The Valley City Furniture company is showing in its display window one of the finest group pictures ever taken here. It is of the old timers of the county, and was taken at Old Settlers day during the chautauqua, when several hundred old timers met there. Governor Burke and other prominent citizens of the state are shown in the picture.

L. A. Wood, who has about completed threshing on his large tract of land northwest of the city, was in town this morning looking for more men. Mr. Wood says that not more than one half of the threshing in Barnes county is completed. He will finish up in the course of the next two days, but there is a large number of farmers who have just started. There is still a shortage of men in the county, says Mr. Wood, but the situation is better than it was immediately after the rains.

Mrs. Ellis is a native of New York City. A crusade member of the W. C. T. U. In 1895 she became national superintendent of legislation, taking up her residence in Washington during the sessions of congress each year. She is very wide awake and a very interesting speaker. Only a few minutes can be allotted to these excellent speakers while the White Ribbon Special stops at Valley City, but come hear them at the Normal auditorium, Monday, Oct. 14, at 9:15 in the forenoon.

Today is the birthday of James Whitcomb Riley and admirers have planned to honor this day by a series of celebrations extending through the whole ensuing week. Indianapolis, his home city, is taking the lead in the movement, but "Riley Week" is to be observed with special exercises in the schools of many other towns. Mr. Riley is now in excellent health. The paralysis that attacked his right arm a little more than a year ago is steadily disappearing, and he says he feels as well as he ever did in his life. He has become an enthusiastic motorist and takes long rides almost daily in his big touring car, through the streets of Indianapolis and the surrounding country. His fellow townsmen are very fond of him, and proud of his national reputation as a poet.

Misses Candiss and Golda Nelson left Saturday morning for their school work in the State Normal at Valley City, N. D. The evening before the B juniors of the high school (Miss Golda's advisors while she taught here) entertained in her honor at the home of Leon Lawson. The class advisor, Miss Parker, chaperoned the class and the Misses Huston, Ogden and Thornberg, associate teachers in the high school were present. The evening was spent in games and music, and a substantial luncheon was served. The heavy rain added to, rather than detracted from, the pleasure of the festivities. —Sentinel Post (Shenandoah, Ia.)

Do you realize that there are only a little over two months until the holiday buying for this year will be a thing of the past? If you've got any Christmas shopping to do, do it now. The longer you put it off the harder it will become. You don't want to shop with the crowds if you can get out of it in any way. There is better enough as it is in trying to get just what you want for the little nieces and nephews, Mary and Willie, and all the cousins, aunts and uncles, and just think of the beves of dear friends that just must be remembered. It isn't an easy task under any condition.

All the state officials, headed by the governor, the presidents of the various clubs in that city, the city council and the ministers, will be on the receiving line that greet the delegates from the White Ribbon Special at a reception tendered them at the state capitol. Mrs. Thatcher, superintendent of the national work among the soldiers and sailors, will address the soldiers at Fort Lincoln. One of the women who has worked so successfully among the men in our prisons and jails will speak at the penitentiary at Bismarck. Still other speakers will go to the high school and the Indian school of our capital city.

Mrs. Stevens, national president of the W. C. T. U., the largest organization of women in the world has been characterized as a statesman among women reformers. She stepped into the office of president at the death of Miss Frances Willard. None felt Miss Willard's place could even be filled, however Mrs. Stevens has carried out the plans beyond anyone's hopes. She is a wonderful leader and as a business woman unequalled. It has been simply marvelous how the work has grown under her guidance. As a presiding officer, none excel her. In the absence of Lady Henry Somerset, she as vice president of the World's W. C. T. U., presided over the great conventions of that body held in Geneva, Switzerland in 1905. Hear Mrs. Stevens at the Normal auditorium, Monday, Oct. 14.

The young men of Devils Lake have taken the lead in starting a republican organization for the younger element of the party. Young men's republican club has been organized there and they will open their campaign next Friday evening with a monster banquet and rally at which Congressman Hanna and other leaders will speak. The affair will be the culmination of the county-wide trip of speakers and candidates, and is expected to be the greatest and most enthusiastic event of the kind ever held in the north half of the state, as delegations have promised to attend from other counties, while every precinct in Ramsey county will be represented. It is expected the young men of other counties will follow suit in organizing similar clubs.

Secretary of State Norton announces there will be a place on the ballots this fall for the third party candidates.

POTATO CROP ADDS $400 TO CHURCH FUND

Carrington, N. D., Oct. 9.—Raising potatoes will give the Congregational church of this city a fund of $400, harvest operations on the church's potato plot having just been closed with a yield of 1,200 bushels. Last spring a plot of ground was donated for the use of the church, and the men decided to plant it to potatoes, applying the receipts towards the church treasury. General potato farmers of this section will not dig all of their potatoes because of the high cost of labor and the low market price.

Henry Hall, the noted Washington correspondent for the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph, called at republican headquarters in Fargo yesterday and paid a glowing compliment to Congressman Hanna, whom he said was one of the most influential republican members of the lower house of congress, and that he was one of the hardest fighters against Canadian reciprocity. "Everybody in Washington likes Hanna, regardless of party," said Colonel Hall.
