

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

Rev. Mr. Woods, Agent for the American Tract Society, will preach to-morrow at 11 o'clock at the 2d Presbyterian Church, and at 3 o'clock at the 1st Presbyterian Church, April 16, 1853.

The following are samples of Quincy electioneering. They are extracts from yesterday's Daily Herald. The second paragraph of the first article shows a consciousness of the superior advantages of the Hannibal and Naples Railroad, which we hardly expected to see acknowledged with so much candor in a Quincy paper:

Let it not be forgotten—that Capt. Pitman is pointed to by the people of Pike as the man who did more than all others—to defeat the passage of the Hannibal railroad charter; and

Let it not be forgotten—that it is generally believed here and everywhere that had that charter been granted, the railroad interests of Quincy would ere this have been abandoned and her prospects loomed up in the future as grim and as dark as the blackness of a starless night!

Let it not be forgotten—that the people of this city are under obligations to the man who stood by them and worked for them by day and by night when they needed a friend, and when, had he deserted them like another we could name, their prospects would have been blighted forever.

It is rumored about town and in Whig circles that Senator Woon is to be the Whig candidate for Mayor. The only apprehension we have about it is that it isn't true—hope it is. We want to see how many people there are in this city in favor of the Hannibal railroad. Our neighbors at Hannibal also want to know how many friends they have in this city, and would rejoice exceedingly if they could be permitted to go over to Springfield next winter with the additional capital they would gain by the election of Senator Woon, whom they regard as their fast and faithful friend, to the office of Mayor of Quincy. They'll not have this joy, however. The Pike county Senator can't be elected.

The Democracy can carry the city, and they intend to do it. They will assemble in front of the court-house, to-night to make arrangements for that especial purpose. It is important that every Democrat should be at the court-house to-night. The Whigs hold a caucus at Kendall's Hall, to-night, at which they expect to do something for the Hannibal railroad. Let the Democracy turn out in their strength and do something for Quincy. Hurrah for Quincy! Per- man against any friend of Hannibal, and Quincy against Hannibal, forever! The Democracy will make an old-fashioned rally and an old-fashioned noise to-night. Miller's splendid Brass Band will be there to discourse eloquent music, and the clatter and the echo of the drum and fife will impart their wonted spirit to the occasion.

ON MISS ANNA BREAD. While bells their lively graces spread, A voice around them flutters, I'll be content with Anna Bread, And won't have any but her.

Intemperance.

The following is the most graphic delineation of the miseries and effects of intemperance that we have ever seen. It is from the arguments advanced by certain citizens of Portage county Ohio, in a memorial to the Legislature on the subject in 1838. And yet its march of ruin is onward still. It reaches abroad to others; invades the family social circles, and spreads woe and sorrow all around. It cuts down youth in its vigor; manhood in its strength; and age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart; bereaves the doting mother; extinguishes natural affection; erases conjugal love; blots out filial attachment; blights parental hope; and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death not life. It makes wives widows; children orphans; fathers fiends; and all of them paupers and beggars. It exalts fevers; feeds rheumatism; nurses gout; welcomes epidemics; invites cholera, imparts pestilence; and embraces consumptions. It covers the land with illness, poverty, disease and crime. It fills your jails; supplies your almshouses; and demands your asylums. It engenders controversies; fosters quarrels; and cherishes riots. It condemns laws; spurns order; and loves mobs. It crowds your penitentiaries; and furnishes the victims for your scaffolds. It is the life-blood of the gambler; the aliment of the counterfeiter; the prop of the highwayman and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar; respects the thief; and esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligation; reverences fraud; and honors infamy. It defames benevolence; hates love; scorns virtue; and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his offspring; helps the husband to ma sacre his wife; and aids the child to grind his parricidal axe. It burns man; consumes woman; detests life; curses God and despises Heaven. It suborns witnesses; nurses perjury; defiles the jury box, and stains the judicial ermine. It bribes votes; disqualifies voters; corrupts elections; pollutes our institutions; and endangers our government. It degrades the citizen; debases the legislator; dishonors the statesman; and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness. And now, with the manevolence of a fiend, it calmly surveys its frightful desolations, and insatiably with havoc, it poisons felicity; kills peace; ruins morals; lights confidence; shays reputation, and wipes out national honor: then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.
