

Every Section Is Represented

Nearly 550 students have enrolled for the fall term at the Normal, representing practically every county in the state, and yet many of the young men will not return to their classes until after the threshing season. At least from 30 to 50 more students may be expected before the middle of the term, if the experience of other terms may be taken as indicative. The counties represented in the student body at the present writing and the number of students from each follow:

Adams 1, Barnes 134, Benson 10, Bottineau 9, Bowman 2, Burleigh 14, Cass 22, Cavalier 7, Dickey 4, Divide 4, Dunn 6, Eddy 4, Emmons 8, Foster 3, Grand Forks 7, Griggs 5, Hettinger 3, Kidder 4, LaMoure 10, Logan 1, McHenry 5, McLean 18, Morton 8, Mountrail 3, Nelson 7, Oliver 5, Pembina 9, Ramsey 8, Ransom 20, Richland 11, Rolette 7, Sargent 12, Sheridan 3, Stark 4, Steele 7, Stutsman 20, Towner 7, Traill 4, Walsh 15, Ward 1, Wells 6, Williams 1, Slope 1.

Ten outside states are represented in the student body this term by the number of students set after each:

Minnesota 57, Wisconsin 13, Montana 13, South Dakota 5, Canada 1, New York 1, Illinois 1, Michigan 1, Iowa 1, Colorado 1.

One foreign country is represented also this term. Sig Dyrda gives her home address as Telmarken, Norway, and outside of her home in Valley City, has no other in the United States.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

Your attention is hereby called to Sec. 3 of "An Ordinance providing for the care and inspection of premises to safeguard the public and property against fire," same being as follows:

"No person shall kindle, maintain or assist in maintaining any bonfire or other exposed fire within the city, except under written permission from the chief of the fire department, when such burning shall be done in metallic receptacles approved by him and under such proper safeguards as he may direct, as to time and weather conditions, and on condition that such permit carries an obligation on the part of the grantee to keep a sufficient safe control of said fire, and to be responsible for all danger therefrom, and that all resultant embers shall be extinguished and the hot ashes removed or wet down at the close of said fire."

The penalty for violation of this section is a fine of not more than $25 for each offense and not more than $100 for subsequent violations. Attention is also called to Sec. 2 of the same ordinance, which provides as follows: "Any person, firm or corporation desiring to manufacture, transport, sell, use, care for, keep or give away any high explosives, or inflammables, or other substances of like nature, or any materials, compounds, combinations or things whatsoever which may tend to increase fire hazard, or to conduct any hazardous business or operation, or to perform any service of like dangerous character, within the limits of this city, shall make application in writing to the chief of the fire department, and it will be illegal to proceed with such manufacture, transportation, sale or use of such high explosives, etc., until a license or permit shall have been issued by the chief of the fire department."

The penalty for violation of Sec. 2 is the same as for Sec. 3. Any violations of this ordinance will be prosecuted, and violations of same should be reported to the undersigned.

B. W. Elder came in from Chicago the latter part of last week. He has been in Chicago in the interests of his horse buying business. He reports that in this state alone he has bought over 5,000 horses for which the owners have received about $600,000. He will be in Valley City again for the purpose of buying horses Nov. 6, and will be buying horses in this state the balance of the winter.

Mrs. A. P. Holm, 101 West Fifth street, gave a progressive whist party of four tables Thursday evening. Mrs. R. Gisellus carried off high honors, winning a jelly dish of cut glass. Mrs. L. E. Hedstrum with the lowest score carried off the consolation prize, which was a baby deck of cards. Refreshments were served at the close of the game.

J. H. Warren, who formerly worked on the pusher here in the railroad yards, and who was injured in a wreck at Mandan this summer, arrived here on No. 4 Saturday. He expected to continue on to Brainerd the same evening.

North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' Annual Contest

Growers Take Notice:

As secretary of the North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' association, I am authorized to offer some very beautiful medals for the best fields grown. These gold medals are offered on the flax crop, the oat crop and the durum wheat crop. Those who wish to compete in this contest should immediately write for application or entry blank. Any citizen in the state of North Dakota who is a grower of seed can exhibit his seeds and compete for the ordinary prizes in the North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' association contest, free of entry charge, but, in the case of the field contests, special work is involved, and the givers of the medals have authorized that they be given only to members of the association. Therefore, those who wish to compete in these best field contests should send in their membership application with $1.00 for the year ending July, 1916, and ask for entry blanks.

These contests will be determined upon certification of the owner, and one neighbor that he has grown a certain number of acres of this seed. He will certify to the yield per acre, and to the amount that he is holding for sale as seed, that the sample transmitted to the pure seed laboratory is a fair representative of the seed as it will be prepared for distribution as seed. Any field over ten acres will be admitted. At the time the regular premium list is sent out, full instructions will be given relative to the points of judgment. Scores, however, will be made on the following features: Acreage, yield, commercial quality of the grain, purity, viability, strength of growth, and on the statement of the grower as to the method of growing the crop.

The usual amount of grain will be exhibited, namely, one full peck.

For further information address: H. L. Bolley, secretary-treasurer, North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' association, Agricultural College, N. D.

About 20 in automobile parties of three or four left Saturday morning for the vicinity of Pettibone where they went to secure game for the big feed to be given Wednesday evening of next week by the local K. P. lodge members. Among the bunch were H. Winterer, Nello Smith, I. J. Moe, Fred Frederickson, Dr. Wicks, A. G. Bonhus, Engebret Larson, Gus Becker and W. T. Craswell.

Jamestown Capital: John Kemp had his hand badly injured the first part of the week and three fingers had to be amputated. He was working on a threshing rig near Courtenay and caught his hand in the machinery. The wound is healing rapidly and he will soon be able to use the hand again, minus three fingers.

Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Milke, accompanied by Mrs. Milke's sister, Miss Alvina McDonner, left Saturday for their new home in Lewiston, Mont., making the trip in their auto. Mr. and Mrs. Milke were highly respected by their neighbors and all who knew them and their best wishes follow them to their new home.

Jamestown Capital: Miss Grace Reed left Thursday evening for Valley City where she will visit Miss Dorothy Knowles of this city, who is attending the normal, and other friends.

The Times-Record editor enjoyed a fraternal call Saturday from Editor Baron, of Fingal. He was stopping over a few hours en route to Fargo.

DOES PROHIBITION HELP FINANCIALLY?

Prohibition went into effect in North Carolina in 1908. The amount the state contributed for public schools in 1904 was $1,766,295.33. The amount contributed for public schools in 1912, four years after prohibition went into effect, was $4,488,752.57.

In 1908 there were 375 banks with $14,447,764 capital stock and $53,894,519 in deposits. In 1913, five years after prohibition went into effect, there were 484 banks with $19,478,271 capital stock and $100,870,211 in deposits.

Under five years of prohibition in North Carolina the state revenue increased from $2,616,439.62 to $3,668,085.07, or an increase of $1,051,645.45.

The value of all taxable property in North Carolina in 1908, the last four years of the saloons, was $573,485,331. In 1912, after four years of prohibition, the value of all taxable property was $740,713,962, or an increase in four years of state-wide prohibition of $167,228,631. At this rate of increase even West Virginia would be able to pay her share of the old Virginia debt in twelve years through the increased value of taxable property since it has gone dry.—The American Issue.

Conference Returned Rev. Vermilya to the City for Another Year

F. W. Heidel returned Sunday night from Fargo, where he had been for several days in attendance at the annual conference of the M. E. church of the Fargo district. He reports that Rev. Vermilya has been returned to Valley City for another year, which will be good news to the many friends of this popular clergyman.

Rev. James Anderson, who has been at Jamestown since closing his pastorate of the Valley City church, has been appointed district superintendent of the Fargo district and will probably make his residence in Fargo.

Rogers Man Injured Hand in Self-Eeeder

Chas. Mason, of Rogers, half-brother of Sim and Mart Mason of this city, suffered a severe injury to his hand Saturday when it was caught in the sprocket of the self-feeder on a separator. Two of the sprocket wheel cogs passed through the palm of the hand, breaking a couple of bones. Dr. Campbell dressed the injured member for Mr. Mason. Monday he was brought here to the office of Dr. Pray to have an X-Ray examination of the hand so that the broken bones could be placed in their proper position.

Barnes County at the Big Federation Meeting

(From Minot Optic-Reporter.)

Among the delights of the Wednesday morning session was a vocal solo by Mrs. Lewis of Valley City. She has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice and her rendition of her selection was superb.

Miss Deem, teacher of domestic science in the Valley City Normal school, gave an interesting talk on the subject of dress. She made the point that while styles change, the principles of dressing never do, and that the garment of ten years ago has the same basic principles in its construction that the one of today has.

An open conference on civics was conducted by Mrs. Frank White, of Valley City, who is a member of the board of the civics department of the general federation of women's clubs. The conference was full of thought and much valuable information was elicited.

Mrs. Zimmerman, of Valley City, who is at the head of the health department, had charge of the better baby contest work and Dr. Quain, of Bismarck, one of the prominent women physicians of the state gave her invaluable assistance. All day long, local physicians, dentists, eye and ear specialists and trained nurses were kept busy giving the various tests and they declared that the Minot babies furnished a splendid type of babyhood, many of them running above par in the mental and physical tests.

Mrs. Berlin reports much bird study in the fifth district. She has visited over 30 schools with a view of introducing bird study. Wimbledon has a local conservation committee. The Valley City Tuesday club has spent the past year on bird study, and will continue it this next year. Professor James of the Valley City Normal spoke to the club. A large number of bird houses decorate the city as a result of the club's enthusiasm. Sanctuary, Percy Mackaye's "Bird Masque" was read by Mrs. Berlin and acted in pantomime by the Wimbledon Audobon societies. Some exhibits of prints were also held in several places.

He Burned Out Engine Flues

Litchville Bulletin: When Monday evening's freight got as far as Kathryn the engine was temporarily left in charge of a subject of the sultan of Turkey. The Turk knew that the engine needed coal, but that water was also necessary never dawned on the Musselman. So he kept on shoveling in coal with the result that the flues of the engine burned out completely. Luckily he did not try to put in cold water after the locomotive got sizzling hot or he might today be flirting with the houris in the Mohammedan heaven. Thus the freight was stalled on the track and when Tuesday's passenger came along it had to stop an hour or so and shunt the freight off onto the sidetrack. The passenger reached here at 2:30 instead of 1:15 and the freight late Tuesday night.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

From Barnes County
Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, a corporation, appellant, vs. W. H. Stutsman, et al., the board of railroad commissioners of the state of North Dakota and W. F. Cushing, secretary of said board, respondents.

Syllabus: From a judgment of the district court that said railway company construct a crossing over their tracks near the village of Fingal, in Barnes county, the company appeals:

Held:
(1) Under the record there is no question open on this appeal concerning the jurisdiction or authority of the state board of commissioners of railroads to order in the crossing at the place in question. Thereafter, on the railway's appeal from said order the case was tried upon the merits anew on testimony taken in district court. Nowhere in the record, prior to appeal, was jurisdiction of the district court challenged. The parties could confer jurisdiction of the subject matter upon that court, and have done so, without objection. And no question of jurisdiction arises upon the record; the parties being held to the theory of trial as had below.

(2) On the merits involving the facts, the judgment was justified. Appeal from the district court of Barnes county, Coffey, J.

Lee Combs and L. S. B. Ritchie, Valley City, N. D.; John L. Erdall, Minneapolis, Minn., (of counsel), attorneys for appellant. W. H. Stutsman, Mandan; Henry J. Linde, attorney general, and Francis J. Murphy and H. R. Vitzing, assistant attorneys general, Bismarck, attorneys for respondents.
