Georgia Balks at Wilson.

And now Georgia where political thinking is a social crime has rebelled! Two years ago Wilson wrote them a letter telling them their Senator Hardwick was a naughty child and should be kept at home.

The Maine Election.

Americans who believe that Woodrow Wilson went to Europe and secretly undertook to trade our liberty, our wealth and the lives of our boys for the dictatorship of the world are highly pleased with the Republican victory in Maine.

COX FOISTS FALSE SPECTER TO FORE IN CAMPAIGN TALK

No One Will Be Deceived by Democratic Attempt to Use Great President's Name.

THE PEOPLE KNEW ROOSEVELT

Death of Foremost American Has Not Dimmed His Deeds in the Minds of Patriots.

By William Hoester

May one who was more or less intimately associated with Theodore Roosevelt in the last fifteen years of his life say a word in regard to the developing tendencies of the pending presidential campaign?

Governor James M. Cox, the Democratic candidate, with increasing frequency is using the name of Colonel Roosevelt in his speeches, as of one from whom the Governor has derived his inspiration for this momentous campaign, and whose support of Mr. Cox's so-called policies would be forthcoming were Roosevelt alive.

Addressing the Ohio Democratic State Convention at Columbus on August 17th, among other things Governor Cox said:

"Need I remind you that it was in this State that Theodore Roosevelt, that great American, made his speech proclaiming his creed, not that the judges alone should be recalled, but that the judicial procedure itself should be subject to recall."

Acknowledged Error. First and foremost, no man who knew Theodore Roosevelt well, and was proud to follow his leadership, needs to be told that he lived to realize the error of that specific doctrine which Governor Cox now drags from the political limbo of dead things.

But aside from this, the one outstanding note in Roosevelt's great career was his uncompromising, tried and true Americanism. He was an American above and beyond everything else.

Roosevelt's Position Clear.

One does not have to ponder long to reach a conclusion, therefore, where Roosevelt would stand if happily he were among us today. The man who in 1916 avowed that the supreme national need was the overthrow of Wilsonism and all that Wilsonism represents would have a mighty well-defined position in the fighting today if he were with us, and he would not be ranged on the side of Governor Cox.

The man who, though age was creeping upon him, demanded as his right that he be sent across to face with the two hundred thousand men that clamored to accompany him, the German menace; and who grimly laid down the plea that by his end on the field of battle the drooping morale of the entente forces might be revived, though the death of a former President of the United States would have had little in common with a candidate whose newspapers proclaimed sixteen months after the sinking of the Lusitania, that "The German U-boats have committed no crime against us."

Remember in what stirring words Roosevelt denounced the Lusitania sinking, and how, throughout all that dark period of American neutrality, his powerful voice rang through the land awakening the patriotism of our people to the culmination in April, 1917, when even Mr. Wilson finally was compelled to face the inevitable.

There is no law against Governor Cox's use of Colonel Roosevelt's name. Nor is there any law on the statute books providing for the crimes which are committed in the name of progressiveness for which Colonel Roosevelt stood. There are Napoleons of finance, of wheat, of oil and of industry, but there was only one Napoleon. There are Jimmies and Eddies and Harries, but there was only one Teddy.

In the campaign upon which we have entered, the name of Roosevelt will be invoked many times in many places in behalf of many things. But few in all the great army of those who followed Roosevelt will be deceived. They know above all other things that the safety and integrity of the United States lay closest to Theodore Roosevelt's heart, and with them his doctrine of stalwart Americanism will prevail against any preachment of progressivism which seeks to lure them from the path of patriotic duty.

Velocity of Light.

Physicists never tire of efforts to increase the accuracy of their knowledge of the fundamental facts of science. A re-determination of the velocity of light by the Fizeau toothed wheel method was made at Nice. These experiments were remarkable on account of the great distance over which the beam of light employed was transmitted. Previously such a beam had been caused to travel about fifteen miles, but on this occasion the reflecting mirror was so placed that the total distance traversed by the beam, going and returning, was fifty-seven miles. The mean of 1100 observations gave for the velocity of light 299,225 1/2 miles a second.
