

HOLDS REPUBLICANS RESPONSIBLE FOR SPREADING OF SOCIALISM

Thomas R. Marshall, Notified of Nomination, Bitterly Arraigns the G. O. P. In His Speech of Acceptance.

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall was officially notified that he is the running mate of Governor Woodrow Wilson at the head of the Democratic national ticket in the coming campaign. Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, who was the presidential candidate of the party in 1904, made the notification address.

Thomas Taggart, national committeeman for Indiana, was master of ceremonies and introduced Judge Parker, who, as chairman of the committee, delivered the notification speech.

In his address notifying Governor Marshall of his nomination Judge Parker took his text from Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance. Judge Parker said there was a partnership between government and privilege, that this partnership resulted in public injury and that the Republican party was solely responsible for the partnership. He declared neither the Republican nor the Progressive parties could be trusted to break up the partnership and that the Democratic party could be trusted to accomplish that result.

Governor Marshall of Indiana in his speech of acceptance attacked the Republican party on the grounds that it had fostered special privilege to the point of making men everywhere socialistic in theory if not in conduct. In this connection he said:

"It is idle for a thoughtful man in America, whether millionaire or pauper, to longer play the ostrich. Safety does not consist in hiding one's head in the sands of either sentiment or hope. It is foolish for the vastly rich to keep on insisting that more and more shall be added to their riches through a special system of special legislation ostensibly enacted to run the government, in reality enacted to loot the people.

"Whether voting the ticket or not, men everywhere looking upon the awful injustice of this economic system are becoming socialistic in theory if not in conduct.

"I do not hesitate to say that if it be impossible to restore this republic to its ancient ideals, which I do not believe, and I must make the ultimate choice between the paternalism of the few and the socialism of the man count me and my house with the throbbing heart of humanity."

Conservative Spuds Become Live Sports

I. N. JOBE FINDS INSURRECTO ELEMENT RAMPANT IN HIS POTATO PATCH.

Even the humble potato, the conservative "spud," has thrown off the restraint of its time honored institutions and has begun to insurge along with the tight fitting hobbie, the bath-towel hat and the militant suffragette. Although the potato has long been classed as a patient, inoffensive tuber and seemed content to remain in the obscurity of potato hill until clawed from its dark abode for motives purely selfish. Now the potato has revolted, thrown off the sod covering, and sprung into the light, not content to be a progressive. It has been elevated to the class of "sport."

The vanguard of this insurrecto element in the potato patch that insists upon being called "sport" rather than "spud" made its first appearance in the vicinity of Valley City in the field of I. N. Jobe, living on the Ed. Bridges farm, three miles north of the city. Mr. Jobe discovered the scouts of the movement the other day attempting to hide under the leaves and tucked away in the crochets of the vines. He pulled up a vine and was astonished to encounter no more resistance than could be mustered by a group of stringy roots. There was not a potato of the old school in sight. Then he looked at the top-heavy vine. His eye centered on an embryonic specimen, a sort of runt potato very much blistered by the sun.

"Ah, ha," said Mr. Jobe, "so you are trying to grow on this end?"

The potato said nothing, but gradually began to wilt as the vine lay on the ground, while Mr. Jobe hunted his patch for more freaks of the

An IHC Corn Binder is a Profitable Purchase

WITH prices of farm produce at their present profitable point no farmer can afford to let any part of his corn crop go to waste, especially when there is an easy way to save it.

An IHC Corn Binder

Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee or Osborne

furnishes the easy way. By cutting the corn as fast as a team can walk and delivering it bound and ready for the shock, an IHC corn binder puts you in a position to harvest a forty-acre corn field in a week. The corn can be cut just at the time when the ears begin to glaze—when the stalks and leaves are most nutritious as fodder. When this is done the full value of the corn is secured. Then, if the whole crop is hauled to the barn and put through an IHC husker and shredder—Deering, McCormick or Plano—you have harvested your corn crop at the least possible expense for time and labor, and have on hand a goodly supply of palatable, nutritious corn stover for the winter feeding of your stock. The corn stover can be used largely in place of hay, enabling you to bale part or all of your hay, and sell it at good prices.

An IHC corn binder is a good machine to own. See the IHC local dealer and have him tell you the rest of the story. You can get catalogues and full information from him, or write
