Editor Tells How D. D. D. Cured His Eczema

Clergyman and Banker Also Write
H. G. Hotchkiss, Editor Echo, Prohibits town, Ill.: Remember mine was eczema of fifteen years' standing. Now I am completely healed, after 4 bottles of D. D. D. I have seen a case of 25 years' standing cured. I have seen my own doctor cure, of barber's itch, which he could not cure himself.
F. R. Teser, Banker, Hopkinton, Ia.: I treated with three doctors for six months. They did me no good; my face and scalp were full of the disease. I applied D. D. D. Result—my face is as smooth as a baby's.
Rev. L. I. Downing, Pastor 5th Av. Presbyterian Church, Roanoke, Va.: For three years I suffered, intensely, eczema. I have at last found relief in D. D. D. I am no longer tortured—completely cured. I have no hesitancy in acknowledging the great virtues of this specific.
Druggists are glad to recommend this soothing, cooling liquid. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Come to us and we will tell you more about this remarkable remedy. Your money back unless the first bottle relieves you. D. D. D. Soap keeps your skin healthy. Ask about it.

Writes of N. D. Political Situation

Says It's Most Remarkable Revolution in History of Politics.

Fargo Courier News: In North Dakota there has just taken place within the Republican party one of the most remarkable revolutions in the history of national politics. It would take a whole article to set forth even the important details, but here is the substance of it.

Whether rightly or wrongly, the farmers of the northwest have long been dissatisfied with the system of distribution of their great product—wheat—and have believed that too great a share of the profit has gone to the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, the railways, and the great terminal warehouse corporations in that part of the country.

North Dakota has taken the initiative, and twice by referendum the people have voted for a terminal warehouse of their own, and a Republican legislature, under the alleged influence of powerful lobbies, has failed to respond to the popular will, has refused the appropriation desired. And this year, in the summer primaries, there was a revolution.

More Organizers—Farmers.
Scores of cars, full of plain farmer organizers of shrewd and vigorous mind, went thru North Dakota from end to end in the interest of a Republican ticket that would be responsive to the will of the people of the state. And altho on primary day floods filed the rivers and had already carried away the bridges, the farmers of the state got to the polls, some swimming streams and many going far around to get to the polling places, and they overwhelmed the ruling recalcitrant Republican machine.

They nominated a full Republican ticket on their own by an immense majority, and it was freely predicted when we were there that the candidate for governor, Lynn J. Frazier, of Hoople a genuine farmer all of his life, but a graduate of the University of North Dakota, would poll eighty per cent of the entire vote of the state.

There are nearly 40,000 farmers in North Dakota in this league of popular defense who pay nine dollars apiece a year, and their ably edited organ at Fargo, the "Non-Partisan Leader," boasts already 50,000 farmer subscriptions. And this new movement is not confined to North Dakota. It is spreading rapidly thru the surrounding states.

For Hughes, But Danger Beyond.
In seeking a more honest inspection of the grading of grain, more just conditions in the marketing of grain, they are attempting to do, as in the old days when railway regulation began in the west, certain things by state power which ultimately must be done by national power, if we should once get a national administration sufficiently wise and far-seeing and strong. The spirit of this new movement found itself in full sympathy with the liberalism of Hughes.

Its followers didn't inquire what his views are on the state grading and warehousing of grain. They recognized in him a true yokefellow who had had to fight in New York narrow and dogged legislators and party bosses just as they did in North Dakota.

The new gubernatorial nominee presided, and he and Governor Hughes exchanged public compliments, and my judgement is that the state of North Dakota is safe for Hughes and the whole farmer-Republican ticket. But look out, Republican party, and do your duty with National power if once more you gain control at Washington, or there will be a development of state Socialism in the west that will wake us all up and tangle us all up in a hurry.

Louis W. Hill Also.
One of the most interesting characters we ran upon in the northwest was Louis W. Hill, son of James J. Hill, and the present head of the Great Northern. James J. Hill, who has recently died, was a rough, brusque pioneer who especially in the later years of his life, realized the value to his railway of spreading in a Democratic way enlightenment among the people along his road.

And he spent large sums in developing sentiment for pure seed, diversified farming, and dual cattle—that is, animals which are both good milkers and good beefers. The son Louis combines a good measure of the shrewdness his father with a natural democracy of great charm.

Modestly and inconspicuously, he went along with us in his private car while we were on the Great Northern line. And it was pleasure to see the farmers delight in him.

They would crowd around him in the hote lobbies and at the stations and say, "Hello, ouis, you're going to stay a day or two, ain't you?" And Louis, while talking to one man, would involuntarily grasp the hairy hand of another; and once I heard him say, "My I thought I had hold of a jackrabbit." And everybody laughed.

Then I watched him go around the corner out of sight of the crowd and put Hughes caps of red, white, and blue on the little girls and pin flags or buttons on the little boys. The time has come in the northwest when you can't even be an efficient and successful railway man without being a Democrat and a liberal.

Just Be Square.
And you don't have to be or any class to get along with those folks. If you start in by being on the square and just, that is all they ask. But so much they will have. They will get it from the Republican party, if they can. But they will get it.

They are husky citizens; they have their fine systems of education, their colleges and their universities, and no clever eastern political or business reactionary can put anything over on them one minute longer. But they are for Hughes.

The Dickinson medical firm of Maercklein & Chernauek has dissolved. Dr. Sam Chernauek will continue to maintain his office at his present headquarters in South Dickinson and Dr. O. C. Maercklein over the German Bohemian bank.

MANDAN PARTY OF FOUR IN BAD AUTO ACCIDENT AT CENTER

Center, N. D., Sept. 27.—A. S. Braza of Mandan, two sister and a brother, escaped death by a narrow margin when their automobile plunged off a bridge to the bank, 15 feet below, turning completely over. All occupants of the car were able to leap from the machine in such manner as to clear the wreckage. All were slightly hurt.

DELAMERE MAN KILLED. WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

DeLamere, N. D., Sept. 27.—Theodore Sskoien, riding in an automobile with his employer, Gilbert Rud, was almost instantly killed when the car skidded and turned over. Rud is being held pending an investigation.

At Kensal, Thomas North and two companions escaped with only slight injuries when their car turned over twice.

Mike Schmaus suffered a broken hip when his car overturned on a road near Devils Lake. Schmaus was pinned under the machine, being rescued by another party.

Larimore Pioneer: The School Savings bank which will be put in operation with the opening of the school by the action taken at the meeting of the board of education Tuesday evening, is a move in the direction and is deserving of the support of all parents. Pupils may well be taught the lessons of thrift through this means.

While Jacob Roggstad was killing rats in his shop at Buxton, a bullet, which has killed a rat struck the head of a nail, glanced, went through the wall of the frame building and struck Tom Barry. Little damage was done, the bullet being spent but still had sufficient force to cut through one of Barry's trouser legs.

Fifteen lots were sold at the lot sale at the new village Shell Creek about nine miles west of Mako-to. Two banks, two general stores, a hardware store, two restaurants, four elevators, two lumber yards and a livery barn will be established shortly. Geo. J. Smith will put in a newspaper, it is stated.

The horse alleged to have been stolen from L. E. Johnson of Glanavon by Henry White Eyebrow about a month ago was found by Sheriff Kyes in possession of Bert Grier near Hartfield. Mr. Gier had purchased the horse for $25 and a suit of clothes.

The Cash Store of Linton has secured a lease for a warehouse on the Milwaukee right-of-way, and has started the erection of a warehouse, storeroom and auto garage 36x100 feet, just east of the loading platform. The building will be 1-2 story and the firm will store machinery in it.

Frank Polinsky of near New Hradek was taken to Dickinson immediately following an accident which caused the fracture of several bones in his wrists. Mr. Polinsky was working with a threshing rig and while adjusting the fly wheel of the machine one of his co-workers accidentally turned on the power.

Work is now completed on the bridge and dam at Sentinel Butte and is again open to travel, and the dam is ready to hold water. It is hoped that the fall rains will be heavy enough to fill it so that the ice harvest will be good—and the skating.
