At the meeting of the railroad commissioners, which is to be held in Bismarck next Monday, the date of the hearing of the Valley City depot matter will be set. It has been decided to hold the meeting here in the city in order that those interested may have a chance to be present. The matter of the allowing the trains to go over the high line is one on which even the people of Valley City are divided. The distance to the depot on the one hand is urged as an objection, while on the other hand it is urged that the town would be more attractive if the railroad property here was converted into a beautiful park. This hearing promises to be very interesting.
