The well known Humpty-Dumpty that took a great fall, took even a bigger one today. One Valley City store advertised eggs as a special at 20c per dozen. This is the lowest price reached by this well known commodity for months, and the sudden reduction promises to boost egg buying for the Easter dinner.

The Times-Record is in receipt of a letter from Burl Carr from Long Beach, California, in which he desires us to stop sending his paper to that place as he is leaving on the 26th for home by automobile coming over the Santa Fe trail by way of Flagstaff, Arizona and on through Denver, Col. He says the Jordan car is working just as good as the day he bought it, so he must be well satisfied with it.

One Barnes county boy gained honors when the North Dakota University debating team defeated the team of the University of Manitoba at Winnipeg. The North Dakota team was composed of Fred Aandahl, a Litchville boy, and Jalmar Muus. The two upheld the negative side of the subject, "The advisability of admitting Germany into the League of Nations as an aid to the Peace of the World."

He had hidden the loot in a feed manger. Nolan waived preliminary hearing and bonds were fixed at $2000.

One of the biggest parties staged by a lodge in the city this year, was enjoyed by K. of P. members and their friends last evening at the K. of P. hall. The fake second degree was put on, and declared to be a success in every way. Following the play, the light fantastic was tripped by young and old alike, until midnight when a delicious lunch was served. Card playing was also enjoyed. Several hundred people were present for the occasion.

Telephone rates will not be reduced immediately nor will the telephone business ever return to a pre-war basis, according to A. J. Melnes of Dazey, N. D., president of the North Dakota Telephone Association. He gave two reasons why the cut in rates would not be made. His first reason was that the laws now on the statute books have set or will set a minimum and this minimum is higher than the standard of wages prior to the war. His second reason was that where there should be, and is, a reduction in materials, yet the telephone industry does not use materials in the raw state, but in the manufactured, and as labor enters largely into the manufactured article, hence there is not immediate or sweeping reduction in prices of materials.

Telegraphic dispatches from Washington state that Frank White of Valley City, is a strong candidate for the position of U. S. treasurer, the post recently vacated by John Burke, former governor of North Dakota. Mr. White, also a former governor of the state, is said to have strong backing and to have been prominently mentioned in official circles in Washington. Lyman J. Baird of Minnesota is a candidate for the position. It is not known just when the appointment will be made.

A spirited tilt is promised next Tuesday when the Valley City High School team and a team composed of basketball players of previous years in the High School meet in the new gymnasium. After showing splendid form at Minot and romping away with the state championship, it is believed that the High School team will give the "visitors" a battle royal, although several of those playing on the opposing team are now playing on college or university teams.

The North Dakota National Guard has been allotted 17 of the surplus army trucks and part of this number already has been shipped, Adjutant General G. A. Fraser has been informed. One truck has been ordered shipped direct to Grand Forks, one to Williston, and one to Jamestown for use by the National Guard companies of those cities in carrying men to and from rifle ranges and for use on hikes on which it is necessary to carry surplus equipment. With Company G of Valley City organized this city will perhaps be allotted one of the trucks for the use of the company.

The invitation of Mandan to the North Dakota Telephone Association "to come and enjoy the hospitality of a western city," provided a winner and the 1922 convention of the association will be held in that city. Other candidates for the convention city were Jamestown and Minot. The same corps of officers that served during the past year was re-elected, the official roster being: A. J. Melnes of Dazey, president; M. M. Boreman of Abercrombie, vice-president; H. W. Wilson of New Rockford, secretary-treasurer.

If the present brand of weather continues, and the roads dry up so as to make travel possible, farmers from all parts of the county are expected to be in the city on Tuesday, March 29th, to attend the Farmer's Institute, which has been arranged by Emberton & West, local Ford dealers. Mr. West has just returned from the east and was so impressed by the enthusiasm evinced by farmers over institutes there, that he decided that his company would sponsor one in Valley City. Speakers of national prominence have been secured to address the meeting on topics that will be of special interest to farmers.

It is believed that a full house will greet J. W. Brinton when he speaks here next Monday evening in the High School gymnasium. Considerable interest has arisen in the speech, since Brinton is one of the well known politicians in the state at the present, at one time being A. C. Towney's private secretary, and later breaking with the big chief and the nonpartisan league. His work as secretary to Towney gave him many of the inside workings of the league until he finally became disgusted with the alleged crooked work that was being conducted and broke with the league. He is now telling the voters of the state the menace of Towneyism. Brinton is a fine orator, and will be well worth hearing.

Announcement has been made of the sale of the Farmer's Mercantile Co., of Valley City to Niel McFaden, possession of same having gone over to Mr. McFaden on March 15. The new firm name has not been announced yet, but the old company name is retained at the present time. The business, of course, will be conducted at the same place. Mr. McFaden has been in the contracting business in the city, but we do not know whether he will give up this trade to assume an active part in the management of the store. However, the Times-Record wishes Mr. McFaden the best of success in his new venture, and hopes to see him build up an already thriving business. The location of the store is on East Main street.

F. L. Watkins, group chief of state prohibition officers, who has been assigned to the northwestern part of North Dakota with headquarters in Minot, visited Minot yesterday with the view to recommending to the attorney general the number of men he will need for carrying on the offensive against whiskey runners during the summer of 1921. "It has not been determined as yet just how many men I will be given in this work, but I am assured of sufficient help. Authority has been given state agents to use Browning machine guns if necessary, so we are going to be prepared should the whiskey smugglers start using the guns they are known to carry," said Mr. Watkins to a Minot newspaper representative. The state of North Dakota is cooperating more extensively with the federal government this year in their drive against violators of the Volstead law.

A snappy game is promised on next Tuesday evening when the Valley City high school 1918 champs meet the Valley City High School 1921 champs at the High School gymnasium. Several of the players that will be seen in action on the 1918 team have not been seen in the games in Valley City for some time, which accounts for the fact that so much interest is being manifested. Stenshoel and Busdicker, both ex-stars of the Valley City High School, now on the all-state team of the U. of North Dakota will be seen, together with Cook, one of the big point getters for the American Legion during the past season, and Bowen and Anderson, both Valley City boys. The game promises to be a whirlwind from beginning to end, and will prove a fitting climax to a mighty successful season for the Valley City High School team.

Attorney Lee Combs is the first Valley City citizen we have noticed driving a new car. He now sits at the wheel of a very fine Willys-Knight sedan, and seems to enjoy the ownership of this fine car. We don't blame him, because he has a good one.

A note from Mrs. A. E. Lane and Miss Kern, who have been spending the winter in California, asked us to change the Times-Record address from Los Angeles back to this city. They expect to leave for home on Thursday of this week. The spring migration back from California is now under way.

Easter Sunday was very cold and stormy and the thermometer was down to six below this morning. The storm covered considerable territory taking in North and South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota. It was a freak storm in Minnesota, tornado doing much damage around Rushmore followed by a blizzard of snow.

Every basket ball fan in the town will want to go to the gym tomorrow night to see the fast game to be played by the two champion teams. It is not going to be a one-sided game by a long shot and if the 1918 champions win over this year's bunch they will know they have been in a basket ball game.

Married—Miss Helen DeLancey was married today to Phil Brick of St. Cloud, Minn., March 28. Helen is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. DeLancey of Valley City, N. D. She grew up here and her many friends wish her a great happiness. Mr. Brick is a brother of Mrs. A. Doerner of this city and is employed by the Great Northern railroad.

We hate to tell about it but that snow storm of last Saturday was a cracker-jack, coming as it did right on the heels of Easter. We had the biggest fall of snow of the winter and it put a cramp on all business so far as any country trade was concerned and our merchants who had made elaborate preparations for the Easter trade were certainly out of luck.

Word from the Agricultural College came to the effect that two or three day clothing schools will be organized in communities where there is sufficient demand for them. Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole, state home demonstration leader announces. Applications must be made through the county farm agent or either extension agent and must contain the signatures of at least eight women who promise to attend all sessions of the school.

The Epworth Methodist Episcopal choir rendered last evening a very beautiful and impressive aster Cantata entitled, "From Sepulcher to Throne," under the direction of Miss Chatburn, the efficient leader. The men's quartet and the solos by Ronald Wright, and Mrs. A. W. Lee deserve special mention. They were supported by a well balanced chorus which showed skillful leadership. It is the desire of many that such services may be held at frequent intervals.

If that championship basketball game between the Valley City state champions and the Madison, S. D., state champions is pulled off at Fargo, as now being talked of, and the roads are good for automobile travel, Valley City will be on hand by the hundreds to root our local fellows over the victory line. We have every confidence in our local champs and believe they could put it over our South Dakota neighbors in good shape. We hope the games can be arranged.

Following the usual custom, the Congregational church held its early Easter Sunday morning service at 7:30 at which time a large class of new members were taken in. The usual 10:30 service followed and the evening service at 8. At the Methodist church special services were held and in the evening a musical cantata was presented in fine shape. A special farmer's mass was celebrated at St. Catherine's church with special music. At the other churches special Easter services were held with special music. Despite the inclemency of the weather large crowds were out to the various services.

Barnes county farmers who have seed grain for sale to farmers in drought stricken areas, who accept the government loans, or who buy under the state seed bonding act, should take reasonable care to see that the seed which they furnish for that purpose is fit for seed said Dean H. L. Bolley, state seed commissioner. This is urged because of the fact that seed is needed that will produce a crop that will make it possible for the future crop to be sold under the commercial grades. Most of those who buy seed live on new lands. The seed they buy should not only be good enough for them to raise a crop, but should be free from weed seeds and diseases and mixtures that the use of the seed should not prove an injury to surrounding lands.

This is the night that Job Wells Brinton, arch traitor so-called of the nonpartisan league—that is what the league papers call him—is to deliver his talk at the high school gym on the inside workings of the league. Having been the confidential secretary to Friend Townley and having been the main spoke in organizing the consumers store proposition, the newspaper syndicate, knowing all about our 24,000 acres of sisal land in Florida, owned by Mr. Townley and supposed to be paid for by the people's money. Mr. Brinton is in a position to give you some real facts of the workings of the state socialist machine that has put the state on the "blink." He charges the nominal fee of 35c for his lecture and we opine it will be worth three times as much. Better go out and hear him. He is a good speaker and carries in his talk a line of humor that makes his speech interesting. He has the dope on the bunch and will spill it tonight.

We received a check for renewal of the Weekly Times-Record this morning from G. K. Andrus, who will be remembered here by the old timers, as a former attorney in this city. Mr. Andrus is living and practicing at Denver, Colorado.

H. P. Brown, the bonanza farmer of Lakewood township, was an arrival in the city yesterday morning on his way home after spending the winter at his old home in Michigan. He stopped over to hear Brinton give the league a "panning" at the High School gym last evening.

A card received by the editor from W. T. Craswell who is at Stevens Point, Wis., visiting Mrs. Craswell conveys the good news that Mrs. Craswell is much improved and that she will not have to go to New Mexico. Her friends will be pleased to hear this good news concerning her.

L. E. Hedstrum and H. L. Lundborg attended the funeral of C. P. Ingmundson, at Jamestown yesterday. Mr. Ingmundson was well known in Valley City, being a salesman for the Williams Hardware Co. He died Saturday. The funeral services were under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, and were declared to be very impressive.

"It's no use," sighs the nature wizard. "I may as well give up." "What is bothering you?" we ask, sympathetically. "I got started a few years ago on a whim of mine. I took a head of cabbage and crossed it with a white potato and grew eyes on it; then I crossed that with a cornstalk and grew ears on it; then I crossed that with a squash and grew a neck on it; then I crossed that with a coconut and grew hair on it, but hanged if I can figure out what to do for a nose and mouth!"—Chicago Journal.

The Town Criers Club will be hosts to the employers and employees this evening at a banquet to be given at the Rudolf Hotel. In other words the employers are to play the host to their employees. There will be a good program provided for the evening's entertainment and one of the chief features of the program is to be a talk by Mr. A. W. Gilpin, sales manager of the Ford Motor Company. Mr. Gilpin is said to be a fine speaker and will have something worth while to say. Songs will be sung in between courses and the occasion should be one of pleasure and profit to all concerned.

The Masonic concert and ball is to take place tomorrow evening in the High School gymnasium. For the concert part of the program El Zagal Chanters of Fargo have been secured and we want to say that they will give a fine program. There are about 30 of them in the company and the concert will last from one hour to an hour and a half. The members of the lodge and their invited guests are urgently requested to be in their seats not later than 8:30 as it is the intention of those in charge to have the concert start promptly at that time. If there are any Masons who have not secured tickets they can get them from Mr. Bloom or Mr. Grest.

Geo. B. Caley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary has just received word from the International office at New York stating that Barnes county is one of the banner counties in North America for association work. The county is perfect on organization groups. Of course we could have more groups, but the ones we have are doing fine work, and Mr. Caley tells us that there is great interest in each group. Barnes county always does things right, and we do not wonder that in this Y. M. C. A. work we should come out at the head. The people of the county should get back of this work and give our boys all the chance they can.

Next Monday is city election there is no opposition excepting for the position of park commissioner. There are two men in the field, F. W. Heidel and Dr. J. E. Featherstone. Both of them are absolutely all right upon the question that has been before the people of late—buying additional parks both being against the proposition. So far as we are concerned either one will suit us, but we are responsible in a large degree for Mr. Heidel being a candidate and we passed around his petition before the other candidate had even announced himself. We feel that it is our duty and our pleasure to support Mr. Heidel for this office. So we are going to ask you to elect him next Monday. We believe that he will make a good park commissioner. In taking this stand we have not a thing against Dr. Featherstone. He will also make good on that commission if elected, so that the people of the city have a choice of two candidates, either of whom we believe will give you good service.

From Wednesday's Daily

Mrs. H. C. Saindon, who has been visiting her parents at Washburn, Wis., for the past month, returned to the city yesterday.

Mrs. George Heinze, wife of the handsome and wide awake editor of the Tower City Topics, accompanied by her daughter, were visitors to Valley City last night. Mrs. W. P. Roethke was also a Valley City visitor from the same place last night.

Dell Link, who is getting the habit of coming here quite often of late, and we are mighty pleased that he has such a habit, was here again yesterday looking at the tractor demonstration and visiting around with his acquaintances. He leaves for his home near Tower City today.

In the write-up of the arrest of Messrs. Casey and Specht carried in a recent issue of the Times-Record, we made the statement that the parties implicated in the deal were willing tools. This is erroneous we are told, the two men simply happened to be in the crowd when the booze was sold and will be used as witnesses.

T. I. Lewis is up from Fargo today to sell Ferguson Bros. a carload or two of fine Home Brand groceries. He is one of the good looking El Zagal chanters who will entertain many Valley City folks tonight and is the father of Mrs. B. P. Pusch. T. I. is one of the most popular traveling men on the road and always has some real good story to tell before he separates an order from a customer—and he gets by with it, too.

Masons and their guests should bear in mind that it is the intention of those in charge of the concert this evening to have the program start promptly at 8:30. Please be in your seats and thus do away with the annoyance that is occasioned by people coming in late and disturbing everybody else while the concert is in progress. The hour is late enough so that there should be no reason for any person being late. The El Zagal Chanters will arrive on No. 3 at eight and we are going to say that a fine concert is promised by the thirty members of this aggregation. The ball will follow the concert.

Workmen are tearing down the old building on the corner of Fifth avenue and Fourth street, known as the Lee Combs corner and recently occupied by the Peters Music House. The removal of this old building will be hailed with delight by everybody, especially as it is rumored that Mr. Combs is figuring on putting up a modern structure on this corner. We have no authentic information about that, but one thing is certain and that is that it is one of the finest corners in the city and he will have no difficulty in finding renters for all the store rooms he wants to build. Here's hoping that we have the right hunch.

Edward Specht, charged with violation of the Volstead law, who was captured by local officials near the N. P. pumphouse in the eastern part of the city Saturday night, as he was said to be in the act of disposing of liquor to other parties, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice I. J. Moe yesterday. The state presented part of the evidence which it had secured and then rested the case. The defense also rested. Justice Moe bound the defendant over to the next term of district court, fixing bonds at $1000 which up to the time of this writing has not been secured. Specht is being held in the county jail. William G. Casey, who was taken into custody at the same time, and who was bound over to the district court on a similar charge, and bonds fixed at $1000, is still in jail, being unable to furnish the bond money. Attorney D. S. Ritchie represents the defense in the Specht case.

Stanley E. Borleske, director of athletics at the North Dakota Agricultural college, last evening announced the completion of plans for a three-game inter-state championship basketball series to be played in Fargo Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week between Valley City high school, champions of North Dakota and Madison high school, champions of South Dakota. Coach Borleske announced that Thursday's game will be played at the A. C. Armory, Friday's contest at the Knights of Columbus gymnasium and the final battle Saturday night at the A. C. Armory.

Both Valley City and Madison are champions in their respective states for two consecutive years and have excellent teams. Madison is reported to have a squad of veterans, all members of the first quint having been members of last year's championship squad also. Valley City only suffered two defeats during the past season and went through both district and state tournaments, playing the hardest contenders entered. Altho Valley City's win was an up-set of the dops their victory did not consist of a fluke. The floor work, particularly the foot-work of every man on the squad is sensational for a high school team.

Much praise for the Madison team comes from South Dakota. The quint has a clean record for the season and did not meet defeat last year. The only point of comparison between the two teams is the records of the five at the Wisconsin University tournament last year in which both teams were entered. Madison was defeated in the tournament by Superior, Wis., the quint which placed third in the big tournament, after two five-minute overtime periods. Valley City lost to a team which was not even in the running in the final standings but came back and defeated the Madison, S. D. team, 24 to 11, in the consolation series. Madison was handicapped by the loss of a star player, however, who broke his collar bone in the Superior contest, and did not play their best ball. The Valley City team of this year is not generally conceded to be as good as last year's five while Madison has a team of veterans.
