The American Legion held a meeting at the Legion hall last evening. There were about twenty five members present and the larger part of the evening was taken up with the discussion of plans for the opening of the new club rooms. These rooms will be open to members on Oct. 1st but, owing to the inability of the members to decide on proper opening ceremonies the grand opening will be held later. Various plans were suggested but no definite action taken. The report of the treasurer, Tom Condon, was read and showed the Legion to have made a net profit of $285 with their bowery dance this year. An offer for the lumber was received but the Legion decided to keep the floor and the offer was refused. The New Orleans convention was discussed and the members were advised that special rates of $72.00 for the round trip had been made. However the members looked over the grain market, frisked themselves and failed to find anyone who wanted to spend that amount for the trip. Following the business discussion Steward Fred Hemmesch served a real banquet and announced that the same kind of feed would be served after each Legion meeting this winter.

Rev. Thomas E. Nugent is in Fargo attending a Congregational conference as a member of the executive committee. One of the important topics to be discussed by the conference is the advisability of holding ministerial camps during the summer. The first such camp was held here last summer during the chautauqua session and its success was so great that there is some thought of making the camp an annual institution. Dr. C. E. Allen is scheduled to speak on educational matters during the conference.

Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw recently received a letter from Jessie M. Sargent, formerly of this city but now living in St. Paul which contained some information of interest to Times-Record readers. Mr. Allen says that Senator Ployhar made a hit with the Indians who had a prime fat dog roasting for a big feast and Frank was invited to make a speech and if it hadn't been for the dog he would have made a rattling talk to the Indians on the prospects of electing O'Connor to the senate, but somehow or other that dog got Ployhar's goat and he and his wife beat it back to Detroit with C. E. Allen and wife trailing close behind. Mr. Allen wanted to tell the Indians about the advantages of an education at the State Teachers College—but that dog. Enough said. Our president is back at Fargo telling the folks there of the college instead of telling it to the Indians.

HIGH SCHOOL CROWDED BY ENLARGED MEMBERSHIP

This is the fourth week of school at the High School, and the enrollment has already reached 340. This is by far the largest enrollment in the history of the school, and the new building is taxed to its capacity to accommodate the enlarged student body. One hundred four Freshmen are enrolled and the Senior Class numbers seventy five.

Practically all classes are up to the limit, and it has been necessary to offer additional classes in Latin, Cooking, Manual Training, Geometry, Algebra, Social Science, Chemistry, Ancient History, Modern History, American History and Civics, and English. Of the number enrolled, 40 per cent are boys. It is evident that boys as well as girls are coming to see the advantage of a High School education, and are preparing themselves for leadership in the community.

MAKE WAY FOR BUSINESS BOOM

From every section of the country comes news of increasing business activity, particularly in lines of industry and construction. In every respect, the business outlook is the best it has been since the war-time prosperity came to an end. The recent offering of $200,000,000 of treasury certificates at 3 3/4 per cent, oversubscribed to the extent of $300,000,000 proves the abundance of capital ready for investment at a reasonable return, and the continuing low rate in financial centers, even with the harvest demand coming on, leaves no doubt that plenty of money is ready to aid any wise industrial undertaking.

Among the general evidences of the widespread prosperity is the announcement of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce that the output of automobiles for August 1922 was 12 per cent greater than in July and 53 per cent greater than in August a year ago. The demand for automobiles indicates an ability to buy and a confidence in the future.

Increasing business activity is also shown by a diminishing number of idle freight cars. At the end of August the tabulation of reports made by the American Railway Association showed 70,455 idle freight cars, a decrease of more than 50,000 in the last week of the month.

Much of the confidence in American prosperity in the coming year is based on the practical certainty of huge agricultural crops at reasonably good prices. The wheat crop of the United States is estimated at 805,000,000 bushels, or 11,000,000 bushels more than last year and 120,000,000 bushels more than the average yield for the normal period 1909-13. The large crop in the United States might indicate a materially reduced price were it not for the fact that the world production of wheat is below the yield of last year.

The steel market, which is always cited as a barometer of business conditions, tells an encouraging story. Demand is increasing, and mills have been able to increase prices $3 per ton and are getting a premium for immediate deliveries. Prices for pig iron, pipe and wire have also advanced.

Reports from Chicago are to the effect that ten out of twelve groups of industries show a material gain in the number of employees. The increasing demand for labor was evidenced some time ago in eastern states by an advance of 20 per cent in wages paid in steel mills and also increased wages paid in cotton mills.

From San Francisco comes announcement of the doubling of the size of the principal steel plant and increases in oil production. After a tour of Oregon, President Sprout, of the Southern Pacific, says that industrial conditions in that state are the best he has ever known them. Washington and Oregon lumber mills are operating on full time to supply the demand for lumber.

The leading industrial publications in the South declares that section of the country "now leads in prosperity", and that with a big crop of cotton and high prices the cotton producers will have more than $1,330,000,000 to spend this coming Fall and Winter. Next to cotton, lumber is the chief money producer of the South, and it is announced that the mills are having difficulty in keeping up with the demand.

From every section of the country comes the report that farmers, manufacturers and others, following the deflation period and its costly liquidations, are pretty well able to finance themselves and are not borrowing heavily.

ALLIED PEACE PLANS MAY FAIL

Paris, France, Sept. 27.—Fears that the Allied plans for peace in the Near East would tumble down like a house of cards were expressed here today by a high government official upon the receipt of word of the Greek revolution and the abdication of King Constantine in favor of his son. The revolution was caused by the army who demanded that the Greeks fight the Turks to a finish and to prevent them from occupying Thrace. The Allied plan was stated in a note to Mustafa Kemal, Turkish nationalist leader that the Allies favored the ceding of Thrace to the Turks which was ceded to the Greeks following the World War. In case of the rebels gaining complete control it is believed certain that an attempt will be made to defend Thrace. In this event it is feared that the Kemalists would insist on the moving of his troops into Thrace.

FARM PHOTOGRAPHS IN SHOWS DISPLAY

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. H. Eckles, the St. Paul and Minneapolis women's Committee will arrange a Farm Cottage Home Photograph Gallery in connection with the Hospitality Cottage at the National Dairy Exposition, Oct. 7 to 14. This exhibit is designed to bring together photographs of the exterior and interior of dairy farm houses from all parts of the country to show the unique ways farm conveniences are worked into the farm dwelling. Pictures should be carefully labeled and sent to either Mrs. Eckles, 1281 Raymond Ave., St. Paul, or Dr. C. H. Eckles, at the University Farm. Pictures must be sent in promptly and will be returned if requested.

A committee of three judges from the Agricultural Extension Division of the University of Minnesota will select those to be exhibited from the several cities.

PROSPERITY VIA THE MILK ROUTE

What can be accomplished in just one year in building up the quality of dairy cattle kept on North Dakota farms will be shown in an exhibit from that state at the 1922 National Dairy Exposition. The ten highest producing purebreds and ten highest producing grades in the state, all breeds included, will comprise this distinctive exhibit to show visitors what concerted effort can accomplish when intelligently directed. Following the 1921 dairy show from 1600 to 1800 head of Wisconsin's best grades were shipped into North Dakota and these animals furnished the foundation stock for the grades in this special exhibit. North Dakota's prosperity is returning by way of the milk route. This led to the establishing of grade cow classes at this year's dairy show, which have already proved their popularity by the large entries coming in daily.

U. S. FAVORS ALLIED PROPOSAL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—The United States today stands open in a new territory in an unequivocal statement—the zone of the Dardanelles and Straits. The stand of the government is shown in saying that they were in favor of the Allies proposal to cede to the Turks, Thrace and to insure the freedom of the Straits and the Bosphorus. The stand also shows the United States' interest in the Near East and with a growing Merchants Marine, is seeking unrestricted trading wherever it may exist.

MINN. BREEDERS TO BANQUET ALL

Young and old heads in the dairy cattle business will be seated side by side at a banquet given by the Minnesota Holstein Breeders association during exposition week. All boys' and girls' calf club members in attendance at the show will be invited to this banquet, the date and place of which will be announced later. Mr. Fred A. Koenig, extension service Holstein-Friesian Association believes "this will give the junior breeders a greater inspiration for future work and a recognition that has long been needed."

MUST KEEP WITHIN THREE MILE LIMIT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—Orders were issued to the American Dry Navy to keep their activities strictly within the three mile limit and American territorial waters. This order was issued by President Harding on the advice of the cabinet and will be carried out to the letter, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes stated. A copy of this order has been sent to all enforcement agents with instructions to keep within the three mile limit in search of contraband liquor. It was stated, however, that this would not interfere with the enforcement of the act here but Commissioner Haynes declared that the attempt will be redoubled to prevent the wholesale selling of liquor from foreign ships in this country.

Fargo, N.D., Sept. 27.—The seizure order issued by Colonel M. A. Hildreth, United States District Attorney to a Kentucky firm that their 6 cars of liquor consigned to a Vancouver, British Columbia, drug company had been seized at Portal has been held up upon the receipt of an order from the department of justice at Washington today. Prohibition Officer Stone and United States Marshal Shea are expected back from Portal today. The cargo contained 21,000 gallons of whiskey.
