

Forsyth

FORSYTH, the county seat of Taney county, is a beautiful and centrally located at the junction of the sparkling waters of the Swan with the swift and crystal current of beautiful White river.

The great Presbyterian church is now building here its college for southwestern Missouri and northwestern Arkansas, making of Forsyth a prominent college town.

We have a good graded school, a real stone chapel open to all churches, a well supported union Sunday school, daily mails from all directions—in short, more advantages than many a more populous and wealthy community.

Well equipped mail and back lines, with headquarters here, give daily connection with the Prisons, at Chadwick and the White River line of the Missouri Pacific, at Branson.

Most lines of business are represented, including general merchandise, drugs, millinery, hotels, livery, lumber, meat market, undertaking, printing, painting, mulling, blacksmithing, carpentry, etc.

We need a resident dentist, a furniture store, a hardware store, a wood-working factory to utilize our native woods, and various other enterprises can find or make good openings.

Editor Republican:

I am deeply interested in the welfare of "Old Taney." I call her old, not because age has placed his mark upon her or decrepitude emanated her beauty, but because she is old in good works; old when estimated by the number of her children; old when we consider that her hills were the first on the face of the earth to greet the coming of the rising sun.

Every man in Taney county and every boy over fourteen years old should cut the lower limbs off of at least fifty trees each year. In two years Taney county will be a park.

Every householder in Taney county should advertise in the city papers for summer boarders. Try the Michigan plan. Let the advertisement read, Fishing line, scenery grand, air pure. Tents to sleep in. Terms five per week. That will bring the rich people to the county. They will do the mining. You will get the cream, which is the royalty. When I get time I must give you my idea of the fruit industry in "New Taney."

No spot on earth offers a better field for the cultivation of the aesthetic faculty than the hills of Taney. I visited the schools of Kirbyville some time since, and saw the pupils filled with emotion as they recited on the forces that reared the Alps and Himalayas, and as their studies carried them along the banks of the Rhine or down by the Po, and into Italy, there was a deep and quiet pleasure. In that pleasant hour they forgot the beauties of their own country. Mighty, rock-ribbed Taney, 'tis of thee we speak; Thy matchless peaks, fertile valleys and winding streams find no rival on the continent of the Caesars and Napoleons.

Though a Wordsworth, a Ruskin and a Tennyson have immortalized their names by their poetic descriptions of European scenery, yet among the hills of Taney county where the poet's foot never rested and enchanted eye never gazed, are countless Alps and Rhines and Italies. Unseen by artists, unsung by poets, unknown to the world—the knobs of Old Taney present more gorgeous sunsets and skies more gloriously golden than human imagination ever painted. Here's to the people of Taney who live in a land of beauty. All they need is the summer boarder.

Truly yours, Walter B. Saylor.

The band boys have received a lot of new music, of higher grade than they had heretofore been playing, and sounds resembling somewhat a concert performance of Sousa's great aggregation are heard emanating from their room on the semi-weekly practice nights.

Judge Trammell took time enough from court last Friday to come over to the Republican office and order the paper sent to his brother, J. S. Trammell, at Prague, Oklahoma. The Judge's three sons, Sam, Henry and Floyd, are already at Prague, having driven through a couple of weeks ago. J. S. started the first of the week. He will make a crop in Oklahoma this year, and base his future actions as to change of residence on the result.

Since his unsuccessful efforts to reach Forsyth with the Mosk on the occasion of the Woodmen banquet, Captain Trammell has made material changes in the vessel which he thinks will insure its successful operation. On a brief trip made last Thursday, following the completion of these changes, the Brannon Echo says: "Capt. Trammell made a successful trip on the river and returned Thursday with his new boat, the Mosk. The boat came up over the shoals in fine shape, and is surely a success."

Chin Music.

S. W. Boswell started for Springfield Wednesday morning.

J. W. Reese, of Heidelberg, passed through town Thursday afternoon of last week.

Marshal Hunter, of Dickens, joined the parade on the streets of the county seat Saturday.

Jim Thomason and family, of Brown Branch, are here visiting with his brother-in-law, B. F. Hall.

John Tuttle, of Cedar Creek, was attending to business around the court house Thursday of last week.

Editor F. A. Forbes, of the Echo, is slightly delirious over the arrival at his home on the 3rd instant of a junior editor.

J. A. Thornton, of Webb City, was here last week to look after interests, and was an appreciated caller at this office.

John T. Dickenson, Judge of probate will be in his office at Forsyth every Saturday to attend to any business in vacation.

Uncle Alce Kiscoe, of Kiscoe Mills, came into the office and soaked up some of our surplus heat last Thursday afternoon.

C. C. Stiffler, of Springfield, who is visiting G. W. Stiffler, his father, was a caller at this office Friday afternoon of last week.

J. W. Edley, of Rueter, was taking in county seat sights Saturday, including a pleasant call at the Republican office.

Ernest Vanzant returned Sunday from Branson, where he had been running the Melton barber shop during the past week.

Dr. Pierce made his first appearance on the street in his tussle with the pneumonia the last of the week, and is looking well.

R. G. Cupp, of Day, was a business visitor to the county capital Thursday of last week, and made a pleasant call at the Republican office.

Oliver Ingenthron was in town for the first time since his recent attack of pneumonia on Friday, and a pleasant caller at the truth shop.

Col. A. S. Prather was down from Taneyville Saturday morning, and lightened up the gloom of the print shop with a short visit.

Misses Bessie Williams and Marian Wesson went to Ozark Saturday evening for a visit with the home folks, returning Monday. N. D. Boles went along to drive the back for them.

For Sale—Black Jack and two Jennys for $375. Have gone into running factory, and will sell or trade above for cattle. Jenny in foal. W. A. Parkwood, Marshfield, Missouri.

Some of the guests at the Adams hotel on the hill side have been engaged in throwing a goodly lot of gravel in the mud hole on the south side of the square the past week, under the direction of Jerry Franklin.

The following was handed in for publication last week, but was mislaid. It will still probably be of interest to our readers: Elders Stafford and Scaton have gone to Oklahoma, near Prague, and are holding a holiness meeting at J. B. Hammond's place.

Charles P. Boyd, who is teaching at Mountain Grove, District 33, was in town Saturday morning and a caller at the Republican office. He reports that they had a box supper at the school on the night of the 25th of January, the receipts of which were $25.42 and says all had a fine time. The proceeds of the supper have been devoted to buying books for the school library.

The manner in which delinquents have come to the front with cash in order to be retained on the Republican's subscription list under the recent rulings of the postoffice department is very gratifying to the publishers of this paper, but there is still room for gratification of the same sort in connection with a few others, whose bashfulness, no doubt, has made them backward about coming forward.

James McCall and family, of Louisa county, Iowa, came here some weeks ago, and are now on the Al Morris farm east of town, where Mr. McCall will farm this season. The family came here to escape the Iowa winters, in which effect Mr. McCall thinks he has been successful. He informs us that since his arrival here letters from home tell him that there has been lots of ice in the Mississippi river this season. Mr. McCall was in town and a visitor of the Republican's last Thursday.

The absence of Jno. T.'s local Ads may cause some little surprise, but they have been in a long time, and every body knows what he has for sale and that he is noted for keeping the best Stock of General Merchandise and the largest and most varied stock of Hardware in the County, in fact every thing that every body wants from a Needle to an Anchor, from a Wheelbarrow to a Steam Boat. He is also noted for his Business Integrity and Low Prices. Call and see his Stock. You can save money by trading with him. His motto is "Live & Let Live."

A. L. Kelly, of Pedrow, was at Forsyth Thursday of last week, in company with his brother-in-law, V. H. Webb, of Princeton, Illinois, who is here on a visit. Both gentlemen were appreciated callers at the truth foundry. Mr. Kelly bought the David Wilson farm near Pedrow about a year ago, and says that he is not yet giving any opinion of Taney, as he gave himself two years in which to make up his mind on the country before he came down. We judge, however, that he has not been saying anything derogatory of Taney's merits, as he says his brother-in-law is so favorably impressed that he is tempted to remain here.

C. A. Beach, of Seward county, Nebraska, came down Sunday night for the purpose of looking into the title of a piece of land for which he had contracted on his previous visit to this place some time ago. The title appears to be rather defective, but we hope matters will be finally straightened out. Mr. Beach announces his intention of coming to this country to live provided matters can be satisfactorily arranged.

Forsyth has a new store. The People's Clothing Co., represented by B. E. Crain, manager, permanent address unknown, at Forsyth for one week only, advertises by circular that they are disposing of a stock of "pawabrokers' sanitary clothing" at prices heretofore unheard of. We have not seen any of the boys blossoming out in new outfits, however, despite the inducements offered.

E. H. Stewart, the cedar mill man, has two rafts in the river here waiting for water, which is now at a stage too low for safety. The rafts are considerably larger than any which have preceded them, the two containing about 7,300 stacks of timber.

M. E. Bird, the surveyor, came down from Dickens Monday, and, in company with A. J. Brazel, went out in the neighborhood of the King Solomon mine to do some surveying.

A. J. West, of Port Huron, Michigan, arrived Tuesday night for a look over the country and a visit with friends, of whom he has a goodly number here.

Bob McMann is building a combination book case and desk for the office of the circuit clerk which will add greatly to the convenience of the office.

Tuesday night gave us a good rain, though not enough of it to please some who want to see the river rise. It brought the river up only a few inches.

Wills Yandell and Will Fisher were transacting business at the metropolis Tuesday, and both were callers at this item factory.

FOR SALE—One good small horse, one wagon, and one Number One milk cow. Inquire at this office. Will be sold cheap.

Frank Davidson and Squire Thomas came over from Kiscoe Mills to take in county seat sights yesterday.

Rev. Benthie, who has been sick for about two weeks, is considerably improved, and able to sit up.

Mrs. Bart Brass has been visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Stratton, at Miney.

Messes. B. J. Butler and J. W. Middleton, of Taneyville, were circulating on our streets yesterday.

Vanzant guarantees his barber work to please—satisfaction or your whiskers refunded is his motto.

Electric Cooking. Electric cooking may be the rule in the modern kitchen should the experiments now being made prove of practical value. A new type of electric furnace has been invented and so improved that it can now be used for cooking. The heat can be regulated to within less than one degree and maintained indefinitely.

Makes Nest Lightning Proof. The humming bird in Australia, no less than man, protects its habitation with a lightning rod. The humming bird before a devastating thunder-storm bursts prudently covers the outside of its little nest with cobweb. Silk is a non-conductor of electricity, and since cobweb is silk the humming bird's nest is thereby rendered lightning proof.

For the Strictly Temperate. If there is an objection to using beer or ale in cooking, Welsh rabbit try adding tomato juice in the same way. The acid cuts the cheese taste to which some people object.

Terrier Survived Privation. In England a sky-terrier was found on a projecting ledge half way down a well three weeks after it was lost. It was very thin, but eventually recovered.

WANTED—A few improved farms to be had with us for sale.

Ira Barber Killed. Ira Barber was fatally injured at his saw mill south of Cedar Creek, on Piney, at about noon Friday of last week. There were no eye witnesses to the accident, but the particulars, as closely as could be ascertained by looking over the ground, were as follows: The boy who was off bearing was in the pit shoveling saw-dust. The log on the carriage had been squared, and one plank had been taken off. It is supposed that the plank, a ten-inch boxing ten feet long, did not fall right to allow the next cut to be made, and Mr. Barber is supposed to have shoved it aside with his foot, causing it to strike the saw. The board was hurled around to the front of the rig, and hit him over the right eye, making a deep wound, entirely through the skull, and exposing and shattering the front of the brain. Brain substance was scattered over the ground. Mr. Barber was taken to a nearby house, where he lived until about ten o'clock the next morning, Saturday, without recovering consciousness.

Dr. Pierce & Huston were called at once, and did all they could for the unfortunate man. Dr. Pierce stayed with him until the time of his death the next day.

The funeral was held Sunday at the Brown school house, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of whom fifty were present in uniform from the Branson, Taneyville and Kiscoe Mills lodges. C. H. Groom, J. H. Blankenship, Joe McKeight and A. J. Brazel were in attendance from this place.

Simple Remedy for La Grippe. La Grippe coughs are dangerous as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes.

Bean Dinner at Kirbyville. At a regular meeting of Thos. Welch Post No. 533 G. A. R. it was voted unanimously to hold a bean dinner on the 22nd of February, Washington's Birthday, and to reorganize the camp of Sons of Veterans at this place. Everyone is invited to come and bring a few tomatoes to grow with the beans. Bring the women and children. This is notice to all Sons of Veterans and grandsons who wish to organize to perpetuate the heroic deeds of your daddies.

May Be Future for Italy. Vegetarianism is being encouraged in Italy with a view to accelerating the time when that country will be the market garden of Europe.

Licensed to Wed. The following marriage licenses were issued by the county recorder for week ending February 12, 1908: J. W. Gilmore and Sarah E. Keithley, both of Kiscoe Mills; Lester J. Snell and Cora Ingram, both of Dickens.

The Sick. Dr. Mitchell reports the following cases under his care: George Edmonds, who has been sick for some time, convalescent and sitting up. Unless an unforeseen setback takes place, he will soon be around again.

Mrs. Waddle, of Walnut Shade, who has had pneumonia, is very nearly well.

George McCall, who has been very critically ill with pneumonia, but is progressing toward recovery.

Aunt Nell Hammond, who has been sick for some time with grip, complicated with pleurisy, is settling up. She suffered a relapse which protracted her illness somewhat, but has recovered from it.

Mrs. Frank Nuss, who lives up on Swan, has been confined to her bed for a month by a bad cold which settled on the lungs. She is making good progress now.

State of Missouri, ss. County of Taney, ss. In the Circuit Court, April term, 1908. Amanda E. Wade plain-tiff.

vs. Henry Ellsworth McDaniel, Plaintiff; Jennie J. Gilliland, Carrie Belle Levensger, Ora McDaniel, Willis McDaniel and J. A. Weatherman defendants. Now at this day comes the plaintiff herein, by her attorneys, Groom & McConkey and files her petition, alleging among other things, that defendants Jennie J. Gilliland, Ora McDaniel and Willis McDaniel are not residents of the state of Missouri.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the clerk in vacation that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is to partition the following described parcels or tracts of land situate in Taney County, Missouri, owned by plaintiff and defendants as tenants in common to-wit: The lot and acreage as set out and described in two 21 mg 21, and that unless the said Henry Ellsworth McDaniel, Jennie J. Gilliland, Carrie Belle Levensger, Ora McDaniel, Willis McDaniel and J. A. Weatherman do and appear at this court, at the next term thereof, to begin and hold at the court house in the town of Forsyth, in said county, on the 25th day of April, next, and on or before the first day of said term, unless longer time be given by the court, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered, that a copy hereof be published, according to law, in the Taney County Republican, a newspaper published in said county of Taney, for four weeks successively, the first publication to be made on or before the first day of said term of said court. John H. Blankenship, Circuit Clerk. A true copy from the record. Witness my hand, and the seal of the Circuit Court of Taney county, this 11th day of February, 1908. Jennie H. Blankenship, Circuit Clerk.

ELWOOD QUALITY

The steel in Ellwood fence is especially made for the purpose; it is hard, elastic, tough and springy. The cables in Ellwood fence are especially elastic, and at the same time, sufficiently rigid to prevent sagging when properly stretched.

Many fences are made with all single wires. That is the cheapest way to make a fence. Cables are used in Ellwood fence, and it costs more money to make the fence in this way. Ropes, both steel and of other material, are always made by twisting about each other, two or more strands. This means greatly increased tensile strength for a given unit of steel.

So in Ellwood fence, great strength and service are secured in the twisted cables. The elasticity never leaves an Ellwood cable. The coiling of the strands about each other preserves the springy nature of the fabric, and enables it to hold its position taut and right under all circumstances.

Don't forget the small and permanent mesh in Ellwood fences. Compare it with square or rectangular mesh fences. The mesh in Ellwood fence cannot be enlarged without breaking the wire. There are no ends to unravel.

The smallest wire in Ellwood Standard fence is strong enough to hold up an average grown hog. These mesh wires occur every four inches. No other fence can compare with the Ellwood in the aggregate tensile strength of mesh wire, to say nothing of the enormous tensile strength secured by the use of twisted cables. Ellwood fence is made for all purposes; cattle, hogs, horses, poultry and rabbits, are all provided for. The Ellwood Lawn Style is the best and handsomest fence for town lots, yards, orchards, gardens, parks, etc.

Ellwood fence is made as heavy as forty-seven pounds to the rod, the heaviest and strongest fence in the world.
