Next Tuesday the first of the six regional conventions mentioned above will be held in St. Louis. Ross Martin, manager of the Rock Spring Dairy, is planning to meet with the dairymen from this section of the state at that time. He has planned this local picnic in order that the dairymen of this community may meet and work out some of the enthusiasm and principles of better dairy husbandry, evident in the larger conventions. To assist in this work it is very fortunate that the services of Mr. Bennett have been secured.

This picnic is for everyone who is in any way interested in dairying. This will include practically every farmer within a radius of twelve miles of Mexico. In order to know just how far some of our progressive farmers have advanced in dairying and to get an idea of the possibilities of this business every farmer should come with a full dinner basket, his whole family and all the problems that puzzle him relating to dairying.

DAIRY PICNIC HELD HERE ON JULY 20

The Missouri State Dairymen's Association has planned for a series of six regional conventions to be held in different parts of the State. As has been the work of this association for the past 25 years, so these meetings are planned to forward the interests of the producers of milk. But the especial purpose of the work this year is to forward important legislation that is pending in the National Congress. This is vital to the best development of the dairy industry.

The man who is doing the most work along the lines pursued by the dairy men's association is Mr. E. G. Bennett, of Carthage, Mo. He is President of this association and also the State Dairy Commissioner. Some years ago Mr. Bennett was in Mexico and assisted the local dairymen in formulating an organization. His work at that time was much appreciated and all who heard him remember him as being a man who knows the business of dairy farming.

Again Mr. Bennett has agreed to come to Mexico in the interests of more and better dairying. The Rock Spring Dairy has arranged for a big all day picnic for its many patrons and friends at the Walker Pollock farm for July 20, which is Thursday, only two weeks from yesterday. Already fully twenty-five families have agreed to be present at this picnic and they include most of the farmers who are interested in the breeding of milk cows and the production of pure milk. It is to meet with and address this Dairy Farmer's Picnic at the Pollock farm that Mr. Bennett will again come before the farmers of Audrain.

Next Tuesday the first of the six regional conventions mentioned above will be held in St. Louis. Ross Martin, manager of the Rock Spring Dairy, is planning to meet with the dairymen from this section of the state at that time. MEXICO BOY PREPARING TO LEAVE FOR FRONT

The following letter from a Mexico boy, son of Meredith Armstead, of this city, will be of much interest as it gives an intimate view into the personnel of the Oklahoma National Guard of which he is a member: FORT SILL, Okla., July 1. — Dear Folks: As you see by the heading I am at Ft. Sill, instead of at Chandler. The entire Oklahoma National Guard is mobilized here and we are some bunch. About 1,500 enlisted men. We have about 115 men in our company and are commanded by the best captain in the entire regiment, Captain Alvin J. Niles. Nearly all the officers say that he will be commanding the regiment before we get back from Mexico. We are camped at the old fort as there wasn't room in the new one which is about one mile away and from which the regulars left for the border yesterday. We have been here nearly a week now. You can see from where we are camped the guard house where Cronim was kept prisoner. They have the mess kit that he ate iron with there. It has been here for the last 3 or 4 days. But it's not a beginning to what it will be on the border. So we don't complain. We hear it rumored that we are to be entrained for San Antonio next week so that we will be closer in case of need. But we all hope that it will be sooner than that. We have all nationalities in this company—English, French, German, Scotch and Indians. My bunkie is a full blood Kiowa, of which there are only a few left. As it is nearly mess time I will have to close. Hoping that all are well. I am, your loving son, Private J. E. Armstead, Co. C. 1st Okla. Inf. Ft. Sill, Okla.

ELKS' MONEY STOLEN. A thief or thieves broke into Fred Morris' Grocery Store on Thursday night and took $7.00 which belonged to the Elks' fund. Mr. Morris had taken in this money from a sale of dolls and had laid it away in a chewing gum box. No other money was taken and no groceries could be missed. The thief broke in through the screen door in the rear of the building. This is the second time in 2 months that Mr. Morris' store has been robbed.

F. A. Morris and Dr. H. I. Turley, representing the tennis experts of the Mexico Elks, met the C. O. B. S. team of Montgomery City, on the latter's court Sunday afternoon and won by a score of 3 to 2. Dick Apple and Torbett represented Montgomery City. Quite a number motored down from this city and were in the gallery to witness the locals win.

The C. O. B. S. which is an exclusive social club of that city, made arrangements with Mr. Morris for a base ball game between their nine and that of the Mexico Elks for a week from Wednesday. They intend selling tickets in advance and having the stores of that city close during the match. The proceeds will be divided 50 - 50 with the Elks and the locals will apply their share to the charity fund.

In the evening the C. O. B. S. will give a reception to the visitors. They desire to make the event a big social one and quite a number will go from here in machines to enjoy the far-famed hospitality of this splendid organization.

Washington, July 10. — The sub-sea liner Deutschland is not an armed ship, is reported to Secretary Lansing by investigators for the U. S. Government.

The long predicted arrival of the German sub-sea liner, Deutschland, occurred Sunday in Chesapeake Bay, and the vessel intends docking at Baltimore. W. W. Fry, Jr., of this city, is attending the National Elks' Convention in Baltimore and no doubt will see this wonderful craft before he returns home. The submarine is 215 feet long and completed the 3,500 miles voyage in good condition. It ran under - sea for a distance of 1,800 miles and at one time the Allies chased it for thirty hours. She is the largest submarine afloat. The largest German war models are less than 300 feet long. But this submarine of commerce is 315 feet long, exactly one-third the length of the largest merchant vessel afloat — the Vaterland and the Imperator. The boat carries no passengers. Her cargo consists entirely of dye-stuffs — a thousand tons of them. This keeps her very low in the water when riding on the surface. Her draft when she was sighted was 17 feet, and it was largely because of her depth that she did not try to come nearer land when submerged. The arrival of the Deutschland will confront the officials of the State Department with a new question of international law. Heretofore all submarines have been war vessels, but the Deutschland is the first instance of a submarine claiming the character of a merchant vessel. Whether she is a war vessel or a merchant vessel will be determined as a result of careful investigation of her structure. If she is armed with guns of small calibre for defensive purposes, according to officials of the State Department, she will be in the same class as Italian liners which have visited American ports in the last few months. The presence of small guns mounted on the stern of a merchant vessel has heretofore in the opinion of the State Department not affected her status as a merchant vessel.

NO INFANTILE PARALYSIS CAN BE FOUND HERE So far as is known Mexico is free from any cases of infantile paralysis, though the report comes from Moberly that Dr. S. T. Towles, county health physician, says there are two cases in that city and every measure possible is being taken to keep the disease from spreading. There were nineteen more deaths in New York Sunday and eighty-eight new cases. St. Louis is taking extra precautions to guard against the introduction of cases by having children examined when they arrive at the Union Station. New York feels somewhat encouraged over the prospect and believes the dreaded disease will be partially halted in its march within a few days. Everything is being done to clean the city up and make it as near 100 per cent sanitary as is possible. Taking Big Chances. It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as these preparations cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should be prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.

The presence of small guns mounted on the stern of a merchant vessel has heretofore in the opinion of the State Department not affected her status as a merchant vessel.

The long predicted arrival of the German sub-sea liner, Deutschland, occurred Sunday in Chesapeake Bay, and the vessel intends docking at Baltimore. W. W. Fry, Jr., of this city, is attending the National Elks' Convention in Baltimore and no doubt will see this wonderful craft before he returns home. The submarine is 215 feet long and completed the 3,500 miles voyage in good condition. It ran under - sea for a distance of 1,800 miles and at one time the Allies chased it for thirty hours. She is the largest submarine afloat. The largest German war models are less than 300 feet long. But this submarine of commerce is 315 feet long, exactly one-third the length of the largest merchant vessel afloat — the Vaterland and the Imperator. The boat carries no passengers. Her cargo consists entirely of dye-stuffs — a thousand tons of them. This keeps her very low in the water when riding on the surface. Her draft when she was sighted was 17 feet, and it was largely because of her depth that she did not try to come nearer land when submerged. The arrival of the Deutschland will confront the officials of the State Department with a new question of international law. Heretofore all submarines have been war vessels, but the Deutschland is the first instance of a submarine claiming the character of a merchant vessel. Whether she is a war vessel or a merchant vessel will be determined as a result of careful investigation of her structure. If she is armed with guns of small calibre for defensive purposes, according to officials of the State Department, she will be in the same class as Italian liners which have visited American ports in the last few months.
