Since the packing plant burned so many people have passed the remark that the old site where the building stood would make a most beautiful place for the county court house. The foundation is as good as ever and would be a great saving to the county. The spacious grounds are covered with large shade trees. Besides this it would be of equal excess to people from all parts of the county. When you want to go to the county seat do you want to go into Montana? We expect to hear uncomplimentary comments from our disobliging friend (?) the editor of the Beach Chronicle on this matter. So get your hammer out!—Medora Herald. The proposition of building a court house is too dead to talk about and brother Glassford's disobliging friend? has no comment to make upon any such a pipe dream as the above.

Remember the caucus Saturday afternoon.

Raymond DeJaeger is in Dickinson today to make final proof of his claim.

Chas. Heckeman, residing near the Halstead school was unfortunately in losing all his horses, cattle, poultry, harness and barn by fire, this afternoon.

A number of our townspeople are making preparations for moving on their claims next week, namely C. H. Letson and family, C. G. Lyons and family and D. M. Cooper and family.

Phil St. Jacques came over from Fessenden first of the week and a deal was made whereby he became sole proprietor of the St. Jacques & Bowler Billiard Hall. Mr. Bowler will return to Fessenden.

Later news from the results of the fire out south yesterday, are that Chas. Winkelman lost his cattle, hay and considerable other property and the Kuskie boys lost their threshing rig. It is claimed the fire was set from Kuskie's engine.

R. C. Phipps, photographer of Casoli, Colo., writes that he will be in Beach in a very near future with a view of opening a studio. Mr. Phipps is a band instructor and will be welcomed by the band boys. A photographer would undoubtedly receive a good business here.

Note the new ads in this issue.

Saddleryman Lucens, of Sentinel Butte was a visitor yesterday.

Miss Darton returned this week from Wisconsin where she spent the winter with home folks.

Seven immigrant cars Sunday and from one to three every day since is the listed report at the depot for this week.

Chas. Johnson visited in Glendive a couple days of the week.

Prof. Scholander of Fargo, visited the demonstration farm of C. E. Barber's this week.

The Senator has interests northwest of town and is out looking them over. With him was Mr. C. F. Meyer, a prosperous Cass county farmer, located near Erie, also H. H. Wheelock and C. L. Campbell, president and vice president respectively, of Wheelock & Wheelock, Incorporated, Real estate and banking, Fargo. Dr. Davis from Minneapolis accompanied the party which left the following morning for a "look over" the celebrated Golden Valley.

Wibaux.

A Social dance was held at the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening.

Mrs. I. S. Bispham of Beach, visited in Wibaux, Wednesday.

Frank Cannon and wife were visitors in your city last Friday.

"Fatty" the favorite dray horse of Frank Cannon, died yesterday.

Nine cars of immigrants arrived in Wibaux this week to take up homesteads.

A. A. Harris was in from Trotter this week and reports his cattle to be in fine condition, with no losses.

The Old and the New.
Miss Elizabeth Magle, the pretty and talented Chicago girl who recently jumped into distinction by offering herself for sale, said the other day in an address before a girls' club:
"I advise all of you to be new women. I urge you to pay no heed to the gibes about new women that are continually being uttered by men."
"It isn't a fine type of man that gibes at new women. You know the story of the man in the county jail?"
"What brought you here, my poor fellow?" a missionary asked.
"I married a new woman, sir," the prisoner groaned.
"Aha," said the missionary. "And she was so domineering and extravagant that it drove you to desperate courses, eh?"
"No," said the prisoner. "The old woman turned up."

Power of the Eye.
"Talking of the power of the human eye," said the quiet man, joining in the discussion on mesmerism, "I was passing through a field when a terrific blowing caused me to look around. And when I saw a maddened, snorting bull was bearing straight down upon me, my heart stood still, I rushed on a few yards and—then I remembered the power of the human eye, and I turned and bent a magnetic gaze on the advancing animal."
"On, on he came toward me, till at last he was within a few feet of me. Then he lifted his magnificent head and caught my eye. For a moment he wavered; then he turned and raced back."
"As he ceased there arose a storm of dissent."
"I forgot to mention," the quiet man continued, when he got a chance to resume, "that when I rushed those few yards I was able to jump over a stout wall, and the getting was done on the safe side of the wall."
"Well," said one of the dissenters, angrily, "what's that got to do with the power of the human eye?"
"If it hadn't been for the power of the human eye," finished the quiet man, "how should I have seen that wall?"

According to a successful business man, advertising is the keynote to progress and prosperity. Every merchant, no matter whether he be engaged in a large or small way, should make it the rule to do a certain amount of advertising. It gives him a desirable class of patrons, and, at the same time, it marks him as endeavoring to get trade by asking for it. The advertising merchant is the one who does the business in these days of push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers today than ever before in the history of the world. The newspapers place the business under the eyes of the buyer. He sees what he wants, and knowing where to find it, looks up the wide awake merchant who asked him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You can't keep a hustler down.

Not Formally Introduced.
Uncle Nehemiah, the proprietor of a ramshackle little hotel in Mobile, was agast at finding a newly-arrived guest with his arm around his daughter's waist.

"Mandy, tell that nigger to take his arm 'way from 'round 'er waist," he indignantly commanded.

"Tell him 'yoself," said Amanda. "He's a puffed stranger to me."
