EXTRAVAGANCE, SPOILS AND INHUMANITY MARK WILSON'S RULE

Not Republicans alone, but Democrats as well, realize and have voiced the extravagance of the Wilson administration, calling attention to one of its most valuable points. But added to the Democratic raid on the treasury, there are the raids on the civil service, the indorsement of the spoils system, a criminal policy in Mexico, that has caused the death of 500 Americans, and the destruction of the homes and property of 20,000 more; and the encouragement of armed banditry and outrages.

At the rate the present administrators who have this vegetable in sizes required by the Northern Pacific standard write him. He expects to contract for large quantities during the next few weeks.

How the North Pays

But the South in the saddle has seen to it that the South was kindly exempted from the weight of these taxes. Some comparisons of the Democratic interval revenue burden placed on Northern states are shown below:

Georgia	3,282,600,366	651,579
Connecticut	2,285,454,659	1,123,038
Oklahoma	4,581,091,422	442,021
Wisconsin	4,487,725,258	3,180,685
Mississippi	1,344,860,020	146,888
Montana	1,149,732,986	247,006

The list is long, but throughout shows these comparisons as between Northern and Southern state. Wilson stands for spoils.

In his first year as president, Mr. Wilson signed four acts which authorized government appointments outside the civil service. The Civil Service Reform League, of which he was once a vice president, urged him not to sign the worst one of these bills, but he refused, and later this great national, Non-political organization criticized him in its annual report.

the attitude of the administration towards this subject we have Mr. Bryan's famous letter, part of which is as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Vick: Now that you have arrived and are acquainting yourself with the situation can you let me know what positions you have at your disposal with which to reward deserving Democrats? Whenever you desire a suggestion from me in regard to a man for anyplace there call on me. You have had enough experience in politics to know how valuable workers are when the campaign is on and how difficult it is to find suitable rewards for all deserving." J. W. Bryan.

Wilson's Foreign Policy

But it is when one turns to his foreign policy that one realizes the shortcomings that have characterized President Wilson's administration. He lifted the embargo and put arms into the hands of savages, Americans and other nationalities, and especially helpless and penable Mexicans, were subjected to all the horrors of uncivilized warfare. Neither sex nor condition of non-combatants was respected, but all alike, little girls, women, tottering old men, fell victims to the lust and brutality of rival factions.

At Durango in spite of the protest of the American Consul, and without any objection from our government, the city was given over by the constitutionalist general to the unrestrained license of his soldiers for 24 hours. American women were gathered in MacDonald's institute where their husbands barricaded the building and fought to preserve them from the rapacity of rebel soldiers.

Extort Promissory Notes

And then to cap the infamy, after Americans had been abandoned to their fate, and ordered to get out of Mexico the best way they could, Mr. Wilson's government extracted promissory notes from them, payable to Mr. Bryan, for transportation home, charging them 8 per cent, and furnished only steerage. Is it any wonder the honor of America has perished before the world?
