Hitching Posts and Mounting Blocks Now Things of the Past

What is the most obsolete thing you can think of? Hoop skirts, lace mitts and the waltz seem positively fashionable to most of us when compared to the hitching post and mounting block. No longer do dainty girls in long skirted riding habits mount their horses from stone mounting blocks or aided by gallant young men in frock coats and high hats climb into shining carriages.

No the day of the hitch rack is gone. This change is probably noticed no place more than in Mexico. Year ago ago almost every store had some sort of a mounting block and large rings were fastened in the sidewalks where horses could be tied while purchases were made within. These have practically all disappeared now, the mounting block in front of Lewis Moore's being practically the only one left.

Years ago there was fence around the court house lawn and a hitch rack made of posts and a chain outside of that. This rack was such a landmark that when it was suggested that it be removed a number of citizens protested vigorously. However the fence was removed and part of the chain is now used at the hitch rack on Washington Street which is the only one in Mexico.

It used to be when a farm implement was worn out or there was a wreck on the railroad, many a discarded piece of iron later found a place on the end of a piece of rope and was used as an anchor for old Dobbin. But this is now a thing of the past and even to small boys a piece of iron is just a piece of iron with no possibilities for future service.

Horse lovers all over the country are insisting that the day of the horse is not passed but that soon he will come into his own again. This is probably true in a limited sense but it is more than likely that rows of dusty cars will be seen around the Audrain County Court House on Saturday nights for some years to come and the ornamental hitching post and mounting block will take their places in the list almost forgotten things along with the crayon portrait and wreath of wax flowers.

THE TEACHER HAS HER TROUBLES TOO-- JUST ANSWER THESE

The small boy or girl imagines the school teacher's troubles are ended when school closes as is the case with the pupil but most of these must become students themselves in the summer months and many must take examinations that are just as difficult for teachers as the questions teacher asks are difficult for the student.

The following are the questions County Superintendent of Schools, Ed C. Offutt gave in his county examinations held June 2 and 3, in Geography and Language:

- GEOGRAPHY
1. Define longitude and latitude and explain the uses of each.
 2. Locate the following: West India Islands, Hawaii, The Hague, Greenland and Philippine Islands.
 3. Give five advantages showing that Missouri has superior opportunities for developing a progressive civilization.
 4. Show how commerce, the variety of climate and the different productions of the countries of the world have a tendency to unite the interests and spirit of all people.
 5. Give a full explanation showing the effect of location on the occupations of people.
 6. Locate the following rivers and tell into what waters they empty: Yukon, Columbia, Volga, Rhine and Amazon.
 7. Give the cause of rain and fully explain the uses of the work of the weather bureau.
 8. Name the capital cities of the states that border on the Atlantic ocean and the Pacific ocean.
 9. Name three island possessions of the United States and give the main products of each.
 10. Name a locality noted for seals, for fisheries, for diamond production, for rice growing, for lumber.

LANGUAGE

1. Show how you would combine language and reading in the fourth grade.
2. How will you correct errors of speech used by your children on the playground?
3. Write five short sentences illustrating common errors of children, then write each as it should be.
4. Quote one selection suitable for grade work; tell in which grade you would use it and why.
5. Punctuate the following sentences:
 - (a) As Caesar loved me I weep for him as he was fortunate I rejoice at it as he was valiant I honor him but as he was ambitious I slew him.
 - (b) We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights that among these are life liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

DEMOCRATIC JUDGES OF CALLAWAY COUNTY WILL BE INSTRUCTED

The Democratic County Committee will take steps to prevent members of the Republican party from voting the Democratic ticket in the August primary it was learned Wednesday. These steps are to be taken, it was said, for it is known that a large number of Republicans will call for the Democratic ticket when they go to the polls. A member of the committee said that judge would be instructed to challenge every voter of the Democratic ticket if there was the slightest doubt as to his party affiliations.

WORK ON 1922 TAX BOOKS IS ALMOST FINISHED

Work on the Audrain County tax books for the year 1922 will be completed in about two weeks, according to Miss Mabel Grafford, deputy county clerk. Miss Grafford has been working on the books since February and will complete them fully a month earlier than last year. This is the first year that the loose-leaf system has been used and the use of the typewriter and adding machine makes it possible to do the work in a much shorter time. The work consists of adding the assessors books, making an abstract to the State, copying the books and extending the taxes.

A certain number of pages of the books are completed each day and are then rechecked to make sure that no mistakes have been made. The land book is the larger of the two volumes as the name of a man appears as many times as he has pieces of property and names are placed on the books only once for personal property. The land book has 12,240 names and the personal property book 11,754.
