FUNERAL OF CAPT. JOHN W. MURPHY

The funeral of the late Capt. "Jack" Murphy was held at Sanborn on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Catholic church in that city. A large delegation of Valley City friends went up to Sanborn to attend the funeral. The following is a short history of the deceased taken from the Bismarck Tribune:

Death early Monday morning took Capt. John W. Murphy, one of the capital city's best known citizens. For more than a quarter of a century he had been actively identified with the North Dakota national guard, having served in the Philippines with the North Dakota volunteers.

He was elected captain of Co. A, First North Dakota National guard, in the spring of 1917, and he commended that company during the several months which the North Dakota troops spent on the border in 1917. He went to France a year ago at the head of his company, remaining in command until ill health necessitated his retirement several months ago.

For several years the deceased had been a sufferer from chronic Bright's disease. This condition was aggravated by a recent attack of Spanish influenza, which was the direct cause of his death.

Capt. Murphy was born at Ferham, Minn., 38 years ago. In his early youth he came with his parents to North Dakota, and the family located at Sanborn, where the father, Thomas Murphy, still resides. About seven years ago the deceased came to Bismarck to become secretary at the state penitentiary, a post which he continued to hold until he entered active military service. July 6, 1917, he was united in marriage at Valley City with Miss Bess Owen. He is survived by his young widow, his father, Thomas Murphy, who was in the city when the fatal seizure came; two brothers, Capt. Henry T. Murphy and Lieut. Ben Murphy, in military service in France, and a brother, William, at home.

From Monday's Daily

Do you know that the American Red Cross has organized 3,863 chapters and 16,000 branches; has provided and delivered 230,000,000 surgical dressings, 10,000,000 knitted articles, 10,600,000 hospital garments and 1,100,000 refugee garments?

Attorney E. R. Sinkler, of Minot, was a Valley City visitor over night, leaving for Bismarck this morning to look after some law business. He arrived on the Soo last night which train was five or six hours late on account of some trouble west of here.

Word has been received from Northern Division Red Cross concerning a recent shipment of the Barnes County Chapter A. R. C. Barnes county has reason to be proud as special mention was made that the shipment was not only perfect but deserving of high praise.

Henry Dybedal, a single man, 33 years old, died at Riverside hospital following an operation Saturday. He will be buried tomorrow afternoon, the funeral being at 2:30 from Our Savior's Lutheran church, Rev. C. G. Naeseth officiating. Interment will be made in Woodbine cemetery.

Corporal Oscar Opsahl, formerly N. P. operator at this point, arrived from Camp Custer Friday night to spend a couple of days furlough with his wife. He will return to camp tonight. Mr. Opsahl was given a Thanksgiving furlough without solicitation, which is mighty nice of the war department.

Barnes County Chapter A. R. C. has been selected one of eleven chapters in Northern Division to make special kinds of convalescent garments. A class taking up the making of these garments is being held in Minneapolis. Mrs. Henry Nelson, the Barnes County Chapter representative chosen to go left on Sunday as the class begins work on Monday.

Station Agent J. J. Chamberlain proposes to be in the limelight himself for a while at least, and is now practicing up with a view to trying for the church choir. He has one of those deep "base" colds that puts Prof. Meyers out of the running, and while it is of the "sawhorse" variety it may develop into a real voice if J. J. lives to be as old as Methusalem.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Strawman arrived from Moccasin, Mont., Thanksgiving day to spend the holiday season at the home of Mrs. Strawman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Mason. They expect to leave here Wednesday night for Davenport, Iowa, to visit friends, and relatives, after which they will continue their trip to Florida, the Panama canal and on to California. Mrs. Strawman was formerly Blanche Mason and was married a short time ago, now she and her husband are indulging in a wedding trip.

Mrs. W. F. DuVall arrived home from Mandan early Sunday morning where she had been with her son George, who has been very sick for several weeks. She reports the boy sitting up and doing well. Several of the other children are down with light attacks of the influenza and she was called home to attend to them. W. F. still keeps his health and if he does not get it we shall feel that part of our newspapers can be delivered, because he has been helping us out wonderfully while two of the carrier boys are out of commission. There is one thing to be said about "Billy." If you get in a pinch he is a mighty good man to make a pinch hit for you. It will be a grand and glorious feeling when "fu" takes a final hike from the country.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw have received an announcement conveying the news that Miss Cora Burnice Houghton and Mr. James Franklin Hazard, both of Cooperstown, were married on Wednesday of last week at Cooperstown. The happy young people are well known to us and are both excellent young people whom we certainly wish the best of health and prosperity and a long and happy life. Miss Houghton is known to many people here as she attended the Normal school and graduated from that institution. Her husband is a splendid young man, operating a large farm near Cooperstown and where they will live in a modern home. The bride is a young lady of sterling worth and will be a home builder and splendid companion to the one she has chosen for a life partner. Congratulations.

The nonpartisans are reported to be rounding up the legislators for the coming session of the state legislature and we are told that friend A. E. Bowen is now going around welding the iron collar of submission to Townley dictation on the necks of the league members of the legislature. We used to hear much of how Boss Alex McKenzie used to rule North Dakota but he sinks into pale insignificance compared to the iron rule of the league leaders. Alex. used to let the boys vote for themselves expecting when it came down to railroad legislation but now a leaguer gets no chance to think for himself, he is supposed to vote when the crank is turned—right or wrong. Such is the way the state has been rid of boss dictation—not so you would notice it.

Tom Murphy was down from Sanborn this morning looking after business matters in the city.

Charles Maier is making substantial improvements on his property at the corner of Sixth avenue and Helena. He has erected a nice garage, has raised his house and is adding a good addition and porch. When it is covered with stucco old residents will hardly recognize what was once known as The Gull River house, which old timers remember as one of the leading homes in the early days.

Mike laughed at the Judge

for chewing Gravely.

The Judge came right back at Mike with a friendly chew—just a couple of little squares off his plug of Real Gravely.

Mike found that the chew stayed with him for a long while, and the more he chewed the better it tasted.

"There's the real tobacco satisfaction," says the Judge; "and it costs nothing extra to chew this class of plug."

It goes further—that's why you can get the good taste of this class of tobacco without extra cost.
