The few days of sunshine last week dried up the roads and fields in pretty good shape and it will not take many more before the farmers will be able to get into the fields and the motorists will be able to travel the roads. The roads have dried up in fairly good shape lately but the low spots are still wet and impassable and there are enough low spots so that it is almost impossible to go any distance from the city with a car as yet. However, it won't be long before spring work will be in full swing and our streets will again be crowded.

"Outside The Law" is the big picture at the Grand tonight and from all reports it is one of the great pictures of the year. That Thomas Meighan is popular with the movie fans of the city was evident from the size of the crowd that was at the Grand last night to see him in "White and Unmarried", one of his latest film releases. He always presents pictures which are pleasing to his audiences and last night was no exception to the rule, if the comments of the people leaving the theatre are any criterion. They were enthusiastic in their praise of the show, which included one of these inimitable Larry Semon comedies. The same picture will be shown again this evening and it will be well worth while to see them.

C. A. Grasswick received a letter this morning from Hardway & Cately, patent attorneys of Houston, Texas, stating that he had been allowed a patent on a motor device after much trouble. Mr. Grasswick filed the application for the patent on May 23rd, 1919, and the patent was allowed on March 29th, 1922. There were about thirty other patents covering the same thing which had been applied for, 13 of them being so close to the design of Mr. Grasswick's that it has taken some time to settle who was entitled to the patent. This is a device to prevent a tractor from tipping over backwards when pulling hard. The mechanism fastens to the front axle. It will permit the engine to rise about two inches but if it continues to raise the clutch is disengaged and the power released, allowing the front end to settle back. Mr. Grasswick's attorneys advise that this will probably be a valuable patent.

The Barnes County Chapter of the American Red Cross invites the general public to an exhibit of sketches of child life in Europe, by Anna Milo Upjohn in the Commercial room of the Teachers College from three to five p. m. tomorrow, April 9th. The exhibit of Miss Upjohn's sketches and drawings is held by courtesy of the Trustees of the Corcoran Gallery of Art who have thus generously cooperated with the Junior Red Cross. The purpose of the exhibit is to acquaint the public with Miss Upjohn's delightful portrayal of child life in those countries where, through relief and educational projects, American children are being introduced to their neighbors in many lands, and in turn are acquiring an intelligent, sympathetic understanding of those far away children. Miss Upjohn's drawings made from life have greatly aided in forwarding this work of unselfish service by children for children. From the standpoint of art the exhibit is one of the finest that has ever been available to the smaller towns of the country. The sketches have in them the spirit as well as the form of the life in those countries through which Miss Upjohn traveled. The presence of the exhibit in Valley City is an educational opportunity for those interested in art or the present condition of child life in European countries.

CHEAPER THAN CIGARETTES

"Funny how exaggerated statements regarding the size of gas bills go unchallenged," said an official of the Harrisburg, (Pa.) Gas Co. recently. "As a matter of fact, the average bill for gas service, or the bill for combined utility service, is the smallest necessary household expense there is."

"Gas service is about the least expensive item in the housewife's budget; yet the average housewife could not do without it. And the same thing is true of the other essential public utility services. They are said to be second only to the two-cent postage stamp as the cheapest commodity purchasable by any man, woman or child."
