GOV. L. B. HANNA ADDRESSES GRADUATING CLASS AT NORMAL

Takes Part In Morning's Program and Presents Members of Class With Their Diplomas.

For the twenty-first time in the history of the State Normal school, a class of students completed their Academic work and were presented with their diplomas this morning by Gov. L. B. Hanna, after President McFarland had presented the class to the state's executive. An impressive program was opened with the Academic March, which was followed by an overture by the Normal orchestra and a prayer by the Reverend Mr. Bublitz of this city.

The Ladies' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Fannie C. Amldon, sang "Ave Maria," and Miss Kathrine Fjelde played Liszt's "Liebes Traum" and the "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin. A second number by the Glee club completed the musical program.

Four students were called upon to read their theses "Resocializing the School" was the subject of an excellent paper read by Miss Edna Wiehe. Miss Mabel L. Jones presented "English in the Ninth Grade"; Elford Austford, "The Effects of Temperament on Health"; and Miss Ruth Swenson, "The Playground Movement in North Dakota."

At this point, President McFarland fittingly introduced Gov. L. B. Hanna, whose address, in part, follows. When he had completed, President McFarland presented to the state's executive the class of 1913, and as their names were read, they were presented with their diplomas by the governor. President McFarland, then, in a few final words again reminded the graduates of their duty to the communities in which they are to work next year.

Gov. Hanna had been invited to attend the exercises, but it was not known until late yesterday that he would be able to leave his duties at the capitol to attend. His address was replete with inspiration and follows in part.

Mr. President, Members of the Normal School Board, Faculty, Students and Friends:

I am glad to be with you here today although as your president has said it was hard to get here, but I am real glad that I came. It is worth while. I was up in the northern part of the state and did not get the invitation until late and would not have come had it not been for the resident member of your board. I met him at Minot and he told me I should come and how easy it was to get here, and I am glad I came. It is the first time I have ever been in the Valley City Normal School. I am ashamed to say this for I have lived in this state a good many years. I was in the legislature with Gen. Peake and so I have known of the Valley City Normal School. No one could be in the state long without coming in contact with Valley City and students who are always boosting the school.

A few years ago, I was down in the state of Massachusetts, the state where my mother was born and brought up, in fact where my people for generations back were educated. I went to the little school in Massachusetts. When I was there I went to see the little one-room school house, not red but white. I went down there and saw the little school house but it did not look quite as large as when I was a boy, and the hill down which we used to slide did not look so high, but all brought back recollections of the old days and memories of the friends I had forgotten for years. So I believe this class going from the Valley City Normal school will spread out all over this state. Some day you will come back to Valley City where you graduated with all the thoughts and memories of your school days—you will remember the boys and girls of those days. I tell you, friends, it is worth while.

We live in a great age, a great state. We think we are a little part of our nation, and we are. Sometimes I think the people who live away from here have so little idea of what we are and what we are doing. I was proud of the report of the census of the U. S. in 1910. North Dakota stood almost at the top in the fact that hardly a man, woman or child of school age could not read or write. No state is doing more for the education of its boys and girls than North Dakota. We have school land set apart for the support of our schools. The two Normal Schools at Mayville and Valley City have 80,000 acres of land. Valley City I believe, has 600 students, Mayville something like 300, making a total of about 1000 students for 80,000 acres of land. On the other hand the blind asylum has 26 students and 40,000 acres of land back of that. It would seem things were not adjusted just right. Sometimes, I think we do not look far enough into the future. When we are building towns or cities, we should look as far as possible into the future. Education costs money. These young people going out into the world will realize this.

I see a good many young ladies in this class. It may be their husbands who have to pay the taxes, but they will have to help their husbands. I tell you friends, education costs money, but it is well spent. We have a great state and many opportunities. As I have gone over the state, I have met young men who say they have no opportunities. Just the other day in one of the Fargo banks of which I am an associate, a young man said to me there are not the opportunities and chances there were a few years ago. I claim there are just as good opportunities today, as there ever were if boys and girls will only take them and do the best they can.

Some years ago, when I was down at the Isthmus of Panama, there were 21,000 men at work but only 4,000 at work on the construction. The other

Not Afraid of The Webb Law

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—Without a penalty for its violation, the distillers and brewers no longer appear afraid of the Webb law, which prohibits the shipment of liquor into prohibition territory except for personal use. For some time after the passage of the bill drafts sent for liquor were returned. This is said to be the case no longer and firms that a month ago refused shipments to North Dakota have again resumed.

During the last sixty days the state has been flooded by agents of concerns offering for sale powders and tablets from which substitutes for beer can be quickly and cheaply made. They have reported an immense business as many of the former users of beer are extremely anxious to get some thing that can be shipped in by parcels post instead of express. If a satisfactory product can thus be obtained it will have a tendency to relieve the threatened dry period among the beer drinkers of the state.

JURY VERDICT WAS GUILTY

IN SECOND TRIAL CLARK AND CROCKARD FOUND GUILTY OF OBSCENE PUBLICATION.

Bismarck, N. D., June 27.—The jury in Jim Jam Jens case returned a verdict last night at 10:30 finding Sam H. Clark, editor, and Clarence Crockard, business manager, of the magazine guilty on two counts of the nine indictments. Attorneys for the defense asked for a new trial on errors of pleading and in the charge to the jury but this was denied and sentence passed on them.

Each of the defendants was sentenced to serve two years in Leavenworth federal prison, pay a fine of $2,000 and half the costs of prosecution. An appeal will undoubtedly be taken to the higher court.

The case was given to the jury at noon yesterday and last evening at 7:30 o'clock it was reported they were unable to agree and asked for more instructions. They also asked what penalties could be imposed.

Judge Willard informed them they had nothing to do with the sentence and informed them that if they could only agree on one count it would mean as much as if all the counts were returned with a verdict of guilty.

State Fire Marshal Issues Fourth of July Warning

To the public: With the approach of the Fourth of July it is well to call your attention to the fact that many serious fires are caused each year by a too enthusiastic celebration of Independence Day. A proper and sane celebration of this day is one of the serious problems which concerns us at the present time. Fireworks are dangerous playthings and should be used with the greatest caution.

Every year much valuable property is destroyed, many people injured and many lives lost by the careless use of fireworks. There are some kinds of fireworks the use of which should be prohibited at all times and under all circumstances. Among these are cannon crackers, fire balloons, toy pistols, toy cannons and revolvers firing blank cartridges.

Private citizens and various officials of cities throughout the state of North Dakota should take extra precaution previous to the celebration of Independence day and all yards and premises should be cleared of rubbish, cellar doors and windows should be kept closed and stables and barns opened only when necessary, so that falling sparks may not cause serious fires.

In many cities the sale of dangerous fireworks is prohibited by law, but the common firecrackers, the Roman candle or the skyrocket may cause serious damage if they are not handled properly.

Allman Brothers Big Shows Will Be At Agricultural Fair

The advance representative of the Allman Bros. Big American Shows which are contracted to exhibit in Valley City the week of July 7th as the amusement attractions under the auspices of the Barnes County Agricultural Fair, arrived in the city today, and is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the organization which he is representing.

In speaking of the Allman Bros. Shows he said, "This season the Allman Bros. Shows are larger, bigger and better than ever, and that many new and novel features will be offered to the Valley City amusement lovers during their engagement. The shows and attractions are perfect in every department, and it is a well known fact among the show knowing people that the Allman Shows for the past ten years have been considered one of the most reliable and the most complete carnival companies traveling this country.

Nothing of a questionable nature has ever been tolerated. Not an act is presented or a word is spoken that could be objected to by the most refined person. The usual catch-penny affairs, games of chance, etc., that one so often meets with an attraction of this nature, are conspicuous by their absence. The contract made with the Allman Bros. Shows states specifically that each and every show and attraction is guaranteed to be clean, moral and just as represented. The list of shows offered were carefully gone over by the committee representing the Barnes County Agricultural Fair and they did not hesitate in offering them to their friends who are amusement goers.

Also that the Allman Bros. Shows were too well known to make any advance promises in regard to the class and character necessary, that no expense has been spared to secure the newest, best and most novel attractions possible, and it is not an exaggeration to state that with favorable outdoor amusement weather, this year's celebration will be one of the most successful ever held in this city.

Elmer Cowdery of Sanborn is in the city visiting friends.

Game Warden Hart Resigns

ALLEGED PRINCIPAL IN RYDER N. D. AFFAIR QUIT OFFICE

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—As the result of developments connecting his name with the recent suicide of a Ryder, N. D., woman, it is understood that Chief Game Warden George F. Hart of this district has tendered his resignation to the state game board. He announced he did not wish to embarrass either the state administration or members of the game board or his friends, and wanted to withdraw from public position until he could clear his name of the charges made against him. The board will probably accept the resignation at its next meeting.

Wardrobe Starts Something "Just To Get The Coin"

POPULAR GENTS FURNISHING STORE PUTS ON UNIQUE SALE —BIG OPENING DAY.

The frankness of the managers of the Wardrobe in advertising their special sale which is being held at this time, to say the least, savors of honesty of "Just to Get the Coin" is the slogan that has kept the store packed most of the time since the opening day and has resulted in a lot of satisfied customers, as well as a satisfactory inflow of "coin." This is a regular semi-yearly sale and means that the odds and ends of the stock is being closed out at low prices so that nothing may be carried over. This store has gained in popularity because of the policy of offering nothing for sale excepting new and up to date garments and in order to maintain this reputation, the store is making prices calculated to bring in the "Coin" with a rush.

Patent Stacker Is a Success

GRANHAM-ROACH DEVICE GIVEN TRY OUT AT BORDULAC YESTERDAY.

The patent stacker that promises to revolutionize harvesting operations in small grain countries was given a try out near Bordulac yesterday and proved all that was expected. E. A. Roach, who is interested in the patent with the inventor, David Granham, expressed himself as much pleased with the trial. The model used yesterday has been built at Bordulac this spring and will be given further trials during the summer. Straw is used to try out the machine.

As we stated in these columns exclusively several months ago, the stacker consisted of a frame attachable to a binder. The grain is cut in the usual way and elevated into a form, a man standing in the form to stack away the grain as it arrives. When the form is full, the grain is deposited on the ground, a clever arrangement being used that leaves two or three air holes at the bottom of the stack and running the length of it. The stacks are deposited in rows and fall plowing can start immediately, except on the small amount of ground used by the stacks. At threshing time a bull rake is used, which brings the stack directly to the machine, saving the expense of bundle teams, etc.

Many details and improvements are yet to be worked out but all who are familiar with the machine claim that the idea is strictly O. K. and that the machine will be a commercial success.

Several prominent speakers are present to address the teachers, most prominent among those being Dr. J. Adam Puffer of Boston. On Friday he will deliver his famous address "The Boy and the Gang."

BUFFALO LOSES TO VALLEY CITY IN CLOSE FOUGHT GAME LAST NIGHT

The Best Game of the Season Was Won in Ninth Inning---Home Team Has Close Call--- Score Was 1 to 2.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
The game with Buffalo last evening was won by the local team by a very close margin, the score being 1 to 2, in fact until the ninth inning the game was very uncertain. From the start both teams were in the best of condition and played close and careful ball. Unfortunately the attendance was not large, and the rooters were scarce but notwithstanding the handicap the game was a beauty and those who missed it, are to say the least unfortunate, if they have any taste for a good game of baseball.

Buffalo is anxious to come back and try another game, having expressed the belief that they will vanquish us next time so in all probability there will be an even better game between these teams at an early date. Manager McGarry announces that the 4th of July game with Jamestown will be another event of interest. It is also rumored that he will strengthen the local team by hard practice, in the hope of wiping out, at one time all of the victories that the Jamestown team has gained this season.

N. D. Slaughterhouses Must Be Kept Sanitary

STATE PURE FOOD COMMISSIONER ISSUES BULLETIN CONTAINING NUMBER OF WARNINGS

In his latest bulletin, just issued, Pure Food Commissioner Ladd of the A. C., has issued a number of warnings, one of the important features being an ultimatum to the owners of slaughterhouses that these places must be kept sanitary.

The Times Record publishes a number of extracts from the bulletin. Besides these the bulletin contains some valuable information regarding fake nostrums that are offered for sale in the state. It is one of the most interesting bulletins issued by the pure food department of the state in some time.

Concerning slaughterhouses Professor Ladd says:

Probably nowhere in the state will there be found worse conditions with regard to the handling of food products than those which are seen at the majority of the slaughterhouses. Here the conditions are far from sanitary; far from what is proper in the handling of animals intended for human food. Often the place where the animal is slaughtered is only an old shack, filthy and dirty, with no conveniences and no way of excluding flies and vermin. Back of this may be a mud hole where the refuse, intestines and often dead animals are thrown; and the hogs about to be slaughtered are permitted to live upon the same, thus rendering their flesh unfit for consumption. Aside from this, the conditions are at times so intolerable that it is hardly possible for a person to live with comfort in the neighborhood of these unsanitary and unhealthy places.

There is no necessity for this and the time has come when the people are demanding that these places be kept in shape and that sanitary conditions be provided. There will never be satisfaction until we have municipal slaughterhouses and all animals killed under proper inspection. The department is determined, however, during the present year, to carry on a campaign to do away with the kind of slaughterhouses now in general use, and to see that proper places are provided for the keeping and slaughtering of animals intended to be used as articles of food. Those who own such places, unless they take steps to comply with the requirements of our sanitary inspection law, which is stringent on this matter, will be prosecuted for they have had at least four years' notice at frequent intervals that the condition of these places was unsatisfactory and could not be tolerated.

"The Wardrobe" Entertains Walking Man

Yesterday morning "The Walking Man" who is out in the interest of the Walk Over Shoe Co., arrived in town and has since been walking circles in the display window of the Wardrobe Clothing Co. He is an active fellow has been in the game for some time and is still in apparently perfect health. He has not been banquetted or wined since his arrival here but does not seem to resent the scant attention paid or the usual courtesies paid a traveler of such attractive personalities. He will remain in the Wardrobe window for another week or so when he will leave for other points where he will continue his walk. The window display is unique and well worth visiting.
