North Dakota Templars Met at Grand Forks

Grand Forks, April 25.—Members of the grand commandery of the Knights Templar of the State of North Dakota assembled at the Hotel Dakota this morning at 10 o'clock and from there they were escorted to the Masonic temple by Sir Knights of St. Aldemar commandery.

About 75 members of the Grand Commandery are in attendance at the sessions, some of the prominent Masons in the city being Harry Lord of Cando, Clark E. Kelley and Allan V. Haig and Andrew Slade, Devils Lake; Walter A. Williamson and J. W. Carroll, Lisbon; Frank H. Sprague and John H. Fraire, Grafton; S. J. Hill and W. L. Stockwell, Fargo; ex-Governor Frank E. White of Valley City. The sessions of the commandery opened at 10:30 o'clock this morning and Most Eminent Sir Francis E. White, past grand commander and grand recorder of Nebraska, was officially received as the representative of the grand commandery of the grand encampment of the United States.

In his address he referred to the singular fact that his name is so nearly the same as the present grand commander of the state of North Dakota, ex-Governor Frank E. White.

The afternoon session was taken up chiefly with official reports and the address of the acting grand commander and appointment of committees.

At 3:30 this afternoon a short memorial service was scheduled to be held for the late grand commander, George F. Pike, and for the late past grand master Thomas Baker, Jr.

FRIED NOT A CANDIDATE

Jamestown Capital: The report was sent out that John B. Fried of this city would be the candidate for congressman in this district, opposing George M. Young of Valley City, the present incumbent. The report gained currency while Mr. Fried was in Wimbledon attending the wedding of his niece. Mr. Fried says the Capital may announce that he is "not a candidate for any office at this time." Mr. Fried is always a candidate for another land deal, but otherwise he is not engaged in any race for any political office for his own benefit.

Robert and James McGee left a few days ago for their farm near Daglum, and their father, E. L., went out Tuesday.

Drunken Boy Caused $25,000 Havelock Fire

Mandan, April 24.—"I've got her a going fine now!" is the statement alleged to have been made by Barney Adams, a young man of Havelock, after setting fire to the Charles Knox pool hall at 9 o'clock Saturday night. The resultant blaze caused a property loss of $25,000.

Young Adams is alleged to have been badly intoxicated, according to the witnesses who were called upon to testify at the hearing which was held this afternoon at Mott.

He went to the rear of the Knox pool hall where a small shed housed gasoline lighting apparatus. He is claimed to have poured gasoline over the wall of the pool hall then touched a match to it. Staggering to the front of the hall witness assert that he made the statement about "having 'er going."

The fire completely destroyed the pool hall together with all contents, and spread to the Peterson General merchandise store, and that building was also completely destroyed. The pool hall loss to building and equipment is estimated to be about $5,000, while the loss to the Peterson business on stock and building is at least $20,000.

A restaurant on an adjoining lot caught fire several times but was saved.

The entire citizenship of Havelock turned out to fight the flames and a special train was run from New England carrying fire fighting apparatus and scores of volunteers. This train arrived at Havelock about 9:45, and the work of the New England people saved the town.

Deputy Sheriff Wilhelm of Hettinger county was called to Havelock and took young Adams in charge. He was taken to Mott Sunday morning and the hearing was held this afternoon. The alleged incendiary is the son of W. B. Adams, one of the early settlers of Hettinger county, and reputed to be one of the wealthiest farmers in the southwestern section of the state.

Young Adams and others were enjoying a pre-Easter celebration in the Charles Knox pool hall at Havelock Saturday night, in which it is claimed considerable liquor was used.

Adams was admittedly in the rear room of the building, and was claimed by witnesses at the preliminary hearing late Monday afternoon to have come out to the front and said "I've got 'er going fine." They allege that he poured gasoline on the rear wall of the pool hall and touched a match to it.

Adams in his defense insists that he merely discovered the fire.

Barney Adams is the son of W. E. Adams, and the latter, an Englishman, with his four brothers also residents of the Havelock district, have been decidedly pro-Ally in their opinions on the war. As by far the greater majority of the residents of the district are German or pro-German in sentiment, there has been bad blood for many months.

This is claimed to have been manifested late Monday afternoon when the preliminary hearing was held at Mott. Ten witnesses were examined all of whom, it is asserted, showed but little regard for the defendant.

Adams was released under $1,000 bail.

Because of the prominence of the family intense interest has been aroused. Practically the entire population of Havelock was at Mott today to attend the hearing.

PURSUIT OF VILLA IS NOW OVER; CAPTIVE LOPEZ TO BE EXECUTED

Washington, April 24.—Confirmation of the capture by Carranza troops of Pablo Lopez, Villa's chief lieutenant, reached the state department from Consul Letcher at Chihuahua. The message said Lopez is being held in jail there until American officials or army officers could talk to him and satisfy themselves of his identity.

El Paso, April 24.—Neither General Bell at Fort Bliss, nor the military headquarters at Columbus, N. M., had any information regarding a Mexican report that American negro soldiers had an engagement with some civilians at Satevo. The report which is not credited here, said several negroes were killed.

Tuesday afternoon while a hunting dog belonging to W. J. Curren, was following one of his teams, it was struck by an automobile and instantly killed. It was a valuable dog and the loss will be felt by more than one sportsman when the chicken season arrives.

Miss Mary Hudson was an arrival Wednesday morning from Paynesville, Minn., for a visit of ten days or two weeks with friends.

Minneapolis Firm Gets Jamestown's New Depot

Jamestown, April 24.—Agent Hein of the Northern Pacific has learned that the contract for the construction of the new Northern Pacific depot at Jamestown has been let to the E. G. Evensta Construction company of Minneapolis. The above company secured the contract for the depot building, the viaduct and retaining wall. The matter of sewer construction will be settled later, on the outcome of negotiations now under way with the city council for the Northern Pacific company to join with the city in the matter of proposed sewer running south-east from Second avenue.

A representative of the Evensta company is expected in Jamestown today to look over the ground and make arrangements for beginning work.

The amount of the successful bidder's bid was not given out, but it is known to be in the neighborhood of $125,000 for the work above outlined.

The Evensta company has done a great deal of the heavy construction work of the Northern Pacific in recent years, having built a number of roundhouses and buildings of a similar nature in the twin cities and other points. The company was the lowest bidder by a considerable amount in competition with 42 other bidders. It is possible much of the work will be sublet, such as teaming, hauling, excavating, etc., although nothing yet is definitely known on this point.

Red River Is On Second Big Rampage This Year

Fargo, April 26.—Flood waters of the Red river are again menacing homes in the low areas and thousands of acres of land are flooded, the result of the recent rains. Island park is half submerged and Fourth street south, one of the pretty thoroughfares of the city, is flooded for the second time this season.

It is not believed that the flood will reach the stage it did earlier in the season, which was 29.9, nor is it believed that the waters will reach 25 feet, the flood stage. Street car traffic on Fourth street south, which was halted early in April by the city authorities, who maintained that the condition of the ground beneath the pavement was not in condition for heavy travel because of the big flood, is still tied up. For several days prior to the second flood light travel was permitted.

Water has crept into the basement of the auditorium flooding the furnaces. The two new dwellings south-east of Fargo college will be seriously damaged as the result of the second rise of the waters. Fargo college stadium is once more a great basin.

The rise of the waters for the second time this season was noticed at Wahpeton the latter part of last week. Last Friday the river rose three feet in 24 hours and has continued to broaden out since that time.

The United States weather bureau observer's report at noon yesterday gave the stage at 24.1, compared with 23.7 at the corresponding hour Monday, or an advance of six inches in 24 hours, which is considered alarming in face of the breadth of the stream.

LULL ON BATTLE LINES

Paris, April 24.—Although there is at present a comparative lull in the Verdun battle, with the infantry on both sides remaining comparatively inactive, apparently there soon is to be a resumption of heavy fighting as a heavy bombardment has started in the Dead Man's Hill region.

Berlin, April 24.—"The Nord Doushe Allegmeine Zeitung" says: Over Seas News agency reports, "that recently rumors have been spread about peace offers from our enemies." It was said that the Russians had taken the measures in order to open negotiations. German authorities will ignore completely any such proposals. All these rumors are inventions."

London, April 24.—The Italian steamer Joseph Agost Tcherzee has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew was landed.

London, April 25.—An attack on the German positions on the Belgian coast by British warships is reported in an Exchange Telegraph Co. dispatch from Amsterdam. The bombardment is described as one of the heaviest in this region during the war, and also of the longest duration. The damage at Zeebrugge was enormous.

W. J. Curren went to Minneapolis Tuesday to buy material for his new contracts in Jamestown.

Mrs. Geo. Hager came in from her farm home Wednesday and will undergo a slight operation.

German Airships Raid England

London, April 25.—German battle cruisers appeared off Lowestoft today. The announcement of the appearance of the German warships was made in an official statement. Local naval forces engaged the raiders and also British light cruisers. The German warships retreated in 20 minutes.

In the engagement two British light cruisers and one destroyer were hit, but none of them sunk.

The following official announcement was made: "At about 4:30 o'clock this morning the German cruiser squadron accompanied by light cruisers and destroyers, appeared off Lowestoft. The local naval forces engaged it and in about 20 minutes it returned to Germany, chased by our light cruisers and destroyers. On shore two men, one woman and a child were killed.

"The material damage seems to have been insignificant so far as is known at the present time. Two British light cruisers and a destroyer were hit, but none were sunk."

Lowestoft is on the North Sea coast, about 100 miles to the northeast of London. It is almost opposite The Hague.

On previous occasions attacks have been made on the English coast by German warships. The most important was the raid made Dec. 16, 1914. The towns of Scarborough, Whitby and Hartlepool, about 150 miles north of Lowestoft were bombarded and about 130 were killed. Aided by the fog the German vessels escaped.

On Jan. 24, 1915, a further attempt of the kind was made, but the German squadron was met off the Dogger bank by a British cruiser squadron under Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty. On being sighted, the Germans made for home at very high speed. Their rear ship, the Bluecher, was sunk and two other cruisers were set on fire and damaged severely.

The British flagship Lion, disabled by a shot in one of her feed tanks, was towed home. The first German naval raid on the British coast was made Nov. 3, 1914.

POWERFUL INFLUENCES IN GERMANY OPPOSE BREAK

Washington, April 24.—Indications that powerful influences in German politics are opposed to any action by the Berlin government which might lead to the severance of diplomatic relations with the United States are understood to be contained in confidential dispatches received today by the state department from Ambassador Gerard. Socialist and labor leaders are represented as being in main part adverse to any such move.

Other dispatches from Mr. Gerard were said to contain strong indications that the Berlin government would make some concession to the United States in reply to the note demanding the immediate abandonment of present methods of submarine warfare. It still is uncertain whether the concessions will be sufficiently broad in their scope to meet the American demands.

Officials allowed it to become known that Gerard's dispatches indicated that Germany would go to any great length, to preserve friendly relations with the United States. Ambassador Gerard is understood to have gained his views during conversation with Berlin officials, including Foreign Minister Jagow.

His dispatches are said to emphasize the difficulties by which the German government is confronted in endeavoring to find a way to meet the demands of the United States without arousing the element which insists upon a relentless submarine warfare against the shipping of the entente allies.

The state department tonight was awaiting a dispatch from Gerard reporting the results of a lengthy conference today with Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial German chancellor.

Miss Norton, of the State Normal school, will entertain her brother, W. W. Norton, Wednesday and Thursday while the university glee club is in the city, of which Mr. Norton is the director.

Miss Alice J. Fisher will return Thursday from Rochester, Minn., where she has been taking treatment for some time past.

Carranza Can Handle Bandits

El Paso, April 25.—Assurances that the Carranza government is prepared to cope with the Villa bandits in northern Chihuahua is expected to be made by Obregon at his coming conference with Scott, chief of staff of the United States army. Obregon, it is learned in Mexican official circles, will develop his plans for policing the northern Mexican country in detail with the hope that they will prove acceptable to Scott.

Should the plans be deemed adequate by Scott, the Carranza government will again renew its request of the American government that its troops be withdrawn from Mexico.

Anders Garcia, Mexican consul, is expected to obtain some official information as to what time Obregon will reach Juarez. Garcia thought the conference might last several days as it is understood here that the details of a proposed protocol relative to dispatching of armed forces of either government into each other's territory to run down marauding outlaws, would be carefully discussed as well as the plans of Mexican government for policing the border to insure the safety of Americans and to prevent a repetition of the Columbus massacre.

That several weeks at least will elapse before the troops are withdrawn from Mexico appears evident from the amount of food and forage being sent south from the Columbus base.

J. A. Lester, who will have charge of the building of the new postoffice, arrived in the city Tuesday and will begin operations at once.

W. H. Beachem returned Tuesday evening from the northern part of the state, where he had been on a business trip for about ten days.

Jamestown Capital: Loren Ritchie of Valley City and Attorney Robinson of Fargo argued a suit in chambers here this morning.

Rev. J. M. Taylor, of Bismarck, is in the city and will preach in English in the Scandinavian M. E. church tonight.
