British Gains Not as Great as They Were at First Reported

LARGE HOLE BLOWN IN BOY'S LEG BY SHOTGUN

Beech, N. D., Aug. 26.—While hauling water on a stoneboat near his home 14 miles north of town, Harley, the 16-year-old son of Willis Wallace, sustained a bad wound in his left leg as a result of a 12 gauge shotgun, which he had laying on the stoneboat. Neither bones nor arteries were injured, although the charge tore a hole three inches in diameter in the calf of his leg. He was brought to Beach to have the wound dressed and will be laid up at home for some time.

RUSSIA TO SEND TRADE BOOSTER TO THIS COUNTRY

Washington, Aug. 25.—The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce today received advices that the Russian-American chamber of commerce at Petrograd has designated Alexander Behr to tour the United States with a view of increasing trade in Russia. He will sail Sept. 3, and will visit the various commercial agents of the bureau in this country. Special efforts are being made by the bureau to facilitate Russian trade with the United States.

London, Aug. 25.—The official reports issued tonight, regarding recent operations in the Gallipoli peninsula set at rest rumors which had been in circulation for several days, crediting the British troops with having either cut off or outflanked the Turkish forces opposed to them. The reports state that while the ground gained is of great value, the true objective has not been reached. The reports admit heavy British losses but add that those of the Turks must have been heavier. Altogether the British hold a front 12 miles along the west end of the peninsula and at some points have penetrated at a considerable distance into the interior. The Turks are making a very stubborn defense on their positions but the allies have confidence in their command, and with the assistance of the fleet, the Dardanelles will be forced by the arrival of unfavorable weather which is due toward the end of September.

Weather conditions are playing a part in the operations on the eastern front. It is reported that the roads in Courland are softening already as the result of the continued rains and that the Germans are finding it more difficult to move forward their artillery.

Serbia's reply to the quadruple entente's note, respecting concessions to Bulgaria, was handed to Baron Sonnino, Italian foreign minister yesterday afternoon according to a Rome dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

Serbia's reply is expected to reach London today and there is reason to believe, it is stated in official circles, that it will concede the main points the allies have asked in behalf of Bulgaria in order to secure Bulgaria's cooperation in the war.

Reports from Swiss sources state that Roumanians are leaving Germany and Austria, which is taken in London to mean that she is preparing to cast her lot on the side of the quadruple entente.

According to the Times Petrograd correspondent, the Russians have already evacuated Bialystok, but will continue to hold Grodno until the bulk of the armies of the grand duke have reached their appointed positions to the east of Vilna.

Banner Year for North Dakota

Grand Forks, Aug. 25.—"Weather made to order," is the way crop experts in North Dakota speak of the summer of 1915. Of course this is the general average for the state. The result is a most bountiful crop, which because of foreign conditions will sell at much better prices than usual.

All over the country business men are optimistic. The Grand Forks Commercial Club has had its secretary in the east, where he has investigated business conditions as they relate to North Dakota. His report indicates that prospects are excellent. In an interview he speaks as follows: "The business situation, as near as I can size it up from hearing railroad people and other important business men talk, is very good, and there is very plainly plenty of money in the country."

"All the manufacturing concerns dealing with anything that is sold to the warring nations are doing a thriving business. For instance, the prices of lead, zinc, and spelter, among the most needed of products in the war, are way up, and there is a big demand."

"The steel plants of the country are all practically running at full blast, and are in a very prosperous condition. The domestic demand for motor cars in this country is larger than it has ever been, showing that there is plenty of money in the United States."

"The manufacture of merchandise and stuffs not having to do with the war is not as great as a year ago, but the increase in business along other lines more than offsets this."

"Some big business men with whom I have talked say there is plenty of money in this country, but people are not spending it as formerly, there being more of a tendency to save. There is not the building development this year that there was last year, and it would seem that American business men are putting most of their energy into manufacturing goods for the war."

"Crop prospects all over the country are fine, with few exceptions. In the northwest the crop situation is especially good, excepting in southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa, where the corn is in bad shape on account of too much rain. The crop outlook for North Dakota is very encouraging, and the general opinion in the east points to high prices for our products. There seems to be little hope for an early end to the European war as apparently the different countries are settling themselves for a long drawn out struggle."

T. Melvin Lee spent the day Thursday adjusting hail losses at Courtenay for the Middlewest Loan & Trust Co.

Florence Falstad left on No. 4 Thursday afternoon for Fargo and Hatton to visit friends at Fargo and her sister at Hatton. She expects to be gone about ten days.
