopes and a square meal, and with his kit of shoemaker's tools, he started out. Now there's a boy for you. He never hired a buggy on Sunday afternoon and blew in a week's salary in trying to cut a swell. This was a plain, every-day young man who never wore cuffs, except those his father gave him. He did not wear wide pants with a crease down the front, or stand around on the street corners every evening. No, sir. That boy had stuff in him."

"Well, I never heard of him again until a few days ago. You've heard of '—the great shoe manufacturer, haven't you?" "Oh, yes. So that is the boy, eh?"

"No, that's not him." "Where is he?" "He is the best shoemaker in the San Quentin prison."

Mass Convention. Ten delegates from this county to the Sedalia convention to be held May 17, were selected at a mass convention held at the Court House Saturday, of which Hon. A. B. Tinsley, of Wilson township, was chairman and B. F. Dobyns, secretary. Before the delegates were selected W. F. Fry made a motion to the effect that the delegates be instructed to use all honorable means to the selection of Cash Blackburn, of Vandalia, as a delegate from this Congressional district as well as the selection of Nat Dryden, of Troy, as delegate at large. The following delegates were then selected:

Sailing township—Joseph Smith. Wilson township—H. E. Tinsley. Loure township—Walter Tratchell. Linn township—W. T. Lott. Prairie township—Geo. Stuart. Cuivre township—S. D. Ely and M. R. K. Bigge.

Salt River township—James Shell, Robert Price, Wm. Stuart. Upon J. H. Haydon's motion the delegates were given permission to select their own alternates.

Mrs. J. Reed Sumner, who has been quite ill for some time, is slowly improving.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER.

He Talks Rather Encouragingly of the New Railroad—Over in the Buckler State.

Chief Engineer Williams was in an unusually good humor when visited by a reporter Thursday. He fell to talking right away and said a good many things, which, if he meant, should be encouraging to patriotic citizens of Mexico. "How much longer will you be in Mexico?" he was asked. "Two years—or until the road is completed," was the answer. "I may always be here." He didn't say that Mexico would get the road, but it can hardly be understood that the Chief Engineer would have much use for headquarters here if the line goes to the burg on the west of us. His remark is given only for what it is worth, however.

OVER IN ILLINOIS.

"I have just been up to Chicago," continued Mr. Williams. "The company has been incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois and I will shortly have several corps of men in the field east of Hannibal. We are working hard, as you see, and everything will soon be in apple pie order. Returning to Mexico, let me say that, if I was a Mexican, I would never stop working for this line until I saw it built either through Mexico or Centralia. Until a line of railroad is completed there is always a possibility of the original plans of the enterprise being changed. And so in this case. The railroad is not located and Mexico's chances for securing it are not gone and Centralia's are not any brighter than at first. These are the facts in the case, all reports from the 'knowing ones' to the contrary, notwithstanding."

Mr. Williams is now south of the river, having left at noon for Tipton.

Indian Reservation Opened.

The Montana Reservation Bill having now become a law opens for settlement four millions acres of rich farming lands in the well-known and long coveted Milk River Valley, also large areas of excellent grazing country on the surrounding uplands. This portion of Montana, besides its agricultural resources being rich in minerals with an abundance of coal, is attracting widespread attention as is shown by the number already settling there. C. H. Warren, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn., has issued for free distribution, an excellent map, and a pamphlet of other information regarding this country. Low rates are now being made to Great Falls for those desiring to explore this new country.

Work for Francis, the man that can poll the largest number of votes ever polled by any Democratic nominee. Look at the present standard-bearer of St. Louis, young, active, strong, brave, an athlete in the field of Democracy and the star of Missouri. Young men of our State, to whom can we look to for support if not to you? Honor your State by confining your powers and energies for the nomination of Francis. Gray hairs are respectable, but do away with the opinion that a man must be gray haired before he is fit for the Governorship of the State.—Montgomery County Leader.

A Good Job.

From the way things look, the Banner is a little afraid that it will be necessary to interrogate Governor Morehouse as to whether he appointed Mr. Peers Judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals upon his competency or upon the promise of Little Irene, when twenty months old, had a habit of asking strangers for cents. Her mother told her if she asked for any more. Next morning she went to a neighbor's house alone and said: "I suppose you've got some cents, Miss Griffin?" Mrs. Griffin answered, "Yes."

"Well, Irene says, 'I s'pose you doing to keep 'em, ain't you?'" She got the cents without asking for them.

R. R. Candidate.

The Guard has always spoken kindly of Gov. Morehouse, and he was our second choice, but since his combination with Glover, and the evidence that is accumulating that he is a railroad candidate, backed by railroad money and influence, we can not and will not endorse him. He is not the kind of a man the people want.

A Deep Distinction.

Little Winifred was visiting at her aunt's and the children were very much amused by her funny speeches. "You think you are very smart, don't you?" one of the boys said teasingly. "Yes, I think I am, but I know better," the thoughtful little girl answered.

Secular Literature "Bang in."

A small boy of our acquaintance is rather slow in committing prayers to memory, and requires a good deal of prompting. The other night he began his regular prayer in his regular way: "Now—I—lay—me"—and there he stuck fast.

"Down!" said his mother, prompting. Where upon Johnny set off again with great alacrity and fluency—"Down came a blackbird and nipped off her nose!"

UNDER CHANGED CONDITIONS. From the Detroit Press-Peak. Coming to Detroit on the train from Port Huron we encountered a common specimen of the genus boy, who asked questions in a high key and was the torment of his parents. To everything that was said this specimen of youthful perseverance would draw out: "Well—I—should—snicker!"

At last his mother forbade him using the phrase again, declaring she would whip him if he did. But he was equal to the occasion, and climbing up on the top of the seat he bawled: "Then I shouldn't snicker!"

He Called a Halt. At a recent wedding in Boston, a young author who is still old enough to be married, in response to some playful taunt, turned to the little eight-year-old son of a friend standing near: "Frans, dear," said the lady, "won't you marry me? Do say you'll have me and I'll write you a book every year."

To everybody's surprise the little fellow considered a moment, and then replied: "There are plenty of other books to read, and there are too many men marrying women older than themselves nowadays." The well-bred murmur of laughter that greeted this rally was shared by the merry young writer, as the recent discussion regarding the matrimonial ventures of two artists had evidently made an impression on the young man who proposed to stop the thing right there.

A Few Pointers.

Some of my competitors are howling terribly about the price I am making on groceries and claim that the goods offered are of the inferior quality. Funny, isn't it? If any of my goods are not just what I represent them to be I will cheerfully refund your money and make you a present of the goods. Is this fair enough? I am not in the grocery business for pleasure, but I make a reasonable profit by fair and honest dealing and never misrepresent anything. I believe in encouraging home enterprises and never lose an opportunity to sell the products of home manufacturers. If you want the best flour on earth buy none but Mexico flour. I have been handling it exclusively for fifteen years (never intend to handle any other kind) and not a single sack has failed to give satisfaction. W. W. Settle's Little Giant Baking Powder is the purest and best on the market and is much cheaper than any other. I sell more Little Giants than any store in town. When a customer asks me for the best five cent cigar made I always give him Weimer's Signature. It has no equal.

The People vs. O'Day. From the Columbus Herald. "O'Day down Francis" is the heading of a dispatch from Springfield, Mo., in which it is reported that the railroad magnate defeated one of the mayor's friends for delegate. But the downing business is not down with Mr. O'Day though he had overthrown Marmaduke about four years ago, but when the people got their hand in Mr. O'Day evaporated so suddenly that he has since then been largely a melancholy reminiscence.

An Ugly Fight. From the Centralia Gazette. The Mexico Intelligencer is so bitterly opposed to Francis that it has lost all sense of decency and fairness. About the only real cause that Cook has for opposing Francis is because Bob White favors him. Now that Boone county has settled her choice, the Guard will take a hand in the fight by showing up Morehouse in his true colors.

VIEWING THE PROMISED LAND.

Squatters on the Ground Awaiting the Opening of an Indian Reservation. GREAT FALLS, MONT., April 25.—News of the opening of the Black Feet Reservation is awaited impatiently here and throughout Northern Montana. A large number of persons have gone to the reservation to locate ranches, mines and town sites. The desirable valleys are fairly covered with tents, the greatest rush apparently being to the Big Sandy, the famous hay grounds, and when news comes that the bill is signed there is likely to be a rush. Blackfoot Valley, beyond Fort Assiniboine, is all staked off, and the tents of the squatters may be seen all along the valley of the Milk River. There is a silver lode in the Bear Paw Mountains that was located several years ago. It is understood that several parties are on hand waiting to locate this mine as well as to prospect for others.—Chicago Tribune.

The President has now signed the Bill throwing open for settlement the Indian Reservation in Montana.—[Ed.]

Resolutions of Respect. HALL OF CONGRESS, Nov. 15, 1887. A. F. & A. M., May 7, 1888. WHEREAS, By the death of Bro. Alfred Barnes, a worthy member of our order, A. F. & A. M., we realize the uncertainty of life and are reminded of the imperative demand made on us all by the God of nature who has decreed that we shall return to dust from whence we came. Be it therefore Resolved, That in the life of the departed brother, we saw exemplified the character of a Christian gentleman, man of generous impulses, honorable in his dealings, and a kind father. Resolved, That we have lost a true brother for whom we mourn with sincere sorrow, and we as Masons extend our sympathy to the bereaved family. Resolved, That the Lodge be draped in mourning and the members wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family and a copy sent the Fulton Gazette for publication. A. J. FRY, J. M. RUDD, R. A. POTTS, Secretaries.

What the C, H. & S. Will do. From the Osage county comes another report of a rich mineral discovery; there is iron and coal in that country in abundance which are worth a handsome amount of money. The coal is fully as good as that mined in Pennsylvania and the discoverer predicts that the C, H. & S. Ry. will open up a field of mineral wealth that will be astonishing in its magnitude.

A TRIP SOUTH.—Mr. L. M. Martin, a prominent Iowa railroad man, and Superintendent of the St. Louis, Des Moines & Northern R. R. says: "On my return from recent trip South, where the water was very impure, I was attacked with a violent case of cholera morbus. Having heard a great deal of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I concluded to try it and with the most beneficial results; within six hours I was completely cured." No well regulated household should ever be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Sold by C. R. Gibbs, Druggist, Mexico, Mo.

The Laughing Fraternity.

Throwing dice is considered "shaky" business. Cats are the "pots" of the lower animals. They alone cultivate the "mew."

The handier the appointments of a tavern the greater its inconsequence. A few and cry usually follows the small boy's acquisition of a pocket-knife.

The organ is supplied with "stops," but, unfortunately, the piano has none.

The early bird catches the worm, but the man who stays up all night is generally the one to see "snakes."

Should earthquakes be referred to as "real estate movements" or "matters in connection with ground real?"

"Woman is man's counsellor," says a divine. Perhaps that explains why her fees are so notoriously high.

The general interest that has been taken in the opening of the Montana Indian Reservations is shown by the large numbers of people who have already gone to Great Falls to investigate the mineral and agricultural resources of that wonderful country. The low excursion rate announced by C. H. Warren, Gen. Pass. Agent of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway, makes the expense of exploring this country merely nominal, and will undoubtedly result in a still larger number following.

Democracy Only. To the Voters of the Levee. Mexico, Mo., May 12.—Who can vote at the Democratic primaries in this county? VOTE. Any Democrat who will be a qualified voter at the November election. All others are barred.—Ed. LACROIX.

Delicate persons, and all whose systems have become debilitated, should bear in mind that Simmons' Liver Regulator is not drastic, purges the system, does not weaken or deplete the system as other purgatives do, but acts gently. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dispel headache, and generally tone up the system. Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Ga., says: "Simmons' Liver Regulator is mild and suits me better than most active remedies."

Consumption Surely Cured. To THE EDITOR.—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease.
