As an advertising medium the Golden Valley Chronicle leads all other papers in not only Golden Valley county but in four other counties surrounding it as well. Having the largest circulation, being more widely known, and being more closely read, are the three great factors the go to make it a real advertising medium.

Business men of today believe in advertising, that is the successful business men of today do. Wholesale houses advise retailers to advertise and they through experience know that it pays the retailer. It is merely a matter of time until the standard lines of goods will be handled only by merchants who do advertise as they will have the preference with not only the manufacturer, and the wholesaler but the public as well.
