

TANEY COUNTY REPUBLICAN

Vol. 25. No. 43

FORSYTH, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1920.

Four Pages.

U. S. Senator Selden P. Spencer

While Cox and Long are trying to mortgage America in favor of Europe at the order of Woodrow Wilson Senator Spencer has been on the job for the people.

Those who have been following the work of the senate committee are proud of the work Spencer is doing. After making the wildest kind of charges Cox passed right by the committee and did not stop to testify. In showing up the unreliable nature of Cox who seeks power through an alliance with Wilson and Booze, Spencer has taken leading part. Missouri may well feel proud of him, he puts duty and service above self interest. At the time Wilson brought back the league covenant and told the senate not to talk about it Spencer was one of the thirty nine Republicans who served notice on the President and on the world that Wilson could not barter away American liberty. This took courage. The world had not learned the hollow hypocrisy of Wilsonian rhetoric. Over in Italy they were praying before the picture of the president along with images of the Virgin Mary. George Creel, master dispenser of false information and propaganda, controlled the news. Millions of dollars of the taxpayers money were being used to advertise the league. The country was filled with a lot of sentimental gush on the "Kept us out of war" order. All the administration sycophants were boasting they would drive from public life any who questioned the MASTER. All the Democrats and ten Republicans hesitated in the face of this threat but Senator Spencer did not waver. He signed the statement giving notice to the world that the President would not be permitted to swap our liberty for his ambition. In the hour of danger to our national liberty SELDEN P. SPENCER stood by us, we need such men, let's stand by him.

SALVATION ARMY CONVENTION

Last week Mrs. Chas. Murphy, Dr. F. A. Hays and P. T. Alexander of Branson, J. R. Gideon, Lyman Felkins and W. E. Freeland of Forsyth went to St. Louis to attend the state meeting of the county advisory board of the Salvation Army.

The Program they offered was an inspiring testimonial to the devotion of the Salvation Army to human service, and explained why our soldier boys have such high regard for the work the "Army" did during the war. Now that peace has come the Salvation Army is back at its old mission of rescue for those who thru misfortune, weakness or depravity have fallen so low that the ordinary processes of relief pass by on the other side and leave them to perish. Great cataclysms stir people and bring a fine response but in the every day work of life thousands of tragedies pass unnoticed or become common place and are accepted as a matter of course. This means that thousands of neglected men and women drift on to crime and become a menace or a burden to the state. It is the Salvation Army that is reaching out into the dark places and pulling these unfortunates from the slime and misery of crime and evil and rebuilding these human wrecks into self-respecting and self-supporting men and women. Their work is growing faster than they can find means to support it. In times past they were confined mostly to the slums of the cities but now they are reaching out into the counties and giving aid and help to all. They have:

An Emergency Department to give help in special cases.
A Missing Friends Bureau, to help find persons who have disappeared.
A Boys and Girls, Agricultural School to give an opportunity for a new life to children who have gone bad.
A Boys' Friend Bureau to help boys who may have gone to the city.
Young Women's Boarding Homes, for girls who may have gone to the city to work and have a small income.
Rescue and Maternity Homes for those who may have been betrayed into wrong and tragedy.
Industrial homes to help men who are down to win back their self-respect.
Workingmen's Hotels where a poor

Arthur M. Hyde

A Fearless Leader for Clean Politics and Honest Government.

Last week the people of Taney County had the opportunity of hearing Arthur M. Hyde speak at Forsyth. There was a large and enthusiastic audience in spite of the report that the speaker would not be here. Mr. Hyde is not only a forceful speaker but a militant leader for righteousness. By his own personality he has brought confusion to politicians and confounded the predictions of those learned in the art of manipulation. He stands for the best things in public life. Because he is opposed to trades and agreements between politicians he will go into the governor's chair with only one obligation, SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE OF MISSOURI; because he is discerning he will choose strong men for his associates; because he is a big man he will have big men for his counsellors; because he is forceful the interests of the state will be safe.

NOTE.—The above program of the Annual Sunday School Convention is made up of a series of vital topics dealing with many phases of the Sunday School work, all of which is tremendously important to every Sunday School worker in the county. Every subject will be handled by an expert on Sunday School work. Look the program over and ask yourself this question:

"AM I GOING TO THE COUNTY CONVENTION?"
"YES!"

I knew that's what you would say when you gave the question time to soak in. Now come along and let's have a splendid time and enjoy this fine program together.

Please send at least two delegates from your school who can be present Saturday night and remain thru the entire convention that they may get it ALL to take back home.

Then on Sunday EVERYBODY COME!
We'll be looking for your October 2 and 3.

man can find a bed at a reasonable price.

Free Employment Bureau to help the chronically unemployed.

The above by no means covers all the field. They have Prison Work, Slum Settlements, Fresh Air Camps, Christmas Dinners to the Poor, An Anti Suicide Bureau, Training Schools for their Workers for Field Evangelistic work as well as special work for the ex-service men. All our boys who have been to France know what that means.

To carry on this work a state budget has been arranged. We expect to have more to say about this work from

Congressman Edw. D. Hays

He puts service to the people first, the nation needs such men. Let's keep him.

Hays Stands For Service Before Self-Interest.

Congressman Hays And The Ex-Service Men

It is not always that a district is so fortunate as to have a man in congress who puts the interest of the people above his own interest. When Mr. Hays had an opponent for the nomination in the primary he still remained in Washington for about a month working for the people of his section when many other men would have been out campaigning. It is a well known fact to the soldier boys that the Baker administration broke down completely and failed in its duty to properly adjust their claims. Mr. Baker could get time to pay off the slackers at Funston, to give them clothes they were not entitled to and to let the rich Bergdoll loose but he could not get time to look after the boys who had really done the work and who had patriotically responded to the nation's need. Mr. Hays recognized this failure and tried to secure results. In service Mr. Hays knows no politics. He has sought only to do things for the people of his district. He has been as a congressman should be, for all the people. After taking only a month for his primary campaign he returned at once to Washington and has been working hard for the people of the fourteenth district. He is the kind of a man we need, let's keep him.

Hon. Edw. D. Hays, of the Fourteenth Missouri district, has been re-nominated for Congress by the Republican party. This fact is, no doubt, very pleasing to the ex-service men of his district without regard to party, because he has proved to be their friend in Washington. It is doubtful if any member of the present congress has worked harder than Mr. Hays to secure a square deal for the soldier boys. He has become a familiar figure around the departments where he has personally presented so many of their cases for consideration. Thru his efforts a great number of compensation claims have been adjusted for his soldier constituents who are suffering from physical disability. He has also aided hundreds of them in securing bonus, travel pay and discharge equipment, and in making adjustment with the government in claims growing out of bond purchases and allotment deductions. Mr. Hays was a hard worker in the House to secure the passage of the Sweet bill, and he has been an ardent supporter of all other legislation intended to aid the veterans of the recent world war. He voted for the adjusted compensation bill which passed the House and is now pending in the Senate.—National Republican.

time to time. The budget asks for $500.00 from Taney county for the coming year. Below we give just a few of the special cases that the Salvation Army has helped, to illustrate the scope of their work. These workers are giving themselves, it is very little they ask of us, just a little money to make the work they do more effective. Let us do this little bit to make the good they do grow.

Butler Co. Young girl sent to Rescue Home at request of County Advisory Board, for temporary assistance.

Callaway Co. Young girl sent to Rescue Home at request of County Advisory Board, receiving temporary assistance, after which she was returned to her parents.

Carter Co. Young girl sent to Rescue Home at request of County Advisory Board, for temporary assistance.
