BLOODY FIGHTING MARKS SABBATH IN IRELAND

Dublin, Nov. 22.—Police forces today raided Sinn Fein gathering places in search of leaders of the outbreak here yesterday. The police were supported by patrols of troops and machine gun squads. The number killed in yesterday's murder raids on British officers remained at 14 with 12 victims reported killed in a counter raid of police in Croke Park. Ten were shot in Croke park and two killed in the stampede following the police attacks.

Disturbances continued far into the night. A number of persons were reported killed. Police and soldiers on patrol duty have been instructed to keep the streets clear.

Hospitals were reported filled with wounded, but it was said only 80 had been injured in the fighting. Fires along the Dublin docks were extinguished with little damage. They were reported to have been accidental. All roads were blocked today by heavy patrols of soldiers and police backed by armored lorries. All conveyances were searched for arms and all persons were forced to deliver any papers in their possession.

The railroads operated no trains. The docks were watched as carefully as any other means of egress.

Irish official authorities declared numerous important Sinn Fein documents relating to plans for further attacks on the Crown force were taken in the raid on Croke Park.

The Sinn Fein attacks were launched at 9 a. m. Sunday when 200 gunmen conducted raids on quarters of British officers.

A major, six captains and five lieutenants were among the victims. They gained admittance to hotel apartments by force. Most of the victims were caught in their beds. Two were shot in the presence of their wives. The raiders withdrew from Captain Newbury's apartments, leaving the officer's body hanging limp from the window, and the newly made widow screaming in fright. Six officers were reported wounded in these raids.

The Irish office acted at once. Orders closing the roads were issued and strong forces were sent to Croke Park where it was hoped some of the raiders would be apprehended.

There about 6000 persons had gathered to watch a hockey match. Apparently the crowd in general had not been told of the outbreak for it was quietly watching the game. The government's version of what followed was that Sinnu Fein pickets fired on the approaching police and the fire was returned.

The crowd at the first shot was in confusion. Exits were blocked and men fought women in their efforts to avoid the fire of the Sinn Fein pickets and police. A man and woman were trampled to death as the 6,000 surged backward and forward.

Seventy were injured there. Most of them were hurt in the scuffling and a few suffered bullet wounds.

The Irish office said documents of great value were taken from prisoners seized. The officials attacked in the morning were all connected in the search for Sinn Fein leaders and documents concerning court martials.

Activity against the Sinn Fein movement recently has resulted in the compilation of a great mass of documents and the raids were believed to have been conducted to regain them as well as to discourage further activities.

PARTY LINES TO BE FORGOTTEN

Washington, Nov. 23.—Party lines are to be obliterated and forgotten by mid-western and western members of the house and senate this winter in an effort to remedy the situation which has stirred resentment among farmers and live stock raisers, it was learned today.

Informal conferences held between democratic and republican senators from western states have resulted in a decision to hold a formal conference of all senators from the western state soon after the December session begins, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska stated today.

At this conference a working program is to be mapped out, if possible, for concerted action by senators from farm and live stock states, regardless of party, in the interests of the producers. The first test of their strength is to be made on the Kenyon-Kendrick packer bill which will come before the senate as soon as it meets.

Hitchcock said today he and other democratic senators will support the measure with amendments which they seek in order to remedy some of the evils the wheat and corn growing farmers are complaining of.

Senators hostile to any regulation of the packers are preparing to talk the bill to death, but Hitchcock predicted they would have difficulty in side tracking the measure because of the strong support it will command.
