

The Weekly Ledger

Entered at the P. O. Mexico, Mo., and admitted as 2nd class matter.

YOU can shoot doves if you want to after September 1.

THE police force should look after the automobile speeders.

MARYVILLE, MO., had an independent Chautauque and came out $500 in the hole.

J. W. MILLION says Hardin College will have one of the largest student bodies in its history.

THE Turks are sure to get into the conflict sooner or later. A war without Turkey would be entirely too modern.

THE Mexico Shoe Factory puts on a full force Monday. That's good and shows that times are getting better.

PRICE JOHNSON and family are arranging to move to Mexico for the winter. Price is going to help make a greater city.

MANY Europeans who ridiculed Wilson's handling of the Mexican problem are beginning to wish they lived in Mexico.

AS suggested by the Ledger early in the War, the Germans do not do much talking, but evidently know how to get results.

PRESIDENT WILSON, Governor Major and Senator Stone were warm and cordially endorsed by the State Democratic convention at Jefferson City.

BALL & NEAL have adopted the cash basis system. Most Mexico merchants are going on a cash basis which will prove most satisfactory to all concerned.

Ex-Governor FOLK of Missouri is prominently mentioned as a probable appointment for one of the three Democratic members on the Federal Trade Commission.

MERCHANTS who want to keep the mail order business at home will advertise in their local papers and let the public know what they have for sale and the price asked.

THE Bowling Green, Mo., Times editorially says: "The Mexico Ledger has put in a new Mergenthaler typesetting machine. The paper shows up in fine form—greatly improved."

IF Mexico is going to have a community Christmas tree, the churches should begin looking after the details. It takes some time to arrange for a successful entertainment of this kind.

AMONG those who voluntarily signed the Chautauque guarantee after the list was published yesterday we note George Lee, president of the Mexico Fair, Senator E. D. Rodgers and C. A. Barnes.

WHILE the Mexico Automobile Club is not going to have races this fall, we understand several automobile owners are arranging to have a two days' meet, probably some time in October. This should bring a crowd to Mexico.

SECRETARY R. E. RACE announced at the Commercial Club meeting Friday that "the Mexico Home-Coming had been postponed until Champ Clark gets home." We wonder what will become of our Home-Coming if Congress never adjourns.

THE Richmond, Mo., Missourian says: "Mitch White, editor of the Mexico Ledger, says 'there is no room in Mexico for the calamity howlers'—and Mr. White has expressed mighty fine sentiment withal, has he not? Pass the word down the line, for it is fine!"

THERE has been a material advance in the price of blank paper and the weekly papers only getting $1.00 a year will lose considerable money unless the price of subscription is advanced. Country weekly papers, all through the east are getting from $1.50 to $2.00 per year.

THE Columbia, Mo., Herald States man editorially says: "We congratulate the proprietors of the Mexico Ledger upon the greatly improved appearance of that publication. Its new dress and the improved work of the typesetting machine add greatly to the looks of that excellent paper."

HOWARD ELLIS has sold his New Florence, Mo., Leader, and will be cashier of the bank at New Florence. Howard was a most successful country editor and we regret very much to lose him from the profession but congratulate the bank of New Florence on securing a progressive and substantial man for cashier.

DR. A. A. WALLACE announced to his congregation Sunday morning that he had decided not to accept the call to the Presbyterian Church at Austin, Texas, but will remain in Mexico. Dr. Wallace's congregation and the people of Mexico generally, are especially pleased with his decision and wish him many more years of usefulness in this community.

THE Bowling Green Times editorially says: "Rae Pearson of Louisiana, has been tendered the position of United States Attorney for Alaska, carrying a salary of $5000 a year and house rent. Mr. Pearson hasn't fully decided to accept the place, although we learn that he will likely do so. It is a tempting offer, yet one dislikes to leave Pike County for any other country. But Pikeans may good wherever you place them."

LOCAL OPTION LAW AND THE CITY COUNCIL

Section 7226—Ordering, storing and keeping of intoxicating liquors by persons other than dram-shop keepers prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons not a licensed dramshop keeper or by law authorized to sell liquor as a wholesaler, to offer for, receive, store, keep or deliver as the agent or otherwise, of any other person, intoxicating liquors of any kind—Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1909.

The above is the State law. It is not the law in Mexico because the Council by a vote of 4 to 3 defeated the ordinance covering this point. We understand the ordinance will be re-submitted as some of the Council may have changed their minds about the matter. We see no reason why any Councilman should vote against this ordinance. The law is going to be enforced even if deputy sheriffs and deputy constables have to be sworn in to serve as night watchmen in Mexico. We should think the City Council would want the fines to go to the city. We should think the City Council would want to cover matters of this kind without the officers of the County and township having to police the city. We will be glad if there is a councilman who has a reason for opposing this ordinance to publish the same in the Ledger.

If we are wrong we would like most assuredly to be corrected. Surely there is no member of the City Council who does not want this law enforced in the City of Mexico.

EX-CONFEDERATES of Mexico and Andraun County attended the annual reunion at Camp Jackson near Auxvasse and had a most delightful meeting.

The committee which will solicit donations for the extension of the electric line is composed of the following live, progressive men: L. E. Ferris, chairman; Sam Morris, E. R. Locke, Wallace Fry, Arthur Sharp and C. P. Malone, Fred Filcher and E. R. Pace are ex-officio members. When these men call on you, help them along as much as you can—materially and with a good word.

IN THE death of Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Hisey, aged 83, widow of the late Rufus Hisey, Mexico loses one of its pioneer settlers, a Christian woman of sturdy character who helped develop Andraun County and make Mexico what it is. Our old settlers who have done so much for the growth of Old Missouri, are one by one passing away. Peace to their ashes.

COL. W. R. TAYLOR, County Clerk of Callaway and President of the Board of Managers of Hospital No. 1, Fulton, Mo., is prominently mentioned as a candidate for State auditor. Col. Taylor is a most popular and efficient public official and would make a magnificent auditor. If he becomes a candidate he will have the enthusiastic and warm support of Democrats in this part of Missouri.

A HOME COMING is in no sense a political proposition and will be a failure if conducted along political lines. There is no reason why Mexico should not have a Home Coming Week the same as other towns and there is also no reason why the Democrats of Andraun should not have a big political barbecue this fall if they want one. Home Coming Week and political meetings are two different propositions all together.

THE Columbia, Mo., Statesman editorially says: "Over at Mexico the other day, so the newspaper reports say, the congressional committee of the Ninth District passed resolutions endorsing the records of Senators Stone and Reed. As these two representatives of Missouri in the Senate have been about as far apart in their views and in their votes in that body as they well could be, it is supposed that the resolution in question was passed to preserve harmony at the beginning of the campaign."

THE excuse that the Zeppelin which dropped bombs in Antwerp was assailing a fortress needs examination. Antwerp is a large city, surrounded at a considerable distance by forts. The Zeppelin bombardier did not tackle the forts, but apparently, tried for the palace. What he hit was a hospital where German soldiers were being nursed and chambers where women were sleeping. He narrowly missed the cathedral. This may be war. If so, there is no reason to think more kind of the makers of war.

GERMANY IS CALLING OUT ALL THE BOYS

The fact that it is announced from Berlin that all German boys between the ages of 16 and 20 are to be called to the colors for active military service is regarded as very significant. Following the mobilization of the landsturm, the home defense force, which includes all males up to 45 years of age, this supply means that Germany, pressed at all points, has called to arms every male capable of bearing arms within the empire.

WHAT ABOUT ENFORCING THE LOCAL OPTION LAW

THE DEVS and Wets of Mexico, after the local option law was passed, after the law should be enforced. It is not being enforced as it should, and that's not all of it. Unless a prompt move properly directed is made, Mexico will be wide open. That's what a few of our people want. They oppose the enforcement of the local option law and immediately announce it cannot be enforced. The question is being repeatedly asked are the officials doing all they can to enforce the law. On Sunday morning the constable investigated a shipment of booze into Mexico and you immediately heard the statement that he should have his head knocked off for looking into "other people's business." Whose business is it to enforce the law? When a distinguished citizen attempts by cajoling and threats to prevent the prosecution of alleged violators of this law, it is time for us to wake up. Right now is the time to find out whether Mexico is to be wide open or the law is to be enforced. If it cannot be enforced let's say so and let everybody take the lid off. That's what a few people seem to want. One thing is sure. No law can be enforced until we all try to enforce it. You have no right to say that the local option law cannot be enforced in Mexico until a sure enough attempt is made to enforce it.

THE NEW YORK WORLD, referring to the Wilson Panama Canal Policy

Noting the arrival at New York of the ship Pleiades from San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal, Mr. Hearst's esteemed American says: "The opening of the canal to commerce means that the earning capacity of the Pleiades and vessels of her kind has been doubled. She made the voyage in thirty days, whereas it took her sixty-five to go around the Horn. She can thus make two trips where formerly she made one."

Better than anything else that has been said on the subject, this inadvertent statement of a fact gives a clearer idea of the unmitigated hold-up which was recently attempted on behalf of the coastwise monopoly at Panama. To enable the Pleiades to double its earning capacity the American people have spent nearly $400,000,000.

When Mr. Hearst and others were demanding that our ships be de-headed at the Isthmus and incidentally were insisting that we tear up a treaty, was it their purpose to treble the earnings of the Pleiades at public expense?

THE GAZETTE of McKinney, Texas, editorially says: "Woman's suffrage is coming as inevitably as tomorrow's dawn. It probably will not come to many States as fast as its enthusiastic advocates desire. But the expansion of the suffrage is as inevitable as was the expansion of the restricted manhood suffrage of the colonies. . . . When it (woman's suffrage) finally comes there will be no turning back. Suffrage revolutions never go backward. There will then be no more question of whether woman's suffrage is a success than there is today whether manhood suffrage is wise."

WOULD HAVE OPEN AIR DANCE FLOOR IN THIS CITY

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 30, 1914. Mr. R. M. White & Son. Dear Sirs: I would like to know if we could form a club of 100 members fixing membership at a stated amount and monthly dues, to build a nice dancing room, so arranged as to open to air in summer and closed in winter. I wish also to have tennis courts and croquet and nice walks and promenade. Same to be enclosed and limited to members and persons hearing invitations only. I have four lots I can use and conveniently close to square, (three blocks) also two blocks of new Federal building. Also can arrange days for children to be entertained. This same building and grounds could be used for all large gatherings in your town and other modes of entertainments as desired. Please let me hear from you. Very respectfully, EDWARD TOMLINSON, 6292 Chatham Ave.

THE WAR AS VIEWED BY A MILITARY EXPERT

A military expert in a New York paper says: "That Germany has surrounded the allies is unbelievable, unless some disastrous errors have been committed. It is possible, however, that the Germans occupy three sides of the surrounding square. They are: backing the allies away from Belgium from the North; their move around Lille, if conducted in sufficient force, concerning which we have no particulars, should box the allies in on the west; while the advance from Luxembourg through the gap from captured Longwy to Stenay, forms an eastern wall against the allies' armies. The possibility is that the Germans are soon to arrive before Paris, and when they do, the French field army will reform, and try again the offensive movement in Lorraine between Metz and Strasbourg that recently ended so abruptly. The crucial phase of the war, therefore, may soon take this triple aspect: Paris withstanding a siege; the Anglo-French forces taking the offensive through Lorraine; the Russians moving slowly by Berlin. If Paris holds out by the time the Russians reach Berlin and if Russia then moves southward to meet the Anglo-French operations through Lorraine, the war will not last much longer."

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS VICTORS

The affirmatives came out victorious in the debate at Beaver Dam church Saturday night on the question, Resolved, That Woman Suffrage Should not be Adopted. T. N. Wright and E. H. Dicus represented this side and Levi Winn and William Smith upheld the suffragists' plea. Jack Woolery, Jas. Booth and Chas. Shrovet were the judges. A large crowd was present and all report a good time.

Walter Williams, Dean of the Missouri School of Journalism, Judge William Williams, of Booneville, one of Missouri's leading jurists, and Mrs. Lankin, of Clinton, spent Sunday with Mrs. H. B. Barks, their sister.

Mrs. W. L. Ferguson and little daughter, Genevieve, and little nephew, Norvin Stephenson, of Slater, are visiting relatives in Mexico.

Jake Buckner and Claiborne Jackson spent the week-end in St. Louis, and saw the Cards drop one to Boston Sunday afternoon.

Dr. J. B. Hawkins sold George Kahr 160 acres of land in Southwestern Kansas Monday. A nice suburban home near Oklahoma City was considered in the trade.

ACUTE INDIGESTION

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mr. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers. adv

Stock Notes

Shelbina, Mo., Aug. 28. The $1500 stake was the principal attraction at the fair today. Atrial King, the Houchin entry, was first; Kentucky Best, Miss Louisa Long, second; Easter Cloud, owned by Hiram Greenwell, Lakeman, Mo., third; Johanna Jones, Paul Brown, St. Louis, fourth; Marjorie Fisher, Miss Long, fifth; Majestic McDonald, E. D. Moore, Columbia, sixth; Helen Hickin, Houchin, seventh; Bob McDonald, Buckman Bros., Monroe, eighth; Miss Cliff and Grassland not placed.

The $500 junior harness stake was won by Miss Long's grand steed McDonald; Lee Chief, second; My Idol, 3rd; Robin Arnold, 4th; Polly Ann, 5th. Mark Field, writing the St. Louis Republic under the head of "Missouri Saddle Horse Industry Growing," has among other things nice about Mexico and Andraun county, the following: "Now, respecting the matter of horse shows, Missouri is ahead of all comers. In fact, the showing of saddle horses is really becoming the big end of the saddle-horse industry; and the work of making it so was commenced in St. Louis, at the time that the great St. Louis Fair merged into the World's Fair, and crowned Rex McDonald of Andraun County king of all saddleers. "This event fired the hearts of breeders, exhibitors, and fair managers throughout the State with an unprecedented enthusiasm. The saddle horse had hitherto been put in the background at the county shows, where his awards had always been secondary to those of the trotters; but the cry now was: 'Up with the banner of the saddleers.' The great county of Andraun took up the slogan and the Imperial Business Men's Club of Mexico backed a stake of $1500 for the best saddle horse, mare or gelding to be given at the Mexico Fair in 1913. Subsequently, the management of the State Fair at Sedalia caught the rising spirit, and offered a stake of $2500 for the same class. It paid And now this year Andraun and the State Fair are doing just what they did last year, while Shelby and some other counties are coming up to the mark of Andraun, and there are not very many counties in the State that are offering less than $1000. One of the heaviest rains in years fell in Mexico, Monday morning. In three and a half hours from about 3 o'clock to 6:30, 3.48 inches of rain fell, according to the official measure taken by J. F. Liewellyn. August was a wet month and all the rain we should have gotten in June and July fell in this month. The total rainfall for the month is 8:31 inches. During August it rained 10 days. Fritz Kemper was in Mexico this week and says the chinch bugs are eating up everything in Callaway County except the Democrats. J. T. Johnson shipped in 600 head of Western sheep Wednesday. Henry Galt bought them for him at Omaha, Neb. R. R. Buckner is home from St. Louis where he bought cattle to feed. Mr. Buckner says they are talking wheat in St. Louis. Judge Alex Carter's big silo was filled this week. Jeter Crews, wife and daughter are guests of Fulton relatives. Miss Irene Mays, of this city, is visiting Mrs. E. M. Price at Columbia. The two silos on the Col. Green Clay farm in the west end of the county have been filled. The silos, which were built by Kelly Quisenberry, are hollow tile re-enforced with concrete and hold 180 tons each. They were erected this summer. The rain from Thursday night to Friday noon measured an inch and a quarter. The rain was general all over the county and will be a great aid to the pastures. It's too late to help the corn. J. T. Johnson, who has 538 head of sheep on his place near this city, has been losing many through the deprivations of dogs. A. C. Barnes, who has several hundred head of sheep, reports dogs killing some of them. Montgomery City is going to have a Fair, beginning September 15th, and continuing four days. The late rains should help make it a success. Some dogs got in a bunch of sheep belonging to Col. J. T. Johnson on the northwest part of Mexico and drove some of them into the creek where they were drowned.

WHEN YOU ARE NERVOUS

U. S. GOVERNMENT IS LOOKING AFTER EUROPE'S INTEREST WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. Throughout the world the United States government is today looking after the diplomatic and consular interests of the European powers at war. The State Department's register shows that the United States registers Germany in Russia, Belgium, France, Great Britain, Serbia, Nice, Vancouver, Calcutta, Saigon, Cape Town, South Africa, Hongkong, Singapore, Ceylon, Aden, Arabia, Madras, and Rangoon, India. Austrian interests are in the hands of the United States in Belgium, France, Russia, England, Canada, Ceylon and Capetown. For Great Britain, the United States is acting in Austria, Asia, Samoa, in Berlin, at Warsaw (if captured) at Macoriff, Santo Domingo and Canadian interests in Germany and Austria. The United States is representing France only where Spain is not assuming charge. So far only the French embassies in Vienna and Berlin have been turned over to the American diplomats. Spain is representing Russia throughout Germany. For Japan and Germany the United States will act at Berlin, Tokio and German Asiatic stations. If China is involved, the American friendly offices will be similarly extended.

RAILROAD NOTES

Conductor Rube Markwell has returned to work after a vacation trip to the West. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kehl and family are home from a delightful visit in Denver, Colo. According to a bulletin, local freight trains will not be operated Monday Sept. 7, Labor Day. Engineer Cooper and Fireman Ben Larman left Wednesday for Tex as where they will take a look at the country with a view of investment—Slater News. Trainmen and engineers who have been required to have watches inspected each week are now required to have them inspected only twice a month. This inspection between the first and fifteenth and the sixteenth and last day. The Burlington is equipping thirty of the largest type of freight locomotives with automatic stokers. The management has secured a type of stoker, after many experiments, which is believed to be a success. It has been difficult to keep firemen up on the larger type of engines, and there has been a strong demand for a double crew. If the stoker now being applied proves a success, it is believed that all engines of this company will be supplied.

WHAT EACH HAS TO WIN OR LOSE

The stakes for which the warring nations of Europe are engaged in the mad conflict in which they are now engaged form one of the most interesting phases of the present struggle. Each country has definite ambitions she would realize if she won and different hopes she would lose should she be defeated. The following table, taken from the current issue of the National Tribune, shows clearly what each nation is battling for:

GERMANY. If Germany wins she will gain— 1. World supremacy in war, politics and commerce. 2. Crippling of her two chief rivals—France and Great Britain. 3. Some desirable provinces in Belgium, if not all of Belgium. 4. Probably Russian Poland and the Russian Baltic provinces, including Finland. This would round out her eastern border very completely. If Germany is defeated she will lose— 1. Equality with Great Britain and France in the world's politics and markets. 2. All her colonies and foreign commercial stations, upon which she has expended such an immensity of money and effort. 3. Alsace and Lorraine, which will be retaken by France. 4. Probably the Rhine provinces, which Belgium will demand as a war indemnity for having been invaded.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

If Austria-Hungary wins she will gain— 1. A commanding position in southeastern Europe in the Balkans and in Asia Minor. 2. Domination over Russia as a leader of the Slavs. 3. Control of the Adriatic and Aegean seas. 4. A commercial highway from Vienna directly into the great markets of Asia Minor. 5. The annexation of Serbia, Montenegro and possibly other states. If Austria-Hungary is defeated she will lose— 1. All thought of "Pressing Eastward"—her national policy. 2. All control of the Adriatic sea. 3. The Provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina. 4. Her prestige over Bohemia and the other Slav provinces, which have more than half her people. 5. Probable disintegration of the Empire-Kingdom.

GREAT BRITAIN

If Great Britain wins she will gain— 1. Riddance of an aggressive and troublesome continental neighbor. 2. Part of the German Colonies in Africa and strongholds in the East. 3. Part of the German possessions in Africa and China. 4. Political ascendancy in Europe. 5. Crippling of an injurious commercial rival. 6. Sweet revenge. If Russia wins she will gain— 1. Prestige loss in the Japanese war. 2. A better chance to regain Korea, Manchuria and Port Arthur. 3. Domination in the Balkan peninsula, including Constantinople, the Adriatic and Aegean seas. 4. Domination in the Asia Minor trade. 5. Vastly increased prestige as a leader of the Slavs. If Russia is defeated she will lose— 1. Hopes of Constantinople. 2. Hopes of an outlet on the Adriatic and the Aegean. 3. Prestige of leadership of the Slavs.

JAPAN

If Japan wins she will gain— 1. Vastly increased prestige in Far East. 2. Political ascendancy in Far East. 3. A greater trade dominance.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Manager Roy S. Smith of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauque just closed in our midst, gave his reasons freely for believing in Equal Suffrage. Here is one: He knew a woman left a widow in early married life with a large estate to administer. She developed wonderful business tactics and was recognized as an unusual organizer of work and very successful but to be successful she worked early and late. She had a nephew to support. He was idle, selfish and dissipated, of course. When voting-time came, this profligate, sponge-of-a-man cast his vote while his aunt who supported him and who was alert to the laws needed and beneficial to suffering humanity could but wait for the returns and wish for her chance to be recognized as a human being.

It was a strenuous ordeal to sit through the heat at Saturday's lecture and to know one must think while listening, but the women felt strengthened when Senator Cannon recognized the good they will do if enfranchised. If there is a man unconverted to woman suffrage after hearing Senator Cannon's exposition of the Mormon question we can but ascribe his lack of faith in our cause to a stubborn, perverse mind which will not see. The kindly, good-natured man of 60 years, who so simply yet so powerfully pleaded with his hearers to rear the youth in the way that he should go that in their old age they should not depart from it, so won our hearts that nearly every man, woman and child in the vast tent vied with one another in grasping his words of love, sympathy and kindly advice. But when he said he expounded Suffrage and did not feel that he had to apologize for it we feel that he had stepped a little higher up than most of our men. He is a man of rare gifts and the women are honored since he honors them so unreservedly. And again, we were told by Mr. Rawley that in far off New Zealand, that people but 60 years distant from savagery had been enjoying the benefits of Equal Suffrage for 22 years. Woman's sphere of the home circle had but widened with the progress of time until it had included the activities of public affairs as far as casting her vote. In a land where multi-millionaires are at a discount, woman is at a premium and the process of Equal Suffrage in the land of the Pacific is seen a part of history. Ex-Gov. Buchtel of Colorado assured us that although the women of his family vote, there is no division nor division. They discuss the merits of the candidates and vote independently. Over The Telephone— Mrs. Mary MacVeigh: "Men pay taxes than men and I just that women should be able to vote." Mrs. E. V. Boone: "I certainly believe women should have the right to vote. They can each decide for themselves." Mrs. P. P. MacVeigh: "I believe in Equal Suffrage, but men are as interested in legislation as the women are."

Miss Carolyn MacVeigh: "I have just to give women the ballot. Women control finance to a large extent and are benefited or harmed by it as the case may be." Mrs. Price Johnson: "If women work quietly, modestly and dignifiedly in the home, they will influence men to give them the ballot. Men will work great good in the world when they can vote, and an hearty in favor of Equal Suffrage." Mrs. R. E. Race: "I am convinced of the case of Equal Suffrage. For a time I was doubtful but I am sure women are entitled to the same rights in voting that the men have."

Mrs. J. M. Lawrence: "I am sure we have the ballot. The present world will be consummated. The present world is Europe in falling into the hands of the women. They suffer, they grieve and yet they must own the right that food may be had for the people."

Any woman interested in Equal Suffrage, whether a resident of Mexico, or Andraun county is expected to strengthen the work in the Suffrage columns in this paper by phoning in or sending a line to 609 South City Avenue, or of calling in person at the earliest opportunity. The testimony is needed and is of importance to the cause.
