One of the most unique, as well as charming affairs of the past week was the St. Patrick's Tea last evening at 6:20 o'clock given by the members of the Fortnightly Club at the home of Mrs. John D. Gray. The dining room was a bower of green and white, shaded candelabra holding green tapers centered the long table and the shamrock, dear to all kin of the Irish sod, further enhanced the snowy damask. The place cards were paper "Paddy" hats tied with bows and the favors were candy snakes. The menu was delightfully carried out in the same emerald hue and dainty conceits devised from the potato held nuts and bonbons. The guests numbered twelve and some part of their costume was in the prevailing shade. Following tea, Bridge was the diversion of the evening hours and favors suggestive of the occasion were given the holders of high and low scores. The guest of honor, Mrs. Gray, was also the recipient of a pretty gift.

Statement Made By A Farmer

I have been buying my groceries from a Catalogue House for many years. I handed my last order to A. H. Gray & Son and asked them to give me their prices on same. Their figures were lower than the Catalogue House, besides I saved over $2.00 on freight. Prices lower, quality better, delivered at my door. A saving of $2.00 on freight.

This is only one instance out of many. Any one that will give us a chance, we will convince them that we are not talking thru our hat, nor selling blue sky, but saying what we mean and doing what we say.

For the largest order we receive this month we will give a 50 lb. sack of Occident flour free. Avail yourself of all the advantages we offer.
