

MAKES PLANS FOR INTERNATIONAL LABOR LAWS

Paris, Jan. 20.—With the American plans for the league of nations completed, President Wilson was rounding out plans for international labor legislation today. The president's position is said to be that is possible until the threat of the economic competition situation is settled. It was expected that he would make some public declaration on these plans in the two speeches that he is to deliver today. The addresses were to be delivered at a luncheon tendered by the French senate and the chamber of deputies. The American program it is understood, for labor legislation provides the incorporation of several vital principles in the peace treaty; international child labor laws, protection for women workers, regulation of working conditions, and agreement on hours of labor to constitute a universal working day. In his speech in Italy the president emphatically declared that the labor question must be one of the foremost things in regard to the league of nations. The American platform is based on its own ideas and of the other allied powers. Those familiar with the plan say that it is the best yet submitted and it embodies many of the features of General Smut's program and contains many of the British features.

FIGHTING FOR FIRST PRINCIPLE

Paris, Jan. 18.—The first sitting of the peace conference today found President Wilson partial victor in his fight for recognition of his first principle—open covenant. The gag rule that was first imposed on the conference to make the sessions secret has been modified to a certain extent. It may be stated that the president will continue his fight for fuller recognition of his principle. He wants more publicity. Today's peace conference sitting was planned to be somewhat of a formal affair with an impressive turnout of troops with President Poincare giving a keynote speech. Long before the hours of meeting crowds gathered in the street on the way to the foreign office to cheer the delegates as they passed. President Wilson's fight for an open conference backed by all the American correspondents. He was finally successful in securing a rule whereby newspaper men would be permitted to the peace conference. The situation as it stood today was similar to that in the United States senate where reporters are allowed to attend all sessions except committee meetings and executive sessions. The president's fight for his first principle was unique in history because of the strong support coming from the correspondents of the United States and all the allied newspaper men except France.

FOLLOWING TROOPS ORDERED HOME

Washington, Jan. 18.—The following units have been assigned for early convoy. The second battalion of the 372nd infantry and 371st infantry of the 93rd division; 11th engineers of the water tank train headquarters first battalion 1, 2, 3, 15, 21 companies of the 20th engineers and the 15th and 16th engineers complete.

HOLLAND NOT INVADED

Amsterdam, Jan. 20.—Holland was not invaded like Belgium because it was the repository for the former kaiser and the Austrian emperor, the Haagsche Post revealed today. The newspaper said that five millions of the kaiser's money and 25 million of Franz Joseph's money were transferred from London to Dutch banks in July 1914, at the request of the kaiser.

EBERT FAVORS PRES. WILSON'S PRINCIPLES

Berlin, Jan. 20.—Chancellor Ebert told the United Press today that Germany will do everything in her power to comply with the peace conditions based on President Wilson's fourteen points but if the allies make further demands I will not take the responsibility for signing the peace treaty. He said Germany needs peace immediately so that she can get food and material so that the people could go to work. He declared that the Sparticans had lost their revolution and that no more serious outbreaks would occur if the people were fed, but if they were not fed "we must be ready for anything," he said, "we must have a fair peace," declared Ebert. We stand on President Wilson's platform which was the basis on which we signed the armistice and we will do everything to control conditions founded on his points. It is possible though that the enemy will make further demands. I could not take the responsibility for signing the peace treaty in that case I could not take the consequences and I would resign. I do not know what would happen after that. Asked who he thought responsible for the war Ebert said, "that is a question that I cannot answer off hand, personally I feel that the blame was not wholly Germany's alone."

WOMEN RUNNING FOR OFFICE

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The national election in Germany today was dominated by women who were voting and running for office for the first time in the history of the country. Practically in every district the women were in majority over the men and there were at least one or two women's names on every ticket in every district. It is understood that the majority socialists will have things largely their own way.

WANTS INTERNATIONAL PROHIBITION

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 20.—International prohibition and a dry world was suggested for a plank in the league of nations in the South Dakota house today. Action was begun for a passage of a resolution memorializing congress to use every possible means to secure as a plank in the league of nations international prohibition. The discussion of the league of nations will take place at the next sitting of the peace conference at Paris.

ALLIED REPRESENTATIVES IN SECRET CONFERENCE

Paris, Jan. 20.—President Wilson met the representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan in a closed conference this morning to take up the questions arising from some of the credentials of the smaller nation's delegates. The questions must be settled before the peace conference can get down to business on the league of nations. While nothing has been made public in regard to representation it has been known that the Balkan situation provides opportunities for such a tangle. It is clear the course of the peace conference will not be smooth if the credibility of certain delegates credentials are not adjusted. No date has been set for the resumption of the general peace congress but it is understood that it will get under way tomorrow. Meanwhile memoranda on the league of nations, international labor regulations and responsibility for the start and continuance of the war was to be submitted today. A committee on credentials was formed Saturday and a representative from each of the nations present is a member. When today's conference opened only the five big powers were represented.

RUSSIAN SITUATION TAKEN UP

Paris, Jan. 20.—The Russian situation was formally taken up by representatives of the associated powers at a meeting in the Quay d'Orsay this forenoon it was officially announced. The conference lasted from 10:30 to noon. The president of the United States, premiers, ministers and foreign ministers of the allied governments assisted by Baron Makino, Japanese ambassador in Paris met in the Quay d'Orsay between 10:30 and twelve this morning, the official statement said. M. Moulens, French ambassador to Russia, who returned a few days ago from Archangel addressed the meeting giving the facts of the Russian situation. The next meeting will take place Tuesday morning at 10:30, when the delegates will hear M. Scavinius, the Danish minister in Petrograd, who left the Russian capital very recently.

COMMISSION ATTACKED

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 20.—The Minnesota public safety commission was expected to be attacked in the house as it convened at 2 p. m. today for the first time since last Saturday. At the last session both houses at a request from Governor Burnquist was read asking the senate to use $200,000 or as much as needed of the $1,000,000 funds to aid returning soldiers and sailors who have no jobs in sight and those who have no means of support. No action was taken on the governor's suggestion by the senate but an effort was made in the house to rush a resolution thru carrying it into effect. Representative McGrath halted this. By a close vote the house decided to lay the resolution aside until copies of the bill could be printed and passed out to the members to be studied.

THE EMERSON WILD OAT SEPARATOR

Also Known as the Kicker

The capacity of the power separator is: Wheat for market, 60 bu. per hr.; wheat for seed, 35 to 50 bu. per hr., depending upon amount of oats contained in the mixture; barley for seed 25 to 35 bu. per hr.; rye for seed, 30 to 50 bu. per hr. The hand separator is just one-half as much as the power separator.

Thousands of elevators in the worst wild oat sections of the Northwest are now using our one-shoe separator to determine accurately the exact amount of dockage contained in each sample of wheat they buy. We are offering you this absolutely perfect separator to clean your seed Wheat, Barley and Rye.

If you are having any trouble with the wild oats you will find this separator will save you a great deal of money in just one season as you can sow your seed wheat, barley and rye and not put one kernel of oats back on the land with the seed. If the separator does do this as we say, remember our cast iron money back guarantee. Give us the chance to show you that this statement is an absolute fact.

We will deliver this wonderful separator complete with all screens and riddles, freight paid to your station, for power size, six-shoe separator, $130.00; hand size, three-shoe, $85.00, terms cash with the order. Remember each machine is sold with an absolute guarantee that it will do all we claim or your money refunded. We are never asked to refund the money as the machine does the work. Every purchaser is a satisfied purchaser. We would not have a dissatisfied customer.

Make a good start this season by sowing perfect seed.

Know Whortleberries?
Very few people, we suspect, have tasted whortleberries, and many do not know what they are. There is an excuse for their ignorance, as experts were long in doubt whether the fruit was the same as the bilberry; but now they are agreed that they are one. The Scots call them blueberries on account of their color, which is a genuine blue, and so in the "Merry Wives" Pistol instructs the fairy to "pinch them blue as bilberry."
