All lights were turned out as the honoree approached the house, and as she entered they were turned on, revealing the presence of her many friends. The most surprising feature of the evening was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Waldman to Mr. Harry Cohen which was followed by a shower of congratulations and good wishes. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening followed by an ice course. Miss Waldman was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. About one hundred guests were present.

Fram-Sheinberg. (Delayed)

A wedding of much interest throughout the state occurred Sunday afternoon at four thirty o'clock at the Shaareth Israel Synagogue when Pauline Carol Fram, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. Fram became the bride of Samuel I. Sheinberg of Fort Worth. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi I. Werne, assisted by Rev. J. Hurwitz of Houston, cousin of the bride's father and Rev. A. Fram.

The Synagogue was beautifully decorated for the occasion the altar on which the vows were spoken being converted into a veritable bower by palms and flowers. Preceding the ceremony "Until" and Cadman's "At Dawning" were very beautifully sung by Miss Miriam Fram, accompanied on the piano by Miss Elizabeth Crawford.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin's, rendered on the piano by

Miss Rose Hart with violin obligato by Miss Selma Goldsmith. First came the two bridesmaids, Miss Rose Fram and Certie Bock. Miss Fram wore an afternoon frock of yellow crepe taffeta with gold slippers and hose and a hat of taffeta and lace to harmonize. She was attended by Mr. Isadore Prague of Fort Worth. Miss Bock's gown was of shell pink taffeta trimmed with silver, rose buds and ribbons. She wore silver slippers and hose and a hat of silver lace. Her attendant was Manuel Sheinberg of Breckenridge. Both bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of delicately tinted asters. After the bridesmaids entered the two matrons, Mrs. Nate Freeman, sister of the bride and Mrs. M. Praeger, sister of the groom. Mrs. Freeman wore a beautiful gown of tangerine satin with over raperies of Georgette heavily beaded in crystals. She wore a beautiful Spanish comb in her hair which was dressed high. Mrs. Praeger's gown was of lavender crepe satin beautifully trimmed with lace. She also wore a beautiful comb in her hair. Their flowers were pink carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Miriam I. Fram, sister of the bride, entered next with the best man, Israel Sheinberg of Fort Worth. Her gown was of white lace over jade green taffeta. She wore silver slippers and hose and a hat of taffeta and silver lace. She carried an arm bouquet of asters. Next came the two daintily dressed flower girls, little Miss Dorothy Nannette Freeman of Waco, niece of the bride, and Harriett Garonzik, who scattered rose petals in the path of the bride and groom. The little ring bearer, Sam Vener was dressed in a white satin suit and carried the ring in the heart of a lily. The bride and groom met at the altar. The groom was attended to the altar by his sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. B. Karelitz. Mrs. Karelitz wore a brown satin gown with a corsage bouquet of pink rose buds.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. Fram. Mrs. Fram wore a dress of black crepe meteor heavily beaded and wore a corsage of pink rose buds. She wore a beautiful gown of white bridal satin appliqued with pearls. Both sides fell in beautiful drapes while in the back and front were panels heavily beaded with pearls and crystals. Her veil was caught cap-shapee with a wreath of orange blossoms and fell into a long train which was carried by her little niece, Thelma Freeman of Waco.

After the ceremony, the bridal procession walked out to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march to the reception room of the synagogue where congratulations were spoken. An ice course was served to about six hundred friends and relatives of the couple. Dancing was also indulged in.

At nine o'clock Rev. and Mrs. Fram served an elaborate nine-course dinner to the immediate family and friends of the newly married couple at their home on Bellevue Street. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. The bride's table was especially beautiful in its decorations. Toasts were offered to the happy pair, Rev. J. Hurwitz, Rev. A. Abromowitz of Fort Worth; Mr. M. Feldman and Rev. Fram making especially beautiful and impressive talks. The couple was remembered by their many out of town friends with telegrams which were read by Mr. Abe Hurwitz of Houston.

The popularity of both the bride and groom were attested by the many beautiful gifts which they received.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheinberg left Sunday night for the Ozark Mountains where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Sheinberg's going away suit was of
