He is advertising in this issue of the paper that he has reduced his 75c dinner down to 50c and you get the same meal as you did for the higher price. Jack has also fixed up some rooms for traveling men and he is going to have quite a number of small families as regular roomers this winter. Mr. Aldrich says this is a time when the people demand service and if he can give it to them he is going to do so.

Members of the First Congregational church entertained the students of the College last evening at an auto ride and supper. The supper was much enjoyed after the fine ride. It was a very pleasant event, and was much appreciated by the students.

mour Granger, president of the local union conducted the meeting and it was decided to work for the interests of the departments of the W. C. T. U. for the coming year. Mrs. Stowell who represented the local union at the state meeting which was recently held at Fargo gave a very interesting report of the meeting. The local union has the honor of claiming the largest number of members for the year and were presented with a beautiful photograph of the state president, Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson of Fargo.

Monday evening about 6:45 a party consisting of a minister and his wife and little daughter, narrowly escaped serious injury and maybe death when their car went over a ten foot embankment below the big hill southeast of town. It seems that the driver not being acquainted with the road went too near the edge to go around another car stalled at the bottom of the hill and without lights. Luckily the driver had the presence of mind enough to steer his car straight down the bank and thus avoided tipping over. The only damage done outside of getting a good scare was a broken radiator cap, a broken lamp and two broken barbed wires on the fence. This particular spot where this happened is a bad one, at best. A substantial fence should be placed on either side of this arrow bridge.

The reception to the students and faculty at the Epworth M. E. church last evening was largely attended and proved to be one of the most enjoyable occasions ever held in the church. The occasion was enlivened by a four-piece orchestra. After a most ample luncheon served by the Ladies Aid and words of welcome by the pastor, a most pleasing program was rendered, consisting of songs by Mr. C. A. Lee and humorous readings by Miss Stone of our High school. A succession of games was provided by the efficient committee in which all participated. The dominie and his wife were presented a huge cake with four lighted candles which represented the number of years they had served Epworth church. The pastor and wife made response to the fine speech of presentation by Harvey E. Taylor. Then the cake was cut by Mrs. Wilds, and passed around to the large company of friends. This feature of the program was an entire surprise to pastor and wife, and contributed greatly to the pleasure of the evening. After singing the school songs and church hymns the company dispersed with loud expressions of appreciation and delight for the most cordial reception that had been furnished by the committee.

Complaint has been made to the Times-Record that somebody without the fear of the Lord in his heart is turning his stock loose in Woodbine cemetery which should not be allowed. Many people are very much put out over the fact that these cattle are allowed to tramp over the graves and we think the kick is justifiable. A cemetery is not a stock ranch by any means.

Next Monday night at 8 o'clock we are to have as a speaker on the political issues of the day, at the high school gymnasium, Gov. J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota. The governor is one of the most popular speakers now campaigning. He gives you facts that are indisputable and we feel sure if you go out to hear him next Monday night you will be well repaid for so doing. Gov. Preus is touring the state to help win this recall election.

"Ghosts," Ibsen's supreme modern masterpiece, reveals the strange past of a man and woman who married without love. The rapid and sweeping action of the play centers around the terrible consequences of this union. The climax is tremendous and thrilling. The part of Mrs. Alving is Madame Hammer's masterpiece. Rolf Fjell displays genius and versatility in the part of Jacob Engstrand, the carpenter. College Auditorium Friday night, Oct. 21.

Nassest, missionary of the American Sunday School Union with headquarters at Carrington, arrived in Valley City last night from Brainerd, Minn., where he and Mrs. Nassest, have attended the district conference of the American Sunday School Union. The work of the American Sunday School Union has made a very good increase from that of last year. Mr. and Mrs. Nassest, will be visiting the Wesley Union Sunday school located about thirteen miles southwest of the city Sunday.

Supreme Oracle Eva Child, the head of the largest fraternal insurance organization officered by women, spoke to the Royal Neighbors and their friends here last evening. Her talk on fraternal insurance and whole family protection as they now insure children, was greatly appreciated by the number present. Mrs. Childs said she was very much impressed by the warm welcome she received in North Dakota wherever she has been. She said they have invested in gilt-edged securities $5,926,923.86 but was sorry to say they had not seen fit to buy any North Dakota bonds but should the recall election carry they might consider it. Mrs. Child left this morning for Bismarck where she will conduct a school of instruction and initiate a large class.

After the regular weekly drill of Co. G last evening at the city hall the possibilities to have a company dance were talked over and it was decided to hold a company dance at the city hall next Monday night. This dance will be for G company members only. Members of the company will be required to wear their uniforms at this dance as it will be strictly a uniform dance. All non-members wishing to join the company will be allowed to enter the dance hall upon signing an application blank at the door. The boys are planning on making this dance the initial event of many to follow this winter.

Mrs. Eva Childs, supreme oracle of the order of Royal Neighbors of the United States, while addressing about three hundred people at a social gathering in this city said: "We have purchased several million of South Dakota bonds. I understand that North Dakota is to have a recall election on October 28. If that election carries I am going to recommend that our organization purchase several millions of your bonds. You should push this election over." It is the same story repeated o'er and o'er. Capital will not come into a state whose credit has been impaired and where it is known that investments are not sure.

The Social Service Department held a very interesting meeting at the city hall, Monday afternoon, Oct. 17. Mrs. E. A. Pray, chairman of the recreation department, gave a report of what the committee hopes to do in re-organizing the Parent-Teacher's Organizations in the various schools, chaperoning dances, and other things relative to the welfare of our young people. Miss Gubelman spoke on "The Need of a Social Department," emphasizing the fact that the aim of such a department is to supplement the work of parents and teachers in a proper and efficient manner. Mr. Carl J. Olson then gave a short talk on the work of the Associated Charities, giving a resume of what has been done in the six years since its organization. With the co-operation and support of the Salvation Army and local Red Cross a great deal of work has been done to prevent actual suffering among the needy in the community. Funds to carry on the work have been secured through subscriptions by the business men of the city and the city and county authorities have given substantial aid. The Elks have also been very generous givers. While food, clothing and medical aid have been provided, yet in every case has the recipient been encouraged to help himself as much as possible. Mr. Olson urged that all efforts be concentrated and with this in mind the chairman of the department was empowered to select a committee, consisting of a member from each church, with the member from Social Service Department acting as chairman to confer and work with the Board of Associated Charities. A committee was also appointed to make arrangements for the establishment of a bureau of employment.

FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK IN CHAPEL

Chapel exercises Thursday were led by Mr. Seymour in the absence of President Allen. In the absence of Dean Froysaa of the Music Department, Miss Amidon directed the singing.

After a number of announcements of interest to the faculty and the students, Miss Amidon gave a brief talk on "Courtesy and Behavior." For a few moments she gave us a mental picture of the Garden of Eden and of Robinson Crusoe on his lonely island to show us how this individual type of behavior would react in our world of today. She said that where all people live together laws, both written and unwritten, must restrict us in our actions and deeds, one toward another. She also stated that the true test of behavior was for each person to ask himself, "What would happen to society if every member did this?" The true lady or gentleman shows himself or herself through kindness and thoughtfulness for others. We may possess the power of winning joy and everlasting friendship from having a kind and courteous attitude toward others. Miss Amidon closed by quoting Emerson, our favorite American essayist in telling us how good manners would bring us to higher stations in life than the wealth of castle or palace.

Following this, Miss Gubelman, another member of the faculty, gave us a very interesting side-light picture of our football team's work in the first game of the season which was played with the Lisbon High School team at the ball park Wednesday afternoon. The score was seven to zero in favor of the State Teachers College. Miss Gubelman sketched for us a diagram of the field and both teams at play. Though our team did not have the practice the Lisbon team had the two sides were very evenly matched. The first fifty of the sixty minutes of playing passed without either team scoring a point. Finally after a hard fight the S. T. C. team gained the ball, and scored a touchdown. This gave us six points. The seventh point was gained by Gunderson who kicked goal. Miss Gubelman's description of the game aroused the true college spirit of the student-body, and to show our appreciation and trust in our team, Mr. Meyer aided us in giving nine strong raps for the team!

A very fine impression of the game was left with us. No doubt those who attended the game agree with Miss Gubelman when she gave Scott's own thoughts of his native country, "One glance at the array of rugged hills is worth more than several hours of rest." T. S.

SENATOR GRONNA COMING TO BARNES

Friday, Oct. 21

Fingal, Barnes county, 1 p. m. Nome, Barnes county, 4 p. m. Kathryn, Barnes county, 8 p. m. Lakota, Oct. 15.—Former United States Senator A. J. Gronna today announced that he will take the stump for the recall of Frazier, Lemke and Hagan next week. He will open in Nelson and Steele counties with speeches at Tolna, Pekin and Finley next Tuesday and from then on he will make several speeches daily until the close of the campaign.

At the request of friends, both leaguers and independents, Mr. Gronna issued a statement setting forth his own opinion on the recall issue. He makes his position very plain and does not mince words in explaining the situation as he sees it.

Mr. Gronna's statement follows: "Smash the unholy alliance between the McKenzie-Townley machine by electing Nestos for governor, Johnson, for attorney general and Kitchen for commissioner of agriculture and labor."

"Let all who love their homes and the great state of North Dakota turn out on election day October 28th next and vote for the men above named and also vote 'yes' on such proposed measures as are necessary to restore confidence in our state and her people inside and outside of the state."

"Personally I hold no grievance against either Mr. Frazier, Mr. Lemke or Mr. Hagan, but if the printed reports of their official acts are true, and I believe they are true, then the taxpayers of North Dakota are warranted in recalling these men from the high official positions they hold and Mr. Frazier as governor, Mr. Lemke as attorney general and Mr. Hagan as commissioner of agriculture and labor do not deserve the support of our citizens, but on the contrary they deserve our condemnation and reproach."

"As public servants they are charged with mismanagement of the public business, they are charged with the misuse and reckless waste of public funds."

"After a careful study of these printed reports no honest and intelligent citizen can approve the transactions in question by these high officials. I shall name only a few of a great number of transactions where they are charged either with mismanagement, misuse of funds, wastefulness and extravagance or incompetency."

"They are charged with mismanagement in the handling of farm loans with mismanagement and misuse of funds in the handling of the home building association, in the handling of the workmen's compensation bureau the Drake mill, the state experimental creamery and the wastefulness in the building of the Grand Forks mill."

"The U. S. Sisal Trust transaction as well as the Scandinavian-American Bank deal are scandalous and criminal."

It may be argued that the transactions referred to were not done by Frazier, Lemke or Hagan. However, as officials they are responsible for any and all wrongful acts both as members of the industrial commission and as officials of the state."

"I am well aware of the resourcefulness of the old McKenzie machine, 'now supporting the Townley-Lemke machine' in the misuse and distribution of federal patronage. I am also aware of the tremendous power which rests in the hands of these state officials and the probable misuse of this patronage, but I want to remind the citizens of this state that the promise or acceptance of a promise for an official position is under the corrupt practices act considered bribery and is a crime no less than the giving or the acceptance of money."

"I hold the people of my state in too high esteem to believe that any patriotic citizen could be influenced by promises of an official position."

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

Three new pupils have entered the Junior High School, making the present enrollment fifty-eight. The Junior High School went on a weiner roast at Rasmussen's Grove Saturday afternoon. All reported a jolly good time.

The Junior High Association has elected its officers who are as follows: President—Dorothy Larson. President of Boys Athletic Association—James Eckel. President of Girls' Athletic Association—Sarah Wright. President of Civic Club—Edith Garrett.

Miss Wiltse, one of the kindergarten teachers of the public school, visited the Kindergarten last Tuesday morning.

The association has begun a splendid organization which will benefit the students not only in their school work, but in their outside life as well. The success of this organization depends entirely upon the members and at present all reports are very favorable. Time and labor put into such an organization is well spent.

Genevieve Bakken has been elected as the news reporter for the Junior High Department.

The fifth and sixth grade room ranks highly this past week in neatness. No more small pieces of paper will ever be seen on the floor. Are you asking why? Because this room has a lovely new brown waste paper basket, and what's more, it is being used.

Pupils in Miss Norton's room are playing a new game, "The Skuffling Race." Did you ever hear of it? The game is simple and easy to learn. Each child is making a special effort to walk upstairs and down without skuffling or making all the noise that is possible. It's a very easy game in which there are many winners. Such a game would be splendid for every one to try to become a winner and play it often, even when alone.

The fifth and sixth grade nature classes had such a difficult time in studying the lively little box elder bugs, that at last it had to be given up and the bugs fell asleep by some unknown method before the class gained much knowledge of them.

A number of committees have been elected in Miss Norton's room. The Room Committee prepares the room for work. The Piano Committee brings in the piano and chair for music lesson. The Plant Committee waters the plants. There is also a Calendar Committee and four line leaders who head and control their various lines at recess and dismissal.

The Primary Room have organized a family: the father, mother, and two children. The father is always chosen by his height but this failed to be the case this year. Miss Gardner was helping in the election of the father when a wee voice spoke up—yet in a very decisive tone: "Well I'll tell you Vernon should be the father, and I know it."

"Well, why Mary?" asked Miss Gardner. "Well, don't you see, he's wearing a man's necktie." Vernon was elected.

A good French modiste is being kept from the world as she is preparing herself for a teacher. Go to the primary room and ask to see Kathryn Burns' Hallowe'en hat for further proof.

Next week the student teachers teaching in the primary room will make Jack-o-Lanterns but pumpkins are barred.

Important!! Anyone who pretends to be a friend to the primary room and who has magazines from which pictures can be cut, will be received with welcome faces. The primary room wants to make picture books. It is hoped that many will respond to its plea.

The new sand has arrived in the primary room and is already in great demand by many tiny fingers. Some fine smooth clay has also been put in use. It's such fun molding that shapeless clay into tiny figures and forms that so delight the little makers. The third and fourth grade room is prettily decorated with fruit baskets that have just been completed in the drawing class. Each child drew its own fruit without any pattern and put it into brown paper baskets. The effects are very lovely and deserve a great deal of credit.

LIVE STOCK

CHOLERA TAKES LARGE TOLL

Losses Have Been Greatly Reduced and May Be Wiped Out Entirely By Right Treatment.

August and September take the heaviest toll through hog cholera, the bane of swine keepers, which in years past has wiped out entire herds after an expensive season's feeding. In certain years the hog-cholera toll has run as high as 144 per 1,000 through the United States. Preventive measures developed by the United States Department of Agriculture have reduced the toll to 38. The experts, whose work has effected this annual multi-million-dollar saving, assert confidently that the means of absolute insurance from hog cholera losses is within the reach of any farmer who cares to take the precautionary trouble and expense.

The serum treatment, developed about 15 years ago and first put into general use within the last six or seven years, gives immunity if injected in time. This serum treatment is described fully in Farmers' Bulletin 834, which should be kept at hand for ready reference by every hog raiser.

Hog cholera is an epidemic disease; that means that it spreads from one or a few initial cases. It is carried in bedding, sty refuse, feeding troughs, loading shutes, railroad cars, farm implements, clothing of laborers, and even in running water. Sanitation will cut down the danger, but it is not an absolute preventive. Unless the farmer has taken the precaution to have all of his herd immunized with serum and virus, an operation which should be done by a veterinarian or a specially trained layman, there is always possibility of the disease breaking out unexpectedly.

The farmer's protection lies in the fact that usually only one or two members of the herd are affected at first, and he should be on the watch. One or two hogs will refuse to come up to feed with the herd. They will remain hidden in the nest, and when driven from the bed their backs may be arched and they may appear cold, and shiver. The rest of the herd may remain apparently well for several days, when others are likely to be found affected in about the same way as those first attacked. As the disease progresses the sick hogs become gaunt or tucked up in the flanks, and have a weak, staggering gait, the weakness being most marked in the hind legs.

If the lungs are affected there may be a cough, which is particularly noticeable when the hogs are disturbed. The eyes usually are inflamed and show a whitish discharge, which may cause the lids to stick together. Constipation, which is commonly present in the early days of the disease, is generally followed by a diarrhoea. As the disease reaches its height red or purplish blotches are likely to appear upon the skin of the ears, of the belly, and the inner surfaces of the legs.

Some of the symptoms mentioned may be present in other diseases, but the owner should remember that cholera spreads rapidly through a herd and no time should be lost in calling a veterinarian to diagnose the disease and administer the proper treatment. If the disease is cholera heavy losses can be averted only by prompt administration of hog-cholera serum.

Autopsy should be performed upon hogs which die of any disease. Indications of cholera are described in the bulletin referred to. The most important thing is to be prepared and to act promptly.

Locate hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, and do not allow hogs to run on free range or highways, nor to have access to canals or irrigated ditches.

Do not drive into hog lots after driving on public highways.

Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.

GIVE PURE DRINKING WATER

Necessary for Best Health of Fowls as All Poultrymen Know—Epsom Salts Help. Pure drinking water is necessary, as all our good poultrymen and poultrywomen know. An occasional dose of Epsom salts, twenty grains to the quart, followed by thirty grains of bicarbonate of soda to each quart of drinking water is a cleanser reported by some of our breeders as being beneficial.
