GREENWOOD & HOUGHTALING OFFICIAL PAPER BARNES COUNTY Subscription, $1.50 a Year, in Advance

Entered at the Postoffice in Valley City, North Dakota as second class mail matter.

Boys, your country calls—fall in.

Members of the militia can vote by making use of the absent voters law.

To use one of Roosevelt's assertions, the Mexican situation is worn to a frazzle.

Sparrows have a strong appetite for dandelions. Moral: Plant your dandelions in the trees.

The worst feature of preparedness for the militia boys will be the absence of mother's cooking.

After a few more hundred years the people of the middle west will begin to build roads that are permanent.

The sun came out clean this morning, the skies having been thoroughly washed and rinsed for two days.

If the summer passes without having the clocks set ahead an hour they will certainly pause before trying it in the winter

Texas could have done it alone, but the other states demand the privilege of helping to clean up the greasy spot south of the Rio Grande.

The possibility of Col. Fraine being called away with the troops is causing the politicians to begin estimating what the result will be in regard to other candidates.

A ruction with the greasers will bring out another bunch of tough names, but after the experience with those European war maps the newspapers ought to get by without much difficulty.

That Frank Heimes has made a good county commissioner must be conceded by all. Aside from this he is a progressive farmer, a good roads enthusiast and a fine fellow. The large vote he will receive in the primary will attest to his standing.

How much better is the plan of saying something good about a person or saying nothing at all. The repeating or printing of scurrilous articles about candidates just before elections is not only foolish, but contemptible. It never changes votes unless it be to the gain of the party attacked.

Is the Mexican problem to be solved at last? If the country has to go to war with our southern neighbor the call to the flag may show a bad state of preparedness due to a vacillating policy. In the end it will bring out the fact that the nation is ever ready to support the flag and will never stuffify the national motto—E Pluribus Unum.

The Evidence is At Your Door. Valley City proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt.

Adolph Hovelson, 718 Tenth avenue, Valley City, says: "I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a good remedy for kidney trouble. I used a box about four or five years ago for backache and general disorders of the kidneys. They had previously been taken in my family with good results and I am glad to say that they did me as much good as they had done the others. They cured me of backaches and other kidney disorders."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hovelson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

M., of North Dakota, last year, and on retiring he was presented with a very handsome Past Grand High Priest's jewel. The lodge meetings were very enthusiastic and there was a large attendance of representatives from the various lodges. On Wednesday evening the Enderlin lodge put on the Royal Arch degree and exemplified this work. Mr. Jones and Prof. Brown returned home from Fargo on Wednesday.

SOME READABLE VERSE

FLING OUT THE FLAG! A timely poem, by Miss Sarah J. Jones, of Buffalo, W. Va., who says she has "enjoyed the protection of the Stars and Stripes for over 73 years and desires to express her grateful appreciation."

Fling out the flag, the grand old flag That bore the onslaught of the foe When ruthless hands, in all their pride,

Were lifted for our overthrow, And signs that led to glory's goal Were crimson footprints in the snow.

Fling out the flag that floats to save, When trembling weakness dares to cope

With grim Oppression, iron-heeled, And timid souls in darkness grope, Till bannered stars dispel that gloom Where black despair eclipses hope.

Fling out the flag, the sheltering flag; Ye who have sought its friendly screen

And eaten salt of liberty, There lies no middle path between Base treachery and loyalty— The honor code of Bedouin!

Fling out the flag, the priceless flag! Despite of foes, or new or old,

Of anarchy at home, abroad, Of lust of power and greed of gold, It proudly waves o'er land and sea, And shelters freedom, fold on fold.

Fling out the flag, whose heaven-born hues

Are emblems of Creation's song, And earnest of the coming day For which earth's sorrow-burdened long;

When Might shall ever stand for Right, And Light and Truth shall conquer Wrong.

REVEILLE.

The morning is cheery my boys, arouse!

The dew shines bright on the chestnut boughs,

And the sleepy mist on the river lies, Through the east is flushing with crimson dyes.

Awake! awake! awake! Over the field and wood and brake, With glories newly born, Awake! awake!

You have dreamed of your home and your friends all night;

You have basked in your sweethearts' smiles so bright: Come, part with them all for a time again—

Be lovers in dreams, when awake, be men.

Turn out! Turn out! Turn out! You have dreamed full long I know, Turn out! turn out! turn out!

The east is all aglow Turn out! Turn out!

From every valley and hill they came The clamoring voice of the fife and drum;

And out on the fresh cool morning air The soldiers are swarming every where

Fall in! fall in! fall in! Every man in his place, Fall in! fall in! fall in!

Each with a cheerful face Fall in! fall in!

—Michael O'Connor.

LIFE'S COMBAT

It's fun to fight when you know you are right

And your heart is in it, too, Though the fray be long and the foe be strong.

And the comrades you have are few, Though the battle heat bring but defeat,

And weariness makes you reel 'Tis there's a joy in life that can know such strife

And the glory and thrill you feel.

When the wise ones pant that you simply can't,

It's fun for a fighting man To laugh and try with a daring eye

And prove to the world that he can, And if you stick till your heart is sick,

And lose when the game is done, It's fun to know that the weary foe Paid dearly for what they win.

It's fun to dare in the face of despair

When the last lone chance seems gone, And to see hope rise in the angry skies

Like a promise of rosy dawn; For victory's sweet when it crowns defeat,

And you learn this much is true— It's fun to fight when you know you're right,

And your heart is in it, too! —Berton Braley.

A CREED

To live as gently as I can, To be, no matter where, a man;

To take what comes of good or ill And cling to faith and honor still;

To do my best, and let that stand; The record of my brain and hand, And then, shall failure come to me To work and hope for victory.

To have no secret place wherein I stoop unseen to shame or sin; To be the same when I'm alone As when my every deed is known;

To live undaunted, unafraid Of any step that I have made; To be without pretense or sham Exactly what men think I am.

To leave some simple mark behind That I have lived for men to find If enmity to aught I show To be an honest, generous foe;

To play my little part, nor whine That greater honors are not mine. This, I believe, is all I need For my philosophy and creed.

BURCHILL-FOUKS.

On Wednesday, June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burchill, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Anna Marie, to Eile L. Fouks, of New Richmond, Wis.

At the appointed hour of 10:30 Miss Gladys Fridt sang "Beloved, It Is Morn" and "Because," after which the wedding party entered the prettily decorated living room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Miss Burchill entered on the arm of her father and was attended by Miss Lulu I. Fouks, a sister of the groom. Mr. Fouks was attended by John H. Burchill, a brother of the bride. The ring ceremony was used, Rev. Moultrie officiating.

The bride was attired in a white georgette crepe dress; she wore a wreath veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. After the congratulations a three-course dinner was served, the Misses Alga, Minnie and Annie Olson and the Misses Kathryn and Emma McKay assisting in the serving. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out, a pink maline bow marking the bride's place. There were 125 guests present at the wedding and Mr. and Mrs. Fouks received many beautiful gifts.

The bride's traveling costume was a blue taffeta suit. Mr. and Mrs. Fouks left Wednesday night for Wisconsin. They will be at home in Minot after July 15.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George J. Fouks and Miss Lulu I. Fouks, of Deer Park, Wis., and Carl Opdahl, of Sheldon.

Bilious Attacks

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

WESO CLUB PICNIC

Wednesday afternoon the Weso club had a picnic at Chautauqua grove. There were present 20 in all. Fishing, foot and stick races and sewing were the sports of the afternoon. At 6 o'clock a picnic supper was eaten near a big camp fire. Everyone had a good time. The club is to have a vacation during the summer months.

EAST AND WEST

"Men look to the east for the dawning things, For the light of the rising sun, But they look to the west, to the crimson west, For the things that are done, are done.

The eastern sun is a new-made hope From the dark of the night distilled. But the western sun is a sunset sun, Is the sun of hope fulfilled."

BRAGDON GETS SEVEN YEARS AT HARD LABOR

Minneapolis, June 22.—Confinement at hard labor in Stillwater prison until discharged by due process of law or competent authority was the sentence imposed today on Joseph W. Bragdon, who on Saturday at the close of his third trial was found guilty of an assault upon Irene Potvin, a 14-year-old girl.

Stay of execution was granted pending argument on a motion for a new trial to be heard September 11. Bragdon will remain at liberty under the $35,000 bonds now in effect, provided the county attorney's office decides the form of the bond valid. Judge Fish had denied Bragdon the sentence from three months to one year in the county jail. Unless paroled or pardoned he must serve the full term of seven years, less the time allotted for good behavior, the maximum of which would be about two years. Bragdon showed strains of the sentence only once, when he heard the word "prison."

The members of the Degree of Honor held a business meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Reed, on Elizabeth street. There were about 15 members present. The resignation of Mrs. James Algeo, who has been filling the office of treasurer, was accepted, as Mrs. Algeo is leaving the city soon to make her home at Rhinelander, Wis. Mrs. C. E. Jenkins was elected to fill the unexpired term and Mrs. Clyde Smith was elected inside watch to fill another vacancy. After the installation there was a social hour and refreshments were served. The Degree of Honor will hold a special meeting on Thursday evening of next week at the home of Mrs. Andrew Anfinson.

Mrs. E. P. Robertson was an arrival in Valley City on Wednesday afternoon for a few days' visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Hunt, in her Sheyenne apartments. Mrs. Robertson came in on No. 4 from Jamestown, where she has been visiting with friends.

BAKERS LOCATE AT BISMARCK

Mrs. Chas. Baker was an arrival in the city on Thursday evening for a short visit here at the home of Mrs. John D. Gray, on Elizabeth street. Mrs. Baker is on her way west from Chicago, where she has been visiting her sister, Miss Hazel Stevens, who formerly lived here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baker. Friday night Mrs. Baker will go on to Bismarck, where Mr. Baker has gone into business, and where they will make their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Baker, until recently resided at Billings, Mont.

Tuesday evening the Misses Anna and Alice Ramseth were the hostesses at a pretty party and miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Klara Bonhus, a bride of this month. The evening was spent at hemming towels for the bride, and for entertainment several musical numbers were given by the Misses Egge. After the miscellaneous shower of useful and pretty gifts, the hostesses served an elaborate supper. Pink and white were the colors carried out in the decorations. Covers were placed for 16 girls, the places for the guests being marked with dainty place cards, and little nut baskets were at each place. After the supper was over the guests departed for their homes after extending many good wishes to the coming bride, and declaring they had never spent a more enjoyable evening. An out-of-town visitor at the party was Miss Bessie Tollefson, of Everett, Wash., who is visiting at the home of Miss Bonhus.
