FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1914.

Judge Irgens of the probate court is sporting a new automobile. The judge has invested in a Little car, and from all appearances is getting the greatest possible enjoyment out of it.

J. B. Shearer of Dazey, who, it is said, will be a candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, is spending the day in the city on business.

Burl Carr was a visitor from his farm at Leal Friday evening to spend the weekend in town.

Miss Gladys Oglesby and Miss Hatie Eldridge, are in the city from Fargo to spend over Sunday with their families.

Both young ladies are attending the Dakota Business college. Inadvertently no mention was made of the work of Miss Lila Platon in "A Nautical Knot," given Thursday evening at the Armory by the pupils of the Public Schools.

Miss Platon carried the lead in the opera, and her work was beyond criticism, as has been the case in all of the productions in which she has had a part in the past few years, and the Times Record regrets the apparent neglect to commend her for it.

Mrs. Cook and family recently moved into the J. W. Noxon house on the north side.

W. E. Blume and family have moved into the Hauser residence on Eighth Avenue.

The residence formerly occupied by Alex. Karr and family has been taken by Mr. Calhoun, who is connected with the Chaffee company.

Mrs. Frank Ployhar has invited a small number of friends to play several tables of bridge at her home, this evening.

M. O. Grangaard came down from Rogers last evening, and spent a part of this morning here on business matters, leaving on No. 7 for his home.

Miss Grace Soolin, who has been employed in Fergus Falls, Minn., is in the city visiting her parents.

According to reports from St. Paul, Mrs. Walter McDonnell, who was operated upon there, Monday, is recovering rapidly.

Her husband, Mr. McDonnell, is with her in St. Paul.

Mrs. J. J. Earley left several days ago for a visit and shopping expedition to the Twin Cities and expects to be gone until the latter part of next week.

which was fully enjoyed by all present, the following program was given:

The address of welcome was given by Roy Weston followed by the Response from Harold Mayer.

Malon Cole addressed the company on the subject, "Our Seniors" and Erling Platou talked on "How to Become a Senior."

Mr. Taylor, principal of the High School spoke to the students having for his subject "Hand Grasp Hand" and the Farewell address was given by Lella Tracey.

Afterward a reading was given by Marion Messer in a very pleasing manner.

SAVE A LITTLE.

A Bank Account is Better Than One That Keeps One Broke.

It is quite possible that the American family is too optimistic. It is always going to have a larger income next year or in five years.

It desires to keep up in social matters with the people next door or farther up the street. It buys pianos or motorcars or encyclopedias on monthly payments.

But in most cases put no monthly installment in the savings bank. It has no margin of security.

How much better it is to have a margin of resources than to be living continually on the ragged edge of nothing as many of us do just because we are such devotees of the god of appearances.

While the high cost of living is one of the live topics of the day, a note of warning should be sounded—a warning against extravagance, a suggestion that every family make a deposit in the savings bank each month.

The future happiness and prosperity of the average American family depend upon the proper adjustment of income and expenditure. It is not what a man earns, but what he and his family save, that counts in determining the ultimate success or failure of his life from a material standpoint.

T. D. McGregor's "Talks on Thrift."

A Rapid Rimer.

In illustration of the working powers of George R. Sims, the dramatist and poet, it is said that one night a new piece was produced at a leading theater in London.

Sims sat at it and then returned to his office, where he wrote a column and a half of criticism in rime.

It was near the time for the paper to go to press when he began, and the boy took the piece verse by verse from him to the composing room, the boy walking continuously from one to the other for an hour.

IN HONOR OF HER SISTER.

Miss Nellie W. Farnsworth has issued invitations to a reception on Monday, May 11, from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home at the Sheyenne apartments, in honor of her sister, Mrs. G. L. Hubbell and Miss Florence Turner of Fargo.

At 3 o'clock the guests will meet at the Rex theater, where Mrs. Hubbell will read "Hiawatha," accompanied by Miss Turner.

Little cards of admission, accompanying the invitations will be presented at the entrance by the guests.

Domestic science students of Miss Farnsworth will assist both at the theater and in serving refreshments at her home, where the reception will be held following the entertainment.

As a reader, Mrs. Hubbell is well known, not only in Fargo, but about the state in general.

Of her recent appearance at Fargo college the local press mentioned the following:

"The Indian airs were genuine songs of the redmen gathered by an archaeologist while among the tribes of the Dakotas.

The reader and the accompanist pictured vividly the laughter of Minnehaha Falls, the thunder of the mountains, Hiawatha's hunt, Minnehaha's sad death and other well known situations in the poem.

The expressive shadings brought out by the accompanist harmonized wonderfully with the voice of Mrs. Hubbell and the general context of this favorite work.

"Those who know Mrs. Hubbell's work, realize the charm and strength of her personality. And yet so perfect an artist she proved herself, that the audience thought only of the characters that she made live before them."

Skating Step In the Maxixe

Posed by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle.

THIS is considered by many the prettiest step in the Maxixe. Starting from the position shown in the picture, step forward with the left foot, touching the heel to the floor. Follow up with the right foot in the regular Maxixe step; then repeat on the other side, making a deep sliding dip on the second count. It must be remembered that the dip comes only when doing the right hand step and is on the second count. The left step is an ordinary Maxixe straightaway.

An easy and graceful recovery following the dip must be acquired, as an ugly position in this part of the movement will spoil the whole effect of the dance.

TWO COLLEGE CONCERTS

After being warmly greeted in Carnegie Hall, New York City, early last spring, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra traveled by special train to Wells college, Aurora, N. Y., where it gave an afternoon concert for the girl students of this famous college on the banks of Cayuga lake.

The audience, made up chiefly of 300 college girls, insisted on a speech from Mr. Oberholfer after the concert. Mr. Oberholfer came diffidently forward to the edge of the stage and said:

"It is really out of my line to make a speech, but I am glad to tell you, the young ladies how much we have enjoyed playing for you this afternoon, and to apologize for the quality of the concert. It was impossible for me to make the musicians look either at their music or at me, and the result was rather bad."

The college girls at once caught on, and Mr. Oberholfer's happy little speech was received with much laughter and applause.

After the concert at Wells college the orchestra was carried, by special train, to Ithaca, where, one evening of the same day, it gave a concert to an enthusiastic audience of Cornell students.

Following these two college concerts, and while the orchestra was on its way to Buffalo, the wish was freely expressed by Mr. Oberholfer and his men that more concerts might be given for college students.
