

From Wednesday's Daily

Albert Boyd, of Leal, was a business visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. William Cullen of Davenport, were visitors at the McCosh home Saturday night and Sunday.

Sam Condor, bank supply salesman from Fargo, is calling on his customers in the city today. Mrs. Arthur L. Knauf, of Jamestown, arrived in the city this morning on No. 136 to attend the auxiliary meeting.

Mrs. Fred P. Mann, Jr., of Devils Lake, is among the contingent from the lake attending the convention today. W. F. Twitcher, shoe salesman from Minneapolis, is a Valley City business visitor today, calling on his customers in the city.

Mrs. M. C. Houser, of Napoleon, N. Dak., who is well known in the city, is attending the Auxiliary convention in the city today and tomorrow. Miss Edna Collen of Kitchener, Ontario, left for Crystal Springs Monday morning after visiting a few days at the McCosh home.

Mrs. A. L. Starr, of Tower City, is a Valley City visitor today, representing the neighboring town at the American Legion Auxiliary convention. Mrs. A. H. Axtell and little daughter left on No. 2 yesterday for Kankakee, Ill., where they will visit for the next two months at the home of Mrs. Axtell's parents.

Misses Etta and Louise Chapman left for their home in Tower City after a week's visit with their aunts, Mrs. Earl Griffin and Mrs. K. J. McCosh. Cards have been received in the city announcing the arrival of Eric Rudolph Noltmimer, nine pounds, on Sept. 6th, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Etic Noltmimer.

William Desmond will star in 'Fightin' Mad' at the Grand tonight and tomorrow. This is a real picture, is a western drama and is recommended as being the best picture Desmond has shown in to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Casey and family, of Litchville, were Valley City visitors yesterday, driving over from the neighboring town and spending the day here attending to matters of business. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Allen, of Everett, Wash., who are touring thru the country, are guests for a few days at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Stanley Mythaler. Mr. Allen is a cousin of Mrs. Mythaler. They arrived in the city Monday evening.

P. J. Anderson, of this city, left last evening for Rochester, Minn., where he goes to have his leg attended to. Mr. Anderson has been suffering from this for some time and, thinking that he could be helped by the Mayo Bros. went there. Last evening, Mrs. J. J. Earley entertained about thirty couples of the younger set at a dance at the Country Club. The guest of honor was Miss Adeline Lang of Sanborn, the house guest of Miss Florence Earley, Mrs. M. P. Krogh and Mrs. James Kelly, assisted the hostess.

Yesterday Lawrence Larson, of the Pillsbury district, was brought before Judge I. J. Moe for violation of the prohibition act. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff B. V. Lippold and government agent. They found Mr. Larson in possession of a quantity of moonshine, mash and a still. He was bound over to district court under $1000 bonds which he has not furnished at this time. C. M. Axtell has discontinued his drug business having sold his drug stock and fixtures to local stores. He still retains his soda fountain and will continue in the soft drink dispensing business. Mr. Axtell sold his drug stock to the Dakota Drug Co., Inc., and the City Drug Store. Mr. Axtell felt that the drug business of the city would not support four drug stores and consequently disposed of his holdings in that line.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wylie have returned from a ten day trip to Minnesota and Wisconsin points and the genial scalemaster is again on the job at the city scales. While away Mr. and Mrs. Wylie visited at Lake City, Minn., which was Mr. Wylie's former home, and at Plainview, Minn., which was his boyhood home. They also visited at Wabash, Minn., DuPont, Wis., Elmwood and Spring Valley, Minn. Mr. Wylie reports a very pleasant trip.

Al. Hammes, former manager of the Dakota Drug store, is in the city today greeting friends. Mr. Hammes is now connected with the LaSalle Institute and will make his headquarters at Aberdeen, S. Dak. He will sell their course in business administration in the South Dakota territory and expects to move his family to Aberdeen in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. George Holzman returned from their wedding trip last night. Mr. Holzman is ticket agent at the Northern Pacific passenger depot, and on account of the strike conditions sufficient help could not be obtained to take care of the work, and he was recalled from his honeymoon trip. We understand that Mr. Holzman and his bride have made arrangements to live at the Kindred Hotel the coming winter.

Mesdames Calnan, Blanch, Eugene McFarland and Iverson and Misses Von Domarus and Wright will be hostesses at the Auxiliary Guild meeting to be held Thursday in the Congregational Church parlors. The teachers of the public schools will be the guests of the guild on this occasion. Supper will be served at six, followed by a social evening. All members and friends of the guild are urged to come and meet the teachers. Bring your fancy work and plan to spend the evening with us.

Dr. R. E. Gornell, of Chicago, will deliver an address at the Epworth M. E. Church Thursday evening at 8 p. m. This will take the place of the prayer meeting. It will be free to the public, and a cordial invitation is extended to all. His theme will be "The church outlook." This service will be followed by the last Quarterly Conference of the year. Written reports of the year's work will be given by the heads of the departments. District Superintendent Anderson will preside. All officials are urged to be present.

Ben Reid, a travelling salesman, narrowly escaped serious injury along about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, when he drove his big Paige car into the curb at the corner of Fourth avenue and Elizabeth street. The car was badly wrecked up, two of the wheels being smashed all to pieces, but fortunately for Reid he escaped without any injury, which was a miracle, as eye witnesses say he was coming up Fourth avenue from the south at not less than thirty-five miles an hour and he could not negotiate the turn at the corner. It is also said he was not in a fit condition to drive a car, and the only reason no one was hurt was because there didn't happen to be children or people at this point just at that time, as usually there are many children playing at these corners. Luck was with him as well as the public that time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sortland motored to Valley City last Saturday evening and before they returned, John had the exciting experience of being arrested, taken before a magistrate and fined in the amount of $3.50 which he gladly paid that he might shake Valley City dust off his heels. Now Mr. Sortland would be the last man that one would expect to see hailed before a police court, but the trouble all came about in this simple manner: The fuse of one of the lights of his car has burned out and before he could get to a garage to get the light fixed he was pounced upon by one of the city's "bulls" and taken to police headquarters. John said he did not half mind paying the three and a half bucks and went willingly enough—with the officer standing on the running board of his car and giving curt directions—but the "bawling-out" he got from the guy, enroute to the station, was more than his pride could endure and was entirely uncalled for. Some two or three weeks ago another of Litchville's business men was arrested on a similar charge and fined in the same amount. This arrest came as a complete surprise to the individual concerned as he did not know that his light was not working until pinched by the cop. Moral: Do your trading at home and avoid arrest.—Litchville Bulletin.

O. D. Norton, of Fargo, was a visitor in the city yesterday attending to matters of business. F. W. Montgomery, of Oriska, was a visitor in the city yesterday attending to business matters. H. D. Detz, of Tower City, is in the city today visiting one of the local dentists. C. W. Bingham, of Wimbledon, was a business visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Even Evenson, of Tower City, were visitors at the metropolis of Barnes county yesterday. J. E. Buttrey left last night for Minneapolis where he expects to spend some time. Hugh McDonald went down to La Moore yesterday to look after some farming interests he has down in that locality. He is expected back today. Mrs. Lynn Cowell and "Peggy" are reported on the sick list today so that Assistant Editor Lynn Cowell is playing the role of nurse and housekeeper. Rev. J. F. L. Bohnhoff will leave on No. 4 tonight for St. Paul where he goes to attend a meeting of the Lutheran board. Rev. F. Lienert, of Binkleman, Neb., will leave for his home tonight. He has been visiting Rev. J. F. L. Bohnhoff and family for the past week. Charles Sullivan, of Fargo, was a business visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. Sullivan is connected with the Fargo Motor Sales Company of the Gateway City. He returned to Fargo this morning by car. Mrs. I. J. Moe and Miss Grace Moe of Valley City, are visiting with Mrs. Ernest Wanner. The Moe's are on their way home after enjoying a vacation on the coast. — Bismarck Tribune.

Mrs. I. J. Moe and daughter, Grace, who have been on a tour to British Columbia, and back by way of Missoula, Mont., arrived home last night. They stopped at in Bismarck and came from there by auto. The weather still remains unsettled and about the time the threshers are ready to start up again a little dinky shower will come along and put threshing out of business again for a day or two. Miss Traace Amundson, who has been working at the State Teachers College for the past five months left for her home in Canada last evening where she will visit her parents and friends. She expects to return some time this winter. Dean and Mrs. Knute Froysoa returned from Shoreham, Minn., last night where they have been visiting Mrs. Will Moore for the past two weeks. On their way back they stopped in Fargo for two days visiting friends. Mrs. Roy Ellis, nee Viola Burke, who arrived in the city yesterday to spend the day as a guest of Mrs. A. C. Thorkelson, left this morning for Minnewaukan where she goes to look after farming interests before returning to her home at Rembey, Alberta. Dr. F. L. Wicks returned to the city Sunday after a week's absence due to the illness and death of his mother in Long Beach, Calif. Interment was made at Aberdeen, S. Dak. The Doctor was accompanied on his return by his father Mr. E. A. Wicks and his brother J. H. Wicks, of Denton, Mont.

The 1922-23 edition of "Who's Who in America" contains the names of three Valley City residents. They are Frank White, treasurer of the United States, George M. Young, congressman, and George A. McFarland, educator. Of the 25,000 names listed in the volume eighty-one are residents of North Dakota. Next Saturday the hunting season opens up and many of our local nimrods are making preparations to go after the festive prairie hen and the elusive duck. There are all kinds of ducks this year and also lots of chickens and hunters should have no trouble getting the number the law allows. B. L. Cheney has returned to the city to make his home here again and will live in the Jarvis flats. Mrs. Cheney will arrive some time this week. Mr. Cheney will have charge of collections for local merchants. We are very much pleased to have the Cheneys coming back to the city to become residents. Richard Knudson of this city, son of Mr. H. C. Knudson, and Miss Gertrude McMonahan of Hecker, daughter of I. V. McConohy, were married at Moorhead, Wednesday, September 6.

They were accompanied by Miss Helga Holm and Mr. Muriel Graham. Mrs. Anton Thompson, sister of the bride, served a delicious four-course supper assisted by Miss Evelyn McConoughy, also a sister of the bride. Their many friends in the city wish them much joy and prosperity. Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage of Miss Lena Graves at her home at Salem, Indiana, to Everette Sterling Dean on Friday, September 1st. The happy couple are at home at 204 Nevada Street, Northfield, Minn. Miss Graves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. J. Graves of Salem, Ind., while Everette Dean is the star second baseman who has been on the Valley City lineup for the past three seasons, the last season playing at shortstop. Yesterday our old friend John Brady brought a dandy sample of corn to the Times-Record office which he had gotten at his farm near Litchville. Mr. Brady brought in one stalk of corn that was nine feet long. He also brought in several ears of corn that are dandies. They are large ears, well filled in with large kernels and nearly ripe. North Dakota is not looked upon as a corn state but when samples like the one referred to are brought in it convinces one that we can raise as good corn in this state as anywhere. There will be some grumbling because the post office department has ordered that no mail shall be left at houses where no mail boxes are provided, but a great majority will approve the order. Seventy per cent of the people within delivery limits have already provided boxes or slots in the door. There is no reason why the time of government employees should be wasted to please people who refuse to provide boxes or mail slots. The salaries of the mail delivery men are paid by all the people and it isn't fair to impose on all the people for the benefit of a few laggards. The Business and Professional Women's Club held a business meeting at their Club Rooms Monday, September 11th. A report for the month of August on the Tea Room was read by Chairman of the Tea Room Committee. Owing to the resignation of Miss Widdifield as manager of the tea room, Miss Rina Curtiss of Colorado Springs, Col., has been secured as manager. Miss Curtiss has been employed in similar work at Colorado Springs and comes highly recommended. Esther Gunderson was elected corresponding secretary on account of the resignation of Adelia Nelson. All members were asked to state their choice of the class work that is being planned for the fall and winter beginning October 10th. One free class is allowed each member and a small fee for other classes desired. The next meeting of the Club will be held September 25th.

Miss Minnie J. Nielson, who has been spending the past two days in the city helping her mother, Mrs. Wylie Nielson, celebrate her birthday, returned to her duties at Bismarck on No. 3 last evening. Mrs. G. A. M. Anderson returned to her home at Bismarck yesterday after spending some time here visiting friends and relatives. She was accompanied by her brother, Lawrence Stenshoel. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heiling and family motored to the farm of Mr. Heiling's brother-in-law, Joe Nemanich, of Oriska, where they were invited to a chicken dinner Sunday. They returned last evening and from the looks of Joe's face he certainly must have enjoyed the dinner. Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Rose, of Cooperstown, N. D., who were here Saturday attending the dentist convention, remained over Sunday and were guests of their old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw, for a few hours. They left for home during the afternoon. Miss Dorothy Healy sang very beautifully yesterday morning at the service in the First Congregational church. She gave a fine interpretation of George Matheson's poem, "O Love that will not let me go," and the congregation greatly enjoyed hearing her. Mr. and Mrs. Rickard and children and Miss Straind, a sister of Mrs. Rickard's, spent the week end at the Ed. Starke home, four miles northwest of the city, returning to their home at Fargo last evening. Mr. Rickard is state agent for the Cadillac automobile. Wm. Meyers, an agent of the state licensing department from Bismarck, is in the city today checking up the automobile owners to see that they have the proper license tags displayed and it is probable that a few citizens of the city will be facing the judge to explain the lack of tags on their cars. An editor once kept track of his profits and losses during the year, and gives an invoice of his business diary at the end of twelve months of ups and downs in the following manner: Been broke 361 times; praised the public 89 times; told lies 720 times; missed prayer meeting 52 times; been roasted 431 times; roasted others 52 times; washed office towel 3 times; missed meals 0; mistaken for a preacher 11 times; mistaken for a capitalist 0; got whipped 8 times; whipped others 0; cash on hand at beginning $1.47; cash on hand at ending 15c. If the two committees—republican and democratic—of Barnes county want to get any results in the coming campaign, it is time they came out of their trance and got busy. The usual procedure in Barnes county in these two circles is to wait until two days before election and then try to put on a campaign. Saturday afternoon Miss Louise Thorne, niece of Mrs. Robt. Anderson, entertained a few friends at the Anderson home. There were four tables of bridge in play for the afternoon and Miss Alice Earley was awarded the prize for high score while Miss Vera Cowell received the consolation prize. Following the card playing a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. There are now 2,318 cities in the United States and Canada that own and operate their own electric light and power plants. Of these, 700 have established their municipal plants within the last five years. In 1881 there was but one municipal plant in the United States. Of the cities that now own and operate light and power plants, 275 have a 3-cent rate, 287 have a 5-cent rate, 600 have an 8-cent rate, 615 have a 10-cent rate, and one, Valley City, N. D. has a 12-cent rate. Heiling Bros., are up-to-date and try to keep their establishment modern in every way. In line with that attitude they have made arrangements for a radio receiving apparatus to be installed in their place of business for a demonstration in the near future. If the demonstration is a success they have contracted to have the apparatus left there so that their patrons may listen to the latest news, concerts, etc., while in their place of business. The regular Rotary noonday luncheon will not be held tomorrow but rather a dinner and program will be held at 7:00 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Hotel Rudolf, the occasion being ladies night. Rotarians have full charge of the arrangements for dinner and program with Mrs. Frank Heimes in charge of committees for the evening. A good time is assured and a large crowd is expected to attend. Today's weather would not lead one to think that North Dakota was a fruit country but contrary to that belief the editor received a box of grapes from Mrs. A. Abrahamson, of Leal, this morning that she had raised herself. The grapes are of good size and color and quite tasty and convinces us that North Dakota soil and weather can raise many things not ordinarily thought of in connection with this state. Miss Eva Olson, of the Peoples Store, entertained a few friends at her home at Cooperstown yesterday, the friends motoring up to the Griggs county capital yesterday morning and returning last evening. The list included the Misses Ollie Nelson, Cora Dahl, Belinda Seberg, Alvira Linderberg, Mildred Daas, Constance McPherson, Esther Schroeder and Trudie Olsby. They report a most enjoyable day. The following is from the Lucca correspondent to the Barnes County Citizen who talks present good sense: "Your correspondent had the pleasure together with other Lucca champion swimmers, to dive into the Valley City Chautauqua waters last Sunday. Too much praise cannot be given the water for bathers at this point, but no praise is coming to the condition of your bath house, in fact the Board of Health should take a walk thru it, then pass judgment. What is the matter with City water sports, why not get up thru public subscription, say five hundred to one thousand dollars. Spend it on making the Chautauqua park the best and sanitary bathing place in the state. Suppose you cut, say ten feet in on the west side and one hundred feet long, throw loads of gravel for your beach, making it an ideal spot to enter the water, and such a beach would leave a splendid place for the children and non swimmers to enjoy. Have a substantial water way protection as far out as the danger depth. Then build a bath house with your locked stalls, have a attendant and rent out