NERVE-RACKING DAY IS PASSED

NEW YORK FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS SHOW WONDERFUL RESISTANCE.

STORM IS SAFELY WEATHERED

FIFTEEN MILLION MORE DUMPED INTO WALL STREET—MINOR BANKS CLOSE.

New York, Oct. 27.—Another nerve-racking day has passed, but the financial institutions of New York have shown extraordinary power of resistance to the pressure put on them.

While it is true that several minor institutions have been forced to close their doors; yet two things should be said about them—first, that the amount involved was not so great as to exert any marked influence on the general situation, as these banks did not come into touch with the larger financial institutions, and, second, there is every reason to believe that the banks and trust companies are entirely solvent and their difficulties will prove to be only temporary and due entirely to inability to secure ready cash on the gilt-edged securities in their vaults.

Some Favorable Features. In the light of the general excitement the savings banks thought it wise to put into effect the rule requiring thirty to sixty days' notice for the withdrawal of deposits.

There was not the slightest hint that any of the savings institutions was in anything but the soundest condition. On the other hand, a number of favorable features marked the day. The Trust company of America and the Lincoln Trust company, the organizations which have suffered most from runs, have been slowly paying out to their depositors, and closed yesterday with all demands having been met.

More Millions for Wall Street. The most favorable incident of the day was that the stock exchange was provided with ample funds to meet its immediate necessities by a money pool headed by J. Pierpont Morgan, which sent about $15,000,000 to the exchange during the afternoon.

The stock market had sold relatively firm all day, but when the pool money was offered, there was an immediate upturn of prices, and the market closed strong at the best prices of the day. A very encouraging feature of the afternoon's developments was a signed statement by Clerk Williams, the newly appointed state superintendent of banking, affirming the solvency of the local institutions.

Will Stop Runs on Banks. A further encouraging development of the afternoon, the good effect of which can scarcely be overestimated, was the decision arrived at to issue clearing house certificates probably today. The immediate effect of this will be to enable the banks to settle the balances between themselves with these certificates and thereby release large sums of currency for the regular needs of business.

The decision to issue clearing house certificates is likely to end any further anxiety in regard to the supply of currency. It is believed that the mere fact that they are to be issued will so far restore confidence that runs upon banks will cease.

Take Back Their Money. Already the strong city banks are receiving large deposits from persons who have withdrawn their money from the banks and trust companies which have fallen under suspicion.

The fact that the banks and the stock exchange will be open for business two hours to-day, and that Sunday, with all its opportunities of calming public sentiment will intervene, added to the more hopeful view of the situation taken by the leading financiers last night, will do much toward clearing the financial sides before another week begins.

BOLD THIEF ATTEMPTS ROBBERY AT PHILADELPHIA SUBTREASURY.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—One of the boldest attempts at robbery in this city in a long time occurred yesterday when two men tried to get away with $5,000 they had seized from a bank runner in the United States subtreasury. Both were arrested and all the money was recovered.

After 11 o'clock yesterday morning J. P. Cronin, a runner for the Franklin National bank, was handed several large bundles of money by a paying teller in the subtreasury. He placed $4,000 in a satchel and walked to a bench nearby with the remainder amounting to $5,000 in $100 bills.

He laid the money on the bench, in intending to open the satchel and place it with the other money. At the same moment one of the men grabbed the $5,000 lying on the bench and started out the front door.

The bank runner instantly gave chase, raising an alarm as he did so. The runner was close to the thief when the other thief stuck out his foot and tripped him and tried to escape. He had only gone a few feet when a watchman captured him.

Others in the subtreasury started after the man with the money. He was captured a half block from the subtreasury.

"Foreign newspapers," Count Okuma wrote, "are too pessimistic. The Japanese are convinced that there will be no war. Every case like the San Francisco incident is sure to have had effect."

"I think that the trouble is due to the state's sovereignty principle in the United States. The power of the states is too great. They are too independent. The sending of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific is not good diplomacy."

The king's open-air life has thus far kept the hereditary disposition in abeyance and an operation was performed on him recently in the hope of checking the growing symptoms of consumption.

FINANCIAL STORM IS SAFELY PASSED

UNITED ACTION AND WISE COUNSEL HAVE SOLVED THE PROBLEM.

STABILITY IS ESTABLISHED

THE SITUATION IS ONE DEALING SOLELY WITH SUPPLIES OF CURRENCY.

New York, Oct. 29.—The feeling among banking authorities is that united action and wise counsels have already accomplished much in proving a solution for the financial problem with which they have been called on to deal during the past week, and that with remedial plans now further perfected the promise is strong for the uninterrupted maintenance of financial stability.

Yesterday was marked by the usual Sunday calm, which gave the financial leaders an opportunity to ease the tension of overwrought nerves experienced during the past week.

President's Support. The departure of Secretary Cortelyou for Washington removed a conspicuous figure from the field, but it was felt that with President Roosevelt's strong support, as expressed in his letter made public Saturday night, Mr. Cortelyou's presence in Washington was favorable to such further government assistance as might be required.

At the clearing house there is much evidence in preparation for the issuance of the loan certificates. Another evidence of activity was the small knot of people gathered at some of the institutions where runs were in progress last week, waiting for an advantageous position on the opening of business to-day.

Will Hold Onto Cash. The indications are that banking institutions will not pay out large amounts in currency to-day, except to meet legitimate requirements of their clients for current business. Currency will be paid on small checks as desired and to provide funds for pay rolls and other legitimate and ordinary uses.

One prominent banker pointed out that it could not be brought to the attention of the country at large too strongly that the present situation is one dealing solely with the supplies of currency, and that neither the business credit of the nation nor its industrial and agricultural prosperity is affected.

COUNTRY EXTREMELY PROSPEROUS.

In this respect there is a sharp contrast with the conditions prevalent in 1893. At that time many factories were closed, railroad business was at a low ebb and all parts of the country were feeling the strain of acute business depression. Today, on the contrary, the country is extremely prosperous; manufacturing plants are running at full time to keep up with orders demanding output to their fullest capacity. Railroad earnings are the highest ever known, and the crop prospects are excellent. The banks themselves, especially those of New York, have in their vaults interesting securities of the very best character, on which in all ordinary times they would be able to realize large sums of money. It is with these securities and collateral that the clearing house certificates will be issued to the extent of 75 per cent of their salable value. Thus it will be seen that every $75 of loan certificates issued is secured by $100 worth of property.

"Not altogether," he replied thoughtfully. "After hearing the lawyer's plea for me I really had some curiosity as to the question of my guilt."

A Modern Housewife.

"Why do you look at this 'Still Life' so eagerly and sadly?"

"Oh, these are my favorite delicacies, represented in it. As my wife can't cook them, she painted them for me, as a birthday present."
