Recent experimental tests on alfalfa conducted by the Iowa experiment station give results of great importance to Missouri farmers and ranchmen. The bulletin issued by the station summarizes as follows: "1-It yields from two to three times as much as clover and timothy, and is a more valuable hay. 2-It is rich in protein. 3-For hog pasture it has no equal. 4-It is superior to any other crop for enriching the soil. 5-Alfalfa fed with corn will make the most economical gains."

S. A. Hazeltine, the big orchardist of Springfield, says the apple crop of the present year has been grossly over-estimated, to the great detriment of apple-growers, who are receiving too little for their fruit, the price being "hoaxed" by this erroneous estimate.

An electric line has been proposed from Springfield to Nevada, to be operated by power furnished by Sac river. It is said that bonds to the amount of $3,500,000 have been sold in London, England, the proceeds of which are to be used in the construction of this line.

A Campaign Canard Exploded.

The publication in a Cape Girardeau county newspaper to the effect that the Republican nominee for railroad and warehouse commissioner, E. W. Flentge, of that county, did not make a satisfactory settlement with the county court of Cape Girardeau county when he was collector of that county, has been proven entirely erroneous.

According to a sworn statement made by the members of the county court at that time, Mr. Flentge not only stands exonerated of any effort to withhold money that belonged to the county, but in addition is out of pocket some $800.

The statement of the members of the county court goes to show that Mr. Flentge, as collector, turned in receipts for road taxes that had been worked out to the amount of some $600. These person's names did not appear upon the tax books, and, accordingly, the court did not allow the credit. In order to settle the matter, although he disagreed with the court, Mr. Flentge, to make his books balance, paid the money out of his own pocket.—St. Louis Republic, August 1, 1906.

The Tariff as an Issue.

In trying to encourage the notion that the tariff is to be the vital issue in the congress campaign this year. Democratic leaders and newspapers show a singular blindness to political signs and tendencies. Issues cannot be created out of hand. They must represent some actual clash of opinion and must be the outgrowth of a genuine state of war between the two parties. It can hardly be said that the tariff policy constitutes today a distinct line of cleavage between the two political organizations. Fourteen years ago the Democratic party won a great national victory on a low tariff platform. It attempted to translate that platform into legislation, and was driven out of power by a record breaking majority. The south, long committed to free-trade, had used the northern Democracy as an instrument to overthrow the protective system. But the country's eyes were opened by its experience with the tariff linker who framed the Wilson-Gorman act, and the unprecedented prosperity in trade and industry which followed the passage of the Dingley law in 1897 has pretty thoroughly convinced the voters that, although mistakes in detail may easily be made and may work injustice and discrimination, the protective system has, on the whole, been vindicated as a sound and helpful feature of national policy.—New York "Tribune."

The Age of Concrete.

Appropos of the wonderful growth of concrete construction, comes the story that entire houses molded in a single casting out of solid concrete, which will provide homes for workmen at a cost of from $500 to $600 is the goal which Thomas A. Edison is striving to reach. He is confident of success. Combined with economy of construction and maintenance the inventor aims to embody architectural beauty and practical indestructibility.

Mr. Edison intends to make his first practical experiments next year in his new village in Warren county, N. J. One of the big Edison industrial establishments is situated there and he purposes to erect the homes by the new process for the families of the hundreds of employes of the plant. If he succeeds in demonstrating the practicability of the scheme he will introduce it generally.

He already has conceived every detail of the project. Four days at the outside is the period Edison estimates will be necessary to cast and turn out whole houses with from eight to ten rooms each, complete in almost every detail and ready to be furnished and carpeted. The actual time for pumping the concrete into the metallic molds will be only a few hours, and the rest of the time will be consumed in drying out and hardening. Whole cities of concrete may be reared in the brief period of four days if only enough molds and men are provided.

Mr. Edison thinks that the time is near when the world must find some substitute for brick and lumber. The yellow pine forests of the United States will be destroyed within fifty years if the present drain upon them is maintained.

Describing the plan in detail Edison said:

"The first step will be to employ an architect to design, say, a dozen dwelling houses of different patterns. I purpose to have metallic molds made to correspond. The mold for each house will be made in detachable parts. There will be separate plates and small molds that can be screwed together easily to form one mold for an entire house. That a fine finish may be obtained, the inside surface of the parts will be nickel plated.

"After the mold for the whole house is set up it will be a simple matter to pump the concrete into every nook and cranny. After four days the parts of the mold will be unscrewed and taken off and the solid concrete house will remain."

Edison says the plan will be carried out in such detail that dormer windows, chimneys, spouts, and ornamental designs will be molded with the whole and that inside cupboards, fire-places, stairways with ornamental banisters, mantel pieces, and even bath tubs will be formed in the cast in which the house proper will be made.

The house will be so complete that when the mold is removed the installation of electric wires, window sashes, etc., will be all that will be necessary before the furnishers and carpet layers may go to work. Even the plumbing and gas piping will be of concrete and molded in the original cast.

As a practical demonstration of what may be accomplished by the process Edison has built a complete chicken house in his back yard, molded in one solid piece out of concrete. It has many compartments and doorways and decorated corners of intricate design.

The original cost of each mold, with all its component parts the inventor estimates at $25,000. From each mold, however, he says an unlimited number of houses may be produced. Because the parts of the mold are to be detachable it will be portable and one mold may be sent with little difficulty from town to town. About ninety houses could be built in one year by the use of a single mold, at a cost of from $500 to $600 apiece.

An unique event in public assemblies will be the good roads convention to be held in Chillicothe, this state, September 3-8. The manager is a practical farmer who has given much attention to the question of good roads, and one feature of the convention will be the actual building of several miles of roads by different processes and by the use of different machines. The convention will be of great educational value along a line in which education is greatly needed.

Bigger and Better.

The Springfield District fair opens August 27 and continues a week. The displays will be bigger and better than ever before. The fruit show will be the best ever. The poultry show promises to be great. A race meeting surpassing all previous meets is expected. Entries and applications for space assure all this. The entries cover the whole scope of the catalogue, and the entire force in the Secretary Bigbee's office is kept busy early and late making entries. If you are interested write for catalogues.

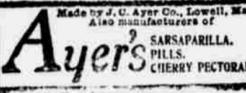

The first undertaking of the business men's league of St. Joseph is the building of a $300,000 hotel.

The priests of Pallas carnival at Kansas City will open October 1st and occupy a full week.

Win the Hair Falls

Then it's time to act! No time to study, to read, to experiment! You want to save your hair, and save it quickly, too! So make up your mind this very minute that if your hair ever comes out you will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the scalp healthy. The hair stays in. It cannot do anything else. It's nature's way.
