CLUB APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO COLLECT EXHIBITS FOR SHOW

Enthusiastic Meeting of Local Commercial Body Insures Barnes County With Credible Display at Industrial Fair.

The Commercial club held an enthusiastic meeting at noon today and made preliminary arrangements for collecting an exhibit to be shown at the North Dakota Industrial Exposition at Bismarck in October. Those who attended the meeting were of the opinion that Barnes county should spare no effort in providing an exhibit that will excel all others in the state, and the committee appointed to manage the collection is made up of men who do things. A vigorous campaign will begin at once and all who are interested in seeing Barnes county to the front at the big state show are requested to get into communication with the Commercial club or its committee at the earliest date possible.

Farmers throughout the county have been much interested in the North Dakota Industrial Exhibition and many have been preparing to enter their choicest products for display at the state capital. Now that the organized movement is on foot it is thought there will be little difficulty in collecting all the best that Barnes county has to offer, and arrange to display the riches of the county to the best advantage.

The committee that will have charge of the Barnes county exhibit is composed of Otto Zeterberg, C. F. Mudgett, M. C. James, E. C. Hilborn and O. A. Barton. Edwin Mayland will superintend the gathering of the Barnes county exhibit.

The place for collecting the exhibits will be announced as soon as the committee has a meeting to further consider the matter. By leaving the matter of gathering the Barnes county exhibit in the hands of a small committee composed of hustlers, the Commercial club believes the best results will be accomplished in the shortest period of time. The committee will hold a meeting in the near future to outline just what sort of exhibit to prepare and then begin active work of assembling the products and articles needed to carry out the idea of an artistic, as well as industrial exhibit.

From present indications Barnes County will make the best showing this year it has ever made, and the interest shown at the meeting at noon today is advance assurance of success.

A luncheon was served at the meeting and it was a real get-together affair from beginning to end.

Express Packages Must Be In Early

Persons desiring to express packages must have them in the express offices one hour before train time. This is a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission which became effective Sept. 1. Under the new ruling all express packages must go through the express office and have a "collect" or "prepaid" stamp attached thereto. This system abolishes the practice of rushing to the train at the last moment and loading them without passing through the office. To comply with the ruling the local companies require all packages to be in their offices at least one hour before train time.

At Last N. D. Code Is Being Revised

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 11.—The special commission appointed by Governor Burke to revise the probate code of North Dakota is in session in the office of Judge A. G. Hanson in the county court.

The commission consists of Judge Hanson, George E. Wallace of Wahpeton and Mayor Charles S. Ego of Lisbon.

No revision of the probate code has been made in North Dakota since 1905 and the work of the three commissioners now engaged on that work will be very important.

Mrs. T. M. Tyler, who has been visiting her son, J. A. Tyler, returned to her home in St. Peter, Minn., yesterday.

Athletics On Tapis In Public Schools

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE GOOD FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL TEAMS AS USUAL.

Now that the routine of school has been established and students have settled themselves to the year's work, athletics are being talked and football and basketball teams will probably be organized next week. The high school, which has always had an excellent football and basketball team will not be able to complete its organizations on account of so many young men being in the harvest fields. J. A. Biggs, director of athletics, is anxious for the young men to come in for training.

"The boys will have hardened muscles and that is all," said Mr. Biggs, "and it will be necessary for considerable training to put them in shape to play football and basketball. We have the material for making a good team this year but will be a little late in starting. Interest in the games this year, however, will add zest to the training, and we will make up for lost time when we do get started."

The girls will likely have a basketball team but will play no public exhibition games this year.

The boys and girls in the grade schools have already started their football and basketball teams and there will be some lively juvenile contests between the Lincoln and Ritchie schools and the Model school.

Mrs. M. R. Nelson left this morning for Fargo where she will visit with friends for several days.

Cash Prizes Offered To Fair Exhibitors

ATTRACTIVE AWARDS HUNG UP TO ENCOURAGE DISPLAYS AT INDUSTRIAL SHOW.

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 11.—$1,500 cash will be distributed among the five counties having the best and most artistically arranged exhibits of grain, grasses, seeds, vegetables and other products, at the North Dakota Industrial Exposition. Of this sum $500 was donated by the Soo Line, $400 by the lumber companies doing business in North Dakota, $300 by North Dakota elevator companies, and $200 by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce.

Another special award that is attracting more than state wide interest is the prize musical contest that will be held Saturday, Oct. 12, in the Exposition theater. The best amateur pianist of the state who appears in the public recital will be given a magnificent, tone perfect, $500 Packard piano, donated by Peck's Music House of Bismarck, for the purpose of stimulating interest in the cultivation of music by the young people of the state.

One of the unique premiums offered will be prize No. 9338, given by the Studebaker Brothers company of Minneapolis. The firm will give to the farmer proving ownership and purchase date of the oldest Studebaker wagon a handsome new buggy, with auto seat, nickel trimmed, auto top, maroon gear and panel, leather trimmed. The buggy is one of the very best made by this corporation.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting in Boston

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—A call has been issued for the officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to meet in Boston, Sept. 20th. In the three days session they will discuss the work of the chamber and will decide on the date of the annual meeting. There is a general desire that this shall occur at a time of the year convenient for the majority of business men. There has been some discussion of the idea of having the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States preceded by general commercial rallies in each state of the union. This would bring under the notice of all parts of the nation the achievements of development in each state during the year 1912.

Grand Forks Mayor Calls Convention

Grand Forks, Sept. 11.—With the growth of the state municipal problems in North Dakota are beginning to assume such proportions that organized effort on the part of cities is required to cope with them and secure needed legislation. To this end Mayor Murphy of Grand Forks has issued a call to the mayors of cities and the presidents of villages in the state to meet in this city, Sept. 25, for the purpose of organizing a municipal league. In his call Mayor Murphy urges that most states already have such a league and that North Dakota cities need some organization, if necessary legislation for their growth and development is to be secured.

QUESTION AS TO EXISTANCE OF THIRD STATE TICKET NOW TALKED

Unless Candidates On Republican Ticket Refuse To Serve Party and Accept Nominations There Will Be Many Vacancies.

Anxiety and over zealotism on the part of self appointed state leaders of a third party state movement for a third state ticket, caused them to break precedent in all political history and conventions, by nominating a state ticket, without the consent of the nominees, and thus bring it about that, so far as a third state ticket is concerned, there is none, unless the candidates renounce allegiance to the Republican state ticket and join the corps of self appointed state leaders.

The mistake in nominating all the candidates on the Progressive Republican ticket, with the exception of governor and commissioner of agriculture and labor, without their hosts, places the executive committee of the state central committee, assisted by Chairman Dor, H. Carroll, in the position of attempting to force these candidates off the Republican ticket, if their action is really a mistake. The most charitable view assumed by those opposed to a third state ticket is to call it a "mistake" and give the self appointed leaders the benefit of the doubt as to their political acumen, sound judgment and ability to conduct a convention.

Wanted Presidential Electors.

Delegates to the state convention assert they attended for the purpose of selecting Roosevelt presidential electors, and not to place a third ticket in the field. If the law is adhered to and the candidates on the Republican ticket do not withdraw to accept the nomination of the third party state ticket, there can be no third state ticket in the field unless another convention is called, or the executive committee, assisted by Mr. Carroll, nominates a ticket in the same manner they nominated a candidate for governor.

One delegate in the convention raised the point that the law provides that candidates' names may appear only on one ticket. He was hushed by the chair and told that if they did not accept others could be appointed who would. That ended the matter and the convention took no action to delegate the power to fill vacancies to the state central committee, or the executive committee of the state central committee, assisted by Mr. Carroll. The adoption of the resolution authorizing the committee, assisted by Mr. Carroll, to name a candidate for the office of commissioner of agriculture and labor, is pointed out by delegates to the convention, that it was not to the sense of the meeting to allow these self appointed leaders to name an entire ticket. Otherwise, the convention would have closed with the election of Roosevelt presidential electors.

More of the Mix.

No one is absolutely accusing the executive committee, assisted by Mr. Carroll, of deliberately intending to defraud the delegates by knowingly usurping authority not granted them to name a candidate for governor and an entire state ticket, but the convention has turned out that way. The law says:

CANDIDATES ARE SATISFIED.

Candidates for prizes in the Times-Record's subscription contest, which closed last Saturday evening, have expressed their entire satisfaction with the manner in which the big campaign was conducted.

Just prior to the close of the contest, the following certificate was voluntarily signed by the various contestants, indicating their good faith in the contest, and their satisfaction with the methods of the Times-Record in putting it on:

We, the undersigned candidates do hereby certify that all subscriptions turned in by us are bona fide; that we have seen the prizes which are on exhibition, and that they are exactly as advertised; also that the number of votes set opposite our names was to the best of our knowledge correct.
Jas. W. Stull; Mabel Andrews; Elizabeth Clark; Marion Coyle; Alice Stenshoel; Frances Moran; Eva Bailey; Ida Tharaldson; Martin Farrell; Katherine J. Chase; Annie Brown; Martha Willberg.

"Section 617. Candidate's name in one column only. When the same candidate has been nominated for the same office by more than one assembly convention or body of electors qualified to make nominations for public office, such candidate shall file with the proper officer designated in section 626, on or before the day fixed by law for the filing of certificates of nomination for such office, a statement in writing signed by himself designating one of the columns upon such ballot allotted to one of the parties, assemblies, conventions or bodies of electors by whom said candidate has been nominated, as to the column upon such ballot in which such candidate desires his name to appear upon such ballot, and such candidate's name shall be printed upon such ballot in such column, but in no other. But if such candidate shall refuse or neglect to give notice to the proper officer, as above provided, specifying in which column he wishes his name printed on the ballot, then in such case the said officer shall cause his name to be printed in the column of the party or political organization from which he received first notice of such persons's nomination."

It is presumed that the self appointed leaders knew the law at the time of the convention. In fact, the attention of the chair was called to the provision of the law regarding candidates' names appearing on more than one ticket on the ballot. The fact that this point of law was raised and the convention took no action to authorize the committee, assisted by Mr. Carroll, to appoint a candidate for governor in place of Dr. Creegan, and a whole state ticket should the Republican candidates refuse to withdraw and join the self appointed leaders of the third state party movement, and the resolution limiting the committee to the appointment of a candidate for commissioner of agriculture and labor, is considered corroborative evidence that the convention did not intend to confer such sweeping powers as has been assumed and will be assumed unless there is a wholesale desertion from the Republican state ticket.
